R-100 GAINS ITS GOAL

Airship Reaches Montreal

Dirigible Slowed by Damage to Fin and Battle but Sets Record

Arrival Over St. Hubert Airport Concludes Three Day Trip from England

ST. HUBERT AIRPORT (Que.) Aug. 1. (Friday) (AP)—The British dirigible R-100 arrived over the airport at 1:30 a.m. today after a flight from Cardington, Eng. Mooring was deferred until dawn.

The airship, which left Cardington at 9:45 p.m. Monday (eastern standard time,) made the flight to the Canadian destination in seventy-six hours and fifteen minutes, which sets a new record for east-west crossing of the Atlantic by a dirigible.

She was delayed during the last hours of the flight by damage to a fin which required greatly reduced speed. Near the end of the trip heavy thunderstorms caused further delay.

GREETED BY CHEERS

The dirigible was sighted ten miles northeast of St. Hubert at 1:05 a.m. (eastern standard time,) traveling slowly east toward the illuminated landing field. Half an hour later the huge, silvery silhouette was barely moving, at an altitude of about 500 feet above the field.

The appearance of the sky-wanderer, after many hours of waiting, was the signal for an outburst of cheering from those at the field, who needed sweaters and coats because of a drop in temperature.

From the airport the airship flew to Montreal, fifteen miles away, and circled over the city at 1:40 a.m. She flew low with her lights shining and searchlights playing on her long gray flanks.

DODGES STORM

The craft hove into view about a half-hour before its commander had advised officials at the field to expect it after the long delay by storm and damage. The commander had messaged that the craft would reach here about 2 a.m.

Storms which swept down the valley forced the crippled air liner to detour from its course as it neared St. Hubert. High winds, accompanied by rain, would have prevented a landing and the dirigible nosed southward to escape the fury of the elements.

For more than two hours yesterday afternoon the ship hovered over the Island of Orleans, near Quebec, almost motionless, while it is presumed the crew repaired damage to one of its fins.

SPEED REDUCED

The damaged fabric caused a great reduction in the craft's speed which prevented it from reaching the airport before the storm broke. It had been scheduled to arrive about 11 o'clock, and thousands of persons who had invaded the flying field were forced to return home disappointed.

Weather conditions had been per-

American Gunboat Silences Attackers, Killing Fifty in Changsha Clash

Nationalist Forces Kept in North Despite Reply to State Department

SHANGHAI, July 31. (AP)—Communistic activities in South Central China that reduced the rich city of Changsha to a shambles and resulted in an attack yesterday on the United States gunboat Palos, tonight were sweeping on unchecked in an apparent effort to clamp the Red grip on the Yangtze River Valley with its many important cities.

Pillaging bands of Chinese Communists were reported within twenty-five miles of the important industrial cities of Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang, and authorities of the Japanese concession in Hankow were erecting barbed-wire defenses.

Kiukiang and the near-by summer resort of Kuling were reported being evacuated by foreigners. Communication was fragmentary and the exact situation was unknown.

ATTACKERS SILENCED

An effort by the Palos to approach Changsha to determine the situation there, where pillaging and burning has been in progress several days, resulted in the clash in which five bluejackets were wounded and fifty Communists killed and others wounded. The vessel was raked with machine gunfire and the attackers silenced only after it opened up at close range with its three-inch rifles and machine guns.

The Palos, which had rescued foreigners from Changsha prior to the Communist raid, was in command of Lieutenant-Commander R. D. Tisdale of Baltimore. Following the attack the gunboat, undamaged, withdrew down the Siang River.

PLUNDERING REPORTED

Indications the Communists were preparing to establish themselves throughout Hupeh and Hunan provinces were contained in dispatches from the affected area. They told also of plundering along the Peking-Hankow Railway.

Even Shanghai's foreign settlements were under special guard. Police patrols were doubled and authorities prepared to crush any disturbance.

Meanwhile Hu Han-min, as president of the administrative section, announced the government would be responsible for whatever happens. The Foreign Office indicated an early reply would be made to a Washington State Department communication concerning Americans at Tsianfu, Shantung Province, reported endangered by Nationalist air raids against the rebels.

FORCES IN NORTH

With the bulk of its military forces massed north of the Yangtze to check the threatened incursion of northern rebel armies, the government is in a weakened position in its efforts to cope with the Communists. It also is faced by defection within its ranks.

Refugees from Changsha reaching Hankow painted a ghastly picture of

BLIMP TAKES AIR AND SEA TAXI ROLE

Dirigible Drops to Deck of Liner Bremen and Picks Up Goodyear Official

NEW YORK, July 31. (AP)—The blimp Mayflower became an aerial taxi today.

It dropped down to the deck of the liner Bremen at quarantine, took aboard Paul W. Litchfield, president of the Goodyear Zeppelin Company of Akron, O., to which the Mayflower belongs, and hopped off again. The blimp, with her two motors coasting, drifted slowly onto the afterdeck of the Bremen, where a landing crew of twenty-three grabbed a trailing line. Mr. Litchfield stepped aboard, the Mayflower's nose was pulled around into the wind, and away she went. About fifty feet in the air her engines were started and she headed for a Long Island airport, where Litchfield was landed.

It was the first time a commercial blimp had landed on an ocean liner.

Football Star Dies as Hero

NEW YORK, July 31. (AP)—Comptroller Leroy Kimball of New York University announced today an investigation by the university has disclosed Al Lassman, former football star, drowned in Long Lake, Maine, while attempting to save the lives of three small boys.

Information from the camp published at the time said Lassman had borrowed a canoe late at night without permission, had paddled out into rough water, and apparently had overturned and drowned.

Mexican Prison Outbreak Foiled

MEXICO CITY, July 31. (AP)—A plot to incite inmates of the Federal District penitentiary here to kill their guards and burn the establishment has been frustrated by prison authorities.

Officials, who last night confiscated a quantity of handbills inside the prison, believed that a group held on charges of being Communists planned to distribute them to the other prisoners.

MRS. FERGUSON'S LEAD IN PRIMARY GROWS

DALLAS (Tex.) July 31. (AP)—Votes cast in Saturday's Democratic primary reached a total of 809,930 on the Texas election bureau's latest tabulation today, and Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson was 67,566 votes ahead of Ross S. Sterling in the gubernatorial nomination race. All of the counties had been heard from and complete returns had been received from 193. Mrs. Ferguson had 234,101 votes and Sterling 166,535.

EDISON TESTS BRIGHT BOYS

Fifty-Page Questionnaire Leaves Protege Contestants Smiling but Shaking Their Heads

WEST ORANGE (N. J.) July 31. (AP)—Forty-nine bright young men, selected as this year's most promising preparatory-school graduates in the forty-eight States and the District of Columbia, today delved into the fifty typewritten pages of one of Thomas A. Edison's celebrated questionnaires, and came up smiling but shaking their heads.

One of these youngsters is going to be selected tomorrow for a four-year college course, all expenses paid, but, before taking him on as a protege, Mr. Edison wanted to know several things. And, as Robert C. Ladd, Vermont's entry, wanly observed as he left the examination room:

"So much of it is the kind of stuff you can't learn in school."

The toughest and most thought-provoking of Mr. Edison's questions, the boys generally agreed, had to do with a scientific party stranded in the desert. Here is the question:

ETHICS QUESTION TOUGH

"You are the head of an expedition which has come to grief in the desert. There is enough food and water left to enable three people to get to the nearest outpost of civilization. The rest must perish. Your companions are:

"(1.) A brilliant scientist, 60 years old.

"(2.) Two half-breed guides, ages 58 and 32.

"(3.) The scientist's wife, interested mainly in society matters, age 39.

"(4.) Her little son, age 6.

"(5.) The girl you are engaged to marry.

"(6.) Your best friend, a young man of your own age who has shown great promise in the field of science.

"(7.) Yourself.

"Which would you choose to live, and which to die?"

Some one remarked there are seven kinds of ethics involved in that question. One thing seemed certain—that forty-nine American scientists would never forget that expedition and its personnel as long as they lived.

ANSWERS VARY

The answers varied all the way from that of Charles V. Larrick of Maryland, who replied with true southern chivalry, "Women and children first," to that of Luther P. Spalding, Jr., Phoenix, Ariz., who, possibly in a spirit of practicability born of environment, insisted one of the guides "would have to be saved to get 'em out."

Most of them agreed the scientist and the best friend ought to have a chance. Then the choice for the third survivor would have to eliminate either the child or the fiancee, since everybody automatically excluded himself and most of them

DOLLAR LINE SHIP FIGHTS FIRE IN HOLD

President Harrison at Jersey City Delayed as She Starts World Trip

JERSEY CITY (N. J.) July 31. (AP) Fire was discovered in a hold of the Dollar liner President Harrison today, three hours before she was to sail on a round-the-world cruise. The blaze, however, was under control tonight, but great quantities of water poured into the hatches caused the ship's stern to stick in the mud of the Hudson River.

Fire tugs and land apparatus pumped into the vessel for more than three hours, but at 5 p.m., one hour past sailing time, a few thin wisps of smoke continued to rise out of her hold.

Officials of the line will not estimate the damage at this time, but believe the water can be pumped from the hatches to float the stern in time to put out for San Francisco, the first port of call, by noon tomorrow. The cause of the blaze, which started in No. 7 hold and quickly spread to No. 8, was not determined.

Cotton, tea and olive oil were stored in the holds where the fire started and served as ready fuel for the flames.

One fireman and a seaman were overcome by smoke, but police are unable to verify a report one member of the crew is missing.

Hoovers Plan Four-Day Trip

They will leave the White House after luncheon tomorrow and return Monday.

SCHWAB SALARY DISCLOSED

Bethlehem Steel Chairman Gets $150,000 Yearly but No Bonus, Merger Fight Reveals

YOUNGSTOWN (O.) July 31. (AP)—Charles M. Schwab receives a straight salary of $150,000 a year as chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, and does not participate in the bonus system, it was revealed today in the suit to enjoin the merger of the Youngstown Sheet Metal and Tube Company with the Bethlehem Corporation.

Defense attorneys brought out testimony to refute an implication that the Yougstown steel concern depressed its 1929 earnings and assets.

Information on Schwab's salary was furnished by defense attorneys and introduced by attorneys for the Cyrus S. Eaton interests, who are attempting to block the merger on the ground that it is unfair to Youngstown company stockholders.

The Bethlehem attorneys also furnished a complete schedule of salaries and bonuses paid to all officials who participated in the division of a $3,425,306 total in 1929, which represented 6.54 per cent of the earnings, less fixed charges and an amount equal to the annual preferred dividend, but before depreciation.

DESOLATION INCREASES

Drought Damage Mounting

Disease and Forest Fires Add to Misery of Hard Hit Farmers

Tornado and Hailstorm in South Take Two Lives; Cattle Suffer

WASHINGTON, July 31. (AP)—The drought continued its unchallenged sway over vast agricultural sections today with no immediate prospect for the heavy rains necessary to rout it.

Reports of water shortages, disease and forest fires were added to the conquests of parched fields and damaged or ruined crops in areas where there have been no generous rains for weeks on end.

Light rains and thunderstorms offered temporary relief in some sections of the South and Southwest.

From the Northwest, however, there were three successive heat waves that intensified effects of the drought. From them came new reports of rising temperatures.

STOCK HARD HIT

In sections hardest hit, wells and springs were drying up with farmers forced to sell their live stock. In others animals are suffering from lack of water, pastures are burned and stock is being fed on winter food.

The State Board of Health in Kentucky estimated the water supply for one-third of its population is extremely limited.

Four times the number of typhoid cases were reported for this July as for the month a year ago.

Large forces of men patrolled forest fires in Pennsylvania to keep them under control and away from the crops. At Hanover, Pa., the City Council said if a serious fire broke out one day, citizens would go without water the next.

Forest fires raged in Western Montana and Northern Idaho.

TORNADO IN SOUTH

Winds approaching tornado proportions and thunderstorms broke the heat wave in parts of the South although the drought continued to stalk parts of Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas and Kentucky.

A tornado in North Central Louisiana had damaged buildings in ten towns and resulted in at least one death.

A hailstorm increased the damage to corn and cotton near Atlanta, Ga., and one woman was killed by lightning.

The Memphis region and the Mississippi Delta had no relief from high temperatures as the drought completed its seventy-fourth day.

Pastures and hay crops are in a serious condition in Ohio, as is corn, which in some places has been irreparably damaged. Live stock was being sold on glutted markets and production of dairy products seriously impaired.

WATER SHORTAGE FELT AT MARINES' DEPOT

WASHINGTON, July 31. (AP)—Leave has been granted 700 of the 1600 marines and 300 reservists at the Quantico (Va.) depot because of a serious shortage in the water supply.

Flyers Nearing Air Endurance Half-Way Mark

ST. LOUIS, July 31. (AP)—The endurance plane Greater St. Louis circled in the vicinity of Lambert-St. Louis field tonight in its eleventh night of sustained flight.

Neither the pilots, Dale Jackson and Forest O'Brine, nor the plane showed signs of weakening as they approached the half-way mark of the Hunter brothers' record flight of 554 hours. At 7:11 p.m. Jackson and O'Brine had been up 252 hours.

ROOSEVELT FIELD (L. I.) July 31. (AP)—The "Red" endurance monoplane, piloted by Lou Richers and Bob Black, passed its 264th hour in the skies at 8:34 (eastern standard time) tonight and approached the half-way mark in its quest for a new world's record.

Flaming Plane Mystery Grows

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31. (AP)—The mystery of a monoplane reported by a Point Reyes Coast Guard station lookout to have fallen in flames into the ocean eight miles east of Point Reyes Wednesday night grew tonight as hours passed with no plane being reported missing.

H. C. Day, the lookout, said the plane was flying about 200 feet above the water, battling a forty-mile gale when flames suddenly spurted from the fuselage and the plane plunged downward and disappeared.

PRISON SITE AUTHORIZED

WASHINGTON, July 31. (AP)—Attorney - General Mitchell today signed an authorization for the purchase of 1014 acres of land on the west branch of the Susquehanna River in Union county, Pennsylvania, for a Federal prison site.

Parley with Field Leaders Brings Decision to Seek Reinforcements

Doran Also Plans Request for Additional Workers in His Bureau

WASHINGTON, July 31. (AP)—A demand for increased prohibition enforcement personnel arose today from the field directors of the war against illicit liquor, and resulted in decisions to ask Congress for reinforcements on two fronts.

Amos W. W. Woodcock, director of prohibition, after conferring with the twelve regional administrators, announced he will recommend that the present staff of approximately 2000 agents be increased by 25 per cent.

At the same time, James M. Doran, chief of the bureau of industrial alcohol in the Treasury Department, said he will request 120 more workers, ninety of them to be alcohol inspectors. The present personnel of the bureau is about 1700.

TWO CONFERENCES

Like Woodcock, Doran had conferred during the day with his lieutenants in the field, the twelve regional supervisors of alcohol permits who met here at his call to discuss the problems confronting them.

Nearly all the administrators, Woodcock said, believe their present force of workers inadequate and are of the opinion increased efficiency will follow an addition to their number.

In a statement issued yesterday he said while he thought more agents necessary he would await the results of experience before coming to a definite conclusion. Today, however, he asserted his conferences with the administrators had brought him to the definite opinion that an addition should be made.

DECISION EXPLAINED

This decision, he said, is in no sense a "cry of despair" but the outgrowth of a belief that increased personnel will result in stricter enforcement.

He reiterated his intention to con-

BLOW DEALT TO BILLINGS

Nurse Surprises His Lawyers

Prisoner May Appear Before Court in Person Monday Because of New Turn

Dental Aide's Story Refutes Testimony by MacDonald; "False," Cries Defense

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31. (Exclusive)—Called as a witness before the Supreme Court unexpectedly today, Miss Estelle Smith, dental nurse at the time of the 1916 Preparedness Day parade bombing, intensified the surprise of her appearance by placing an entirely new complexion on the Mooney-Billings pardon fight and precipitated a virtual certainty that Warren K. Billings will be taken from his cell in Folsom prison to plead his fate personally with the justices of the California Supreme Court.

If Billings is summoned, he probably will testify next Monday. A direct request for his presence was made late today by his attorney, Edwin V. McKenzie, and the justices, through Chief Justice Waste, said they will announce their decision in court tomorrow. Informally the justices indicated their willingness to have Billings taken before them.

ON ROOF OF BUILDING

This situation, contrary to the previous attitude of the court that the presence of Billings personally at the hearing is unnecessary, developed because Miss Smith, in her testimony, placed Billings on the roof of a building at 721 Market street at 1:31 p.m. of parade day, July 22, 1916, when, according to the testimony of John MacDonald, whose recantations and repudiations are responsible for this hearing, Billings was at Steuart and Market streets, scene of the bombing many blocks away, at the same, or approximately the same time. The time element, in any event, is such that Billings, by any stretch of the imagination, hardly could have reached one place from the other in the time intervening.

Billings during his trial presented witnesses who testified he was remote from the scene at the time of the bombing, but nothing was said of being atop the building at 721 Market street. In fact, Attorney McKenzie pointed out, Billings denied he was ever in the building.

The testimony caught McKenzie entirely unprepared, made him angry and caused him to brand the assertion as false. He was so exercised by the development he was unable to discuss its significance as it pertains to his client. Frank P. Walsh, attorney for Mooney, also labelling the story a falsehood, said Billings was "distinctly elsewhere" at that particular time, nor was he any place near Steuart and Market streets, where the explosion occurred.

MOTIVE SUPPLIED

For the first time in the fourteen years in which the Mooney-Billings cases have been kept bouncing in the public eye, either through court action or the publicised efforts to free the two men, Miss Smith supplied a motive for the activities of Billings on that fatal day, or at least that part of it when, according to the evidence upon which he was convicted, he was engaged in placing the suit case containing the bomb that made an international tragedy out of a demonstration of patriotism.

She said Billings was engaged in sabotage as an employee of a union labor organization to help the cause of a strike of automobile mechanics at that time. Moreover, she said, Billings admitted this to her and when she expressed sorrow at the possibility she might have to repeat

KING RATIFIES NAVAL PACT

Action Precedes Impressive Ancient Ceremony of Royal Approval Scheduled for Today

LONDON, July 31. (AP)—King George has signed the instrument of ratification of the London Naval Treaty which already has been ratified and signed in the United States.

Announcement of the King's signature was made somewhat unexpectedly by Phillip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in the House of Commons this afternoon. Mr. Snowden at the same time added the instrument will be deposited simultaneously with His Majesty's ratifications in respect of the dominions and India and the ratifications of the United States and Japan when all three signatories to Part III of the treaty are in position to bring the treaty into force.

Part III concerns the agreements reached by the delegates of the United States, Great Britain and Japan with respect to their relative naval armaments.

CONFUSION CREATED

Chancellor Snowden's announcement created certain confusion in London as it is known that the King's royal assent has not yet been given to the London naval treaty bill.

The position, however, was as follows: It is the ratification of the instrument to the treaty itself that the King has already signed. It is the London naval treaty bill—a purely technical measure containing the necessary legislation to bring the treaty into effect—that, with other bills, will receive royal assent in the House of Lords tomorrow.

At this time, three peers, empowered by the King for the purpose under a royal commission, will convey His Majesty's approval of the measure with a wealth of old-time ceremony.

RITES DESCRIBED

At an appointed time these peers, having donned traditional scarlet and ermine robes, will take seats facing the throne in the House of Lords and instruct an official known as the Black Rod to summon Commons to attend.

When the Commoners arrive, headed by the Mace and their Speaker, the Chief Commissioner, usually the Lord Chancellor, raising the quaint three-cornered hat which he wears over his wig informs Commons that, in obedience with royal command, the commissioners declare His Majesty's assent to the bill, and the bill is read.

With it is read also the royal commission, after which the clerk of Parliament, addressing the commissioners, says in Old Norman French, "Le Roy Le Veult:" (The King wills it.)

The pronouncement of these words converts the bills into an act of Parliament and Great Britain's sanction of the treaty is complete.

EDISON TESTS BRIGHT BOYS

Toughest Question Intricate One in Ethics

Knowledge of Ford Car Price Among Them

Winner to be Given Course at Some College

the guides and the scientist's 39-year-old wife, who was interested chiefly in society.

Flournoy W. Sims of Little Rock, Ark., chose the girl. "The child would be too young to know what it was all about, and he'd probably die, anyway," he concluded.

John W. Alexander of Colorado Springs chose the scientist, the child and his best friend. "I'd know darned well," he said, "that my best friend would get my girl out of the desert or die in the attempt.

FORD TO CORRECT THIS ONE

Another nice one directed the young men to tell how much they'd expect to get for a Ford that had run 5000 miles—and this with Henry Ford himself right here in West Orange to help correct the papers. The answers ran from the $25 estimate of James R. Weaver of Johnson City, Tenn., to the solution proffered by the boy from Arkansas, "try to sell it for $500, but warn the buyer not to try to drive it on country roads."

There was one about a secret formula for poison gas, too—and one about what to do with a cure for cancer. Most of the boys thought the poison-gas formula should be turned over to the United States government, although one young man said: "If it came into my possession I'd destroy it at once without ever showing it to anybody." And they were uniformly generous about the cancer cure—that it should be given to the world without charge.

Mr. Edison was assisted in preparing his questions by his advisory board, of which Mr. Ford is a member. Many of the questions, particularly in chemistry, physics and mathematics, were similar to those given in college entrance examinations.

"Those were soft," was how the boys described them. But when they set out for Coney Island for a swim late this afternoon, they were still gloomily arguing about the scientist, the scientist's little boy, the fiancee and the best friend.

SOME OF THE QUESTIONS

Among other questions were:

"If a church organ is not provided with some sort of heating arrangement it will play out of tune when the church is cold. Why?

"What is the smallest height mirror standing vertically in which a man six feet tall and standing erect can see his entire length?

"Aluminum is claimed to be a very superior substance for cooking utensils. What are the physical properties which are in favor of or against such use?

"When you look back on your life from your death bed, by what facts will you determine whether you have succeeded or failed?

"In the year 1900 how would you have gotten the first cable of a suspension bridge across an impassable gorge a half-mile wide?

"If you could prescribe and enforce a system of education for the whole population of the world, on what essentials would you place the greatest emphasis?

"If you had a brother who wanted to be an artist or a poet, would you encourage him or attempt to dissuade him? Why?

"Assuming it were an engineering and financial possibility, and you were given the opportunity of devoting twenty years of your life to be in sole charge of digging a hole thirty miles into the earth's interior, would you accept it or turn it down? Give your reasons.

"Suppose your best friend came to you and admitted regretfully that he had deliberately wrecked your chances of winning the Edison scholarship by writing a letter designed to hurt your standing with the judges—what would you do?

WHAT ABOUT REDS

"Briefly state how you think Communist propaganda should be dealt with.

"Briefly identify Jane Addams, Leonardo Da Vinci, Charlemagne, John Ericsson, John Hay, Col. T. H. Lawrence, Pasteur, Marco Polo, Phidias and Tamerlane.

"Give the approximate dates of the fall of Troy, battle of Gettysburg, first successful aeroplane flight, Solomon, birth of the earth, Michelangelo, discovery of America by Europeans, formation of the League of Nations, Pithecanthropus erectus, Norman Conquest of England.

Nerves Worn 'Threadbare' She Declares

The records of Sargon abound with voluntary endorsements from men and women in all walks of life who have found in this celebrated new compound their first and only relief from years of suffering. Such was the experience of Mrs. Nathan M. Bowen, Sta. C, Box 126, Los Angeles who recently said:

MRS. NATHAN M. BOWEN

"Since taking this marvelous Sargon treatment, I feel in better physical condition than I have in years.

"I was never a strong woman—and had reached a most miserable state of health when I began the Sargon treatment. I had no appetite, but when I did eat I'd become nauseated and suffer terribly with indigestion. Sometimes when I'd lie down I'd have such smothering spells I could hardly get my breath and my nerves were worn threadbare. I had awful acid blisters in my mouth and on my tongue.

"Since taking Sargon my food agrees with me perfectly and I can now eat more and a greater assortment than in years. The acid blisters in my mouth and on my tongue disappeared and with steady nerves and sound digestion, I sleep all night without waking.

"I also took Sargon Pills and I never would have believed that any laxative could act so mild and yet so thoroughly eliminate all poisons from my system like they did. I advise others who suffer as I did to take this wonderful treatment."

Sargon may be obtained at all Owl Drug Stores and Liggett Drug Stores in Los Angeles and other cities.—[Advertisement.

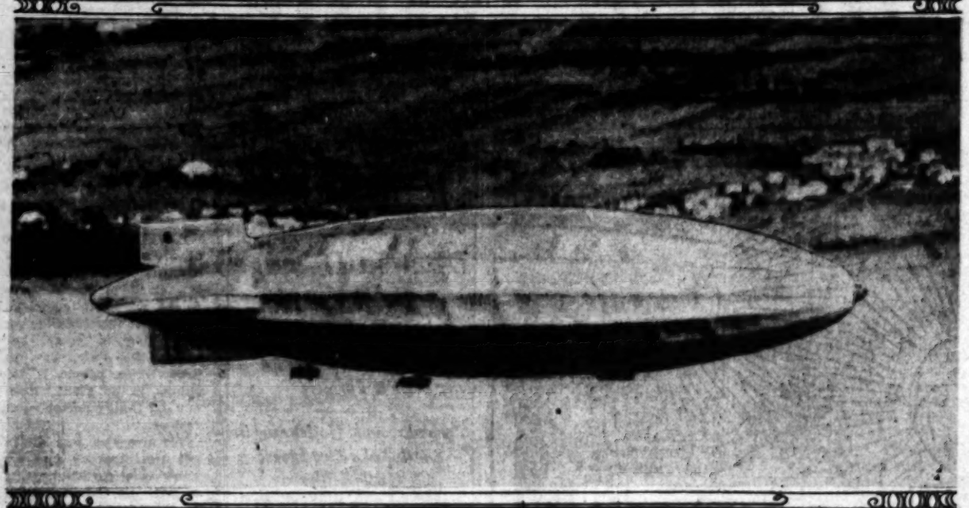
World's Largest Dirigible Falters as it Nears Goal



[P. & A. telephoto]

Aerial Photograph of Historic Flight

Cruising up the St. Lawrence River at slow speed occasioned by a damaged fin, the R-100 gave those along the river's shores a thrill. This view was taken yesterday from an airplane flying above the mammoth craft. A large patch can be seen on the upper side of the envelope, but whether this was part of the damage reported by the dirigible is not known.

feet up until 9 o'clock when a sudden squall struck St. Hubert and swept to the northwest.

The R-100 was slowly making her way up the St. Lawrence at that time and when a weather report was broadcast the giant dirigible, rather than run into further difficulty, turned about and followed the whims of the wind.

In one hour and a half the ship made hardly more than four miles straightaway while it tossed in the edge of the storm.

FACILITIES OF LAKEHURST PUT AT CRAFT'S DISPOSAL

MONTREAL, July 31. (Exclusive) Rear-Admiral William A. Moffett, chief of the naval bureau of aeronautics, here as the official representative of the United States, in a conference with the Canadian Minister of National Defense tonight placed the facilities of the naval air station at Lakehurst, N. J., at the disposal of the R-100. It is regarded as doubtful, however, that the British dirigible will avail itself of Yankee hospitality unless the damage to its fin is such that repairs cannot be made outside a hangar.

centrate the activities of the bureau primarily on the large scale violators and spoke again of his reliance on the staff of special investigators assigned to ferret out wholesale conspiracies.

Those special agents, about 200 in number, are divided into twelve groups, one for each enforcement division. The twelve chieftains of these groups will confer with Woodcock tomorrow on matters of procedure, discipline and policy.

LOWMAN TALKS ON CANADIAN LIQUOR

WASHINGTON, July 31. (AP)—Assistant Secretary Lowman of the Treasury said tonight only 2 per cent of the intoxicants sold in this country come from Canada.

Speaking in the national radio forum of the Washington Star and the Columbia Broadcasting Company, Lowman said $35,000,000 of liquor was exported from Canada to the United States last year but that much of this was "short-circuited" back to thet country, where they have "bootleggers and speakeasies that thrive after 6 o'clock when the government liquor stores are closed."

Lowman, who formerly was in charge of prohibition enforcement, touched on the Canadian liquor question in a review of the work and organization of the customs and coast guard border and sea patrols. He approved the plans for a unified border patrol as one which will simplify the work and make it more effective.

Most of this work now falls under his supervision in his new post.

TOLEDO (O.) July 31. (AP)—Grover Cleveland Alexander, veteran baseball pitcher who has signed to pitch with the Toledo Mudhens for the rest of the season, will break into the movies at Swayne Field Sunday.

The Fox Movietone company today informed Toledo baseball officials it would have sound equipment at the ball park Sunday to make a news reel talkie of Alexander, who is expected to pitch one of the games against St. Paul.

A Fascist was sentenced to three months' imprisonment for wielding a horseshoe as a weapon in a clash with communists. Another Fascist on whom a revolver was found at the same time was sentenced to a term of four months and three weeks.

HELENA (Mont.) July 31. (AP)—The wholesale price of bread today was reduced here. Loaves selling for 12 cents were cut 1½ cents and 8-cent loaves were cut 1 cent. The low price of wheat was given as the reason for the cut.

BALTIMORE, July 31. (AP)—Warrants against the wife of the chancellor of the Greek Legation in Washington for using District of Columbia licenses on an automobile owned and operating in Maryland have been voided and she has been offered a set of Maryland tags without charge. The State's Attorney held the warrants could not be served because of diplomatic immunity.

REDS SPREADING TERROR

the destruction of that wealthy industrial city. A reign of terror continued for twenty-four hours, they said, during which there was uncontrolled murder, incendiarism and pillaging. Having despoiled the city, including much foreign property, indications were the raiders planned to withdraw shortly. Authorities feared the indicated transferring activities to other cities. Inspection of Changsha by foreigners still is impossible.

MORE GUNBOATS HELD NOT NECESSARY

WASHINGTON, July 31. (AP)—American officials in China do not consider additional gunboats necessary to protect lives and property of their nationals at Changsha.

Fragmentary dispatches from Admiral Charles D. McVay, Jr., commander-in-chief of the Asiatic fleet, transmitted this view to the Navy today while the State Department was being informed that all Americans except Allen Cameron of Lawrence, Kan., were safe. The American Consul at Hankow, Richard P. Butrick, sent a list of Americans who had left the city.

CLUB DESTROYED

Admiral McVay radioed a report of the disorders to the Navy Department saying all foreign residences in Changsha were safe except the Japanese Club, which was destroyed when the Communists took the city.

Only the last half of the report was received today, but that portion said he did not consider another gunboat necessary to assist the Palos in its fight with Communists.

Admiral McVay added that Father Braiman, Italian missionary captured by the Communists at Changsha, was reported safe. It concluded with a terse "More later."

Another gunboat, the Panay, had been ordered to Chinglingfow, about 100 miles from Changsha, but naval officers here said they believed in view of Admiral McVay's statement that the Panay will be held at Chinglingfow.

NAVIGATION PROBLEM

In the face of possible attacks on other cities in the Yangtze area Admiral McVay was confronted with the alternative of relying on gunboats with their 3-inch guns to protect foreigners and their property, or leaving larger vessels, such as destroyers, in the region of Hankow, 600 miles from the sea, until next spring when the river rises. The nearest destroyer, the Edsall, is at Shanghai, 800 miles from Changsha.

If this ship would be ordered up the Yangtze, it either would have to leave soon or wait until melting snows next spring raise the river water to a navigable depth. Meanwhile gunboats would have to run a gauntlet of bandits to reach Hankow with supplies and ammunition.

Butrick informed the State Department that all Americans except Cameron either had left Changsha before the Communist attack or had been taken aboard the Palos.

CHINESE REDS PILLAGE BIBLE INSTITUTE BRANCH

Contrary to first impression that Communists in the Changsha outbreak had refrained from pillaging the branch there of the Los Angeles Bible Institute, word received here yesterday disclosed all the residences had been pillaged and the school building occupied by the Reds.

The details came from Charles A. Roberts, foreign representative of the institute, who reported, however, that he suffered no harm in leaving the endangered area and is now safe. Mrs. Grace Roberts, his wife, also is now in protected territory with their four children.

FOREIGNERS WARNED BY BRITISH TO FLEE

SHANGHAI, Aug. 1 (Friday) (AP) British naval authorities at Kukiang, Klangsi Province, today urged British subjects at Kuling, summer resort twelve miles south of there, to evacuate the city quickly. This action followed a purported statement by the Klangsi Governor, warning foreigners Chinese authorities will not be responsible for them after three days.

That region is teeming with hordes of bandits and armies of asserted Communists. A Red army is reported to have captured and looted Hwayuan, fifty miles north of Hankow, and fears are entertained for the safety of Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang, the sister cities at the junction of the Yangtze and Han rivers.

As a result of the crisis on the Yangtze River, Rear-Admiral MacLean, commanding the British Asiatic fleet, ordered two destroyers, the Somme and the Sirdar, at full speed from Tsingtao to Kiukiang to reinforce the British Yangtze patrol.

The British 10,000-ton cruiser Cumberland is already at Hankow and the destroyer Bridgewater is at Nanking. Miscellaneous gunboats are stationed between Nanking and Ichang.

A maze of conflicting reports today said Communists in Kiangsi Province are running riot, drawing nearer to Kiukiang and Kuling, while they reported Nationalist resistance in the vicinity of Nanchang was crushed.

KING FIGHTS DAM CLAIM OF MEXICO

Utah Senator Says Water of Colorado River Belongs Solely to United States

WASHINGTON, July 31. (AP)—Opposition to any agreement with Mexico involving recognition of that nation's claim to any waters of the Colorado River was expressed today by Senator King, Democrat, Utah, in a letter to Secretary Stimson.

Reference to newspaper reports Ambassador Morrow was seeking an agreement whereby Mexico would be awarded half the waters from Boulder Dam, and the United States would purchase water unused by Mexico, with the income thus derived going to pay claims of American citizens against the southern republic, the Utahan wrote:

"If the negotiations referred to are being conducted by Ambassador Morrow for the purpose of obtaining compensation on account of the losses sustained by American citizens, it is to be hoped that success will attend his efforts.

"But if the negotiations rest upon the assumption that Mexico has any interest in the waters of the Colorado River for which she must be paid by the United States, then the sooner such negotiations are terminated the better it will be for the United States.

"The waters of the Colorado River are owned and controlled by citizens of the United States and by the States within the Colorado River Basin and the United States. Neither the Republic of Mexico nor any of its citizens are entitled to the use of any of the waters of the Colorado River."

Col. Duncan Neill, personal representative of Sir Thomas, boarded the Shamrock this morning while the Erin was recoaling and reported that the trim yacht had suffered no harm in her passage from England down to Horta.

Both yachts sailed from the harbor late in the afternoon and headed out to sea in fine weather.

LOST AIR RACER TELLS OF CRASH

Meehan Found in Nevada by Cattleman

Gehlbach Holds Lead at Chicago Landing

Hop to Detroit Today will Complete Derby

CALIENTE (Nev.) July 31. (AP)—Joe Meehan, Ironton (O.) entrant in the all-American air derby, today told details of plane trouble and a consequent crack-up which forced him to land late Tuesday in a desolate section of Sand Springs Valley, fifty miles west of here. The flyer was brought here today by Udell Stewart, a cattleman, who sighted the wrecked plane while driving across the valley.

Meehan said a clogged fuel line and spark plug trouble forced him to land. He made a safe landing on the comparatively level desert floor and soon repaired his plane. In taking off, however, the ship struck a shallow gully, the impact breaking the wings and propellor.

The flyer walked about twenty miles in search of help, but finding no habitation in the desolate country returned to his plane to rest. He was found by Stewart a short time later.

Meehan was reported missing a few hours after he left Los Angeles with ten other race contestants Tuesday morning for Ogden, Utah.

CHICAGO, July 31. (AP)—With only one lap yet to go, Lee Gehlbach of Little Rock, Ark., again was in first place tonight in the all-American air derby.

The Arkansas aviator flew to Chicago from Lincoln, Neb., today in 3h. 48m. 27s. This was ten minutes slower than the time made by Lowell Bayles of Springfield, Mass., second-place man, who won today's lap from Lincoln.

Gehlbach's unofficial elapsed time is about four hours less than the Massachusetts flyer and virtually assures him of victory unless an accident befalls him in the final hop to Detroit tomorrow.

SEVEN OTHERS IN RACE

Seven other flyers of the twenty who started are still in the race but have little chance of overtaking the leaders. Herman Hamer of La Salle, Ill., who had taken the lead in the West was forced down yesterday in Nebraska and dropped from the race.

The derby started in Detroit July 21 and the route took the flyers east to the Atlantic coast, across the south to California and back across the Middle West. The derby was designed as a reliability test for small type planes.

Jimmy Weddell of New Orleans, who experienced trouble with his plane at Los Angeles and fell behind the other contestants, arrived at Lincoln, Neb., this morning after a flight from Ogden, Utah.

ORDER OF ARRIVAL

Weddell and Hamer took off from Lincoln for Chicago this afternoon, after making repairs to their planes.

The following table shows the order of the arrival of the flyers here from Lincoln and their elapsed time:

Lowell Bayles, Springfield Mass. 3:38:26; Lee Gehlbach, Little Rock, Ark., 3:48:27; Charles Meyers, Cleveland, 4:00:24; Henry Geiger, Inglewood, Cal., 4:06:07; Cecil Cahill, Cleveland, 4:30:38; Cecil Coffrin, Brooklyn, 4:33:10; H. W. Holladay, Roanoke, Va., 5:01:17; Lawrence Brown, Los Angeles, 5:07:16.

The Hague Votes Sugar Duty Bill

THE HAGUE (Netherlands) July 31. (AP)—The First Chamber today voted 24 to 17 a bill for an import duty of 2.40 florins, or approximately $1 per 100 kilograms on refined sugar.

The duty was imposed as a compensation to Dutch sugar manufacturers for expenses imposed upon them under sugar excise laws.

CALLES WILL BE MARRIED TODAY

Former Mexican President to Wed on His Ranch

Son-in-Law Flies from Here to Attend Ceremony

His First Wife Died in 1927; Bride 24 Years of Age

MEXICO CITY, July 31. (AP)—Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, former President of Mexico and one of her outstanding military leaders, will marry Senorita Leonor Llorente, 24 years of age, at his large ranch fifteen miles from here at noon tomorrow.

The announcement was made tonight in circles very close to the Calles family. T. A. Robinson and Mrs. T. A. Robinson, who is the daughter of Gen. Calles, will be the witnesses.

The general and his bride will spend their honeymoon at Tehuacan, State of Pueblo, a resort famous for its hot springs.

ROBINSON RETURNS

Mr. Robinson, who married Ernestina Calles three years ago, has been in Los Angeles on a business trip for several weeks, but returned here by airplane this evening in order to attend the wedding tomorrow.

The ceremony will take place at Santa Barbara ranch, on the Puebla road. Gen. Calles has owned it for several years, and it was there that he and Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow ate a momentous breakfast of ham and eggs when Mr. Morrow first came to Mexico.

FIRST WIFE DEAD

Gen. Calles is 52. His first wife, Senorita Natalia Chacon, whom he married while she was still in her teens, died in June, 1927, at a Los Angeles hospital where she had gone for an operation.

The general was then President of Mexico, and as there is a law forbidding Presidents to leave the country, he was unable to go to his wife's bedside when she died.

He and Senorita Llorente have been much in each other's company for two years. Senorita Llorente lives here with her mother and studies singing.

'Cozy' Dolan's Club Raided by Dry Officers

CHICAGO, July 31. (AP)—The fashionable Club Huron at 16 East Huron street, under the management of John (Cozy) Dolan, former coach of the New York Giants, was raided by prohibition agents early today and several cases of liquor, wines and beer were seized.

Dolan, who figured in the Philadelphia-New York baseball scandal of 1924, was arrested. A dozen well-dressed couples, as well as the club hostesses, were not detained.

A card index bearing the names, the agents said, of several hundred persons, was seized.

WIDOW OF SCRIPPS SON FILES SUIT

She Seeks $6,000,000 as Half of Profit Increase on Papers Mate Directed

WASHINGTON, July 31. (AP)—A $6,000,000 suit against the estate of the late Edward W. Scripps, newspaper publisher, was filed today in the Supreme Court by the widow of James G. Scripps, the publisher's son.

It would have the court review decisions of lower Federal courts refusing to entertain the claim. The suit is based on an agreement between the father and his two sons under which they managed the newspaper properties.

James G. Scripps managed them from 1908 until the summer of 1920, when he became ill, dying in January, 1921. His widow as his administratrix contended she is entitled to receive one-half of the actual increase in the profits from the properties during her husband's management.

The Circuit Court of Appeals held the agreement did not have the effect of a binding contract and the elder Scripps had reserved the right to change the compensation at his pleasure.

CUT IN RUBBER ACREAGE ASKED

British and Dutch Take Steps to Increase Prices

LONDON, July 31. (AP)—With rubber selling at 11 cents a pound, which producers said is below production costs and stocks accumulating to the point where they threaten to ruin the industry, British and Dutch rubber growers today appealed to their governments for legislation to curtail production.

This is the kernel of a communique issued tonight by the British Rubber Growers' Association and the British-Dutch liaison committee.

They suggest 18 cents a pound in Europe is the lowest selling price at which the industry can be kept solvent and propose to the two governments measures they believe will remedy the present crisis.

SURPRISE BLOW DEALT BILLINGS

Nurse Says He Was on Roof at Time of Parade

Motive Supplied for Actions of Convict that Day

HER STORY

Summarized, her story of the events at and about parade time, as she told it today, follows:

While the dentists employing her were out to lunch on Preparedness Day, a young man entered carrying a suit case and represented himself as a newspaper photographer and said he wanted to take pictures of the parade. Miss Smith said she told him she believed the doctors would grant permission, but he would have to wait until one of them returned. This, she said, was about 12:45 p.m. He waited, but in a short time represented he would have to get busy, or go to his office, on the opposite corner, and asked her if she would watch his suit case while he was away.

She summoned a porter, she said, George by name, and told him to take care of the suit case. She started to lift it to hand it to him and the young man intervened:

"My God, don't do that; you'll strain the lenses in my camera."

Subsequently, the young man went to the roof of the building, presumably, in Miss Smith's opinion, to take pictures of the parade as it passed.

WANTED TO SEE MAYOR

Miss Smith, meanwhile, being busy, asked one of her friends present to let her know when Mayor Rolph, heading the parade, passed in front of the windows of the dental suite, as she wished to see him pass.

When notified, she looked out, saw the Mayor and waved a towel, ostensibly to express her patriotic sentiment. At that time, she testified, the clock in her range of vision registered 1:31 p.m.

After the Mayor had passed, she turned back to her work and, some time later, the young man of the suitcase came down from the roof. To the best of her knowledge, he was there all the time and, so far as she knew, taking pictures of the parade.

He was warm and perspiring when he came down. Sympathizing, she wiped his brow with a towel and noticed a small scar in the middle of his forehead. She also noticed that a finger nail on one hand was about ready to come off.

IDENTIFIED AS BILLINGS

In response to a question, she said she subsequently identified that man as Billings and still believes that to be a fact.

She insisted, as had MacDonald before her, that an attempt at coaching her had been made by Capt. Goff of the police department, then a sergeant. In Miss Smith's case, however, the circumstances, she said, were different. She declared she had picked Billings out of ten or twelve men in a line, once with a cap when he stood at the end, and again, without a cap, as he stood in the center of the line.

Having done this, she asserted Capt. Goff informed her she had picked two different men and took her off to look at another man, who was the "right" one.

Capt. Goff had no opportunity to refute this testimony. He had come off the stand a short time before, after testifying nearly all morning and part of the afternoon, and the testimony was entirely new.

Continuing her story, Miss Smith declared she talked, early in 1927, to Billings in the presence of Fremont Older, newspaper publisher.

OLDER ARRANGED MEETING

The meeting was arranged, she said, by Older, with the suggestion the two talk things over and get straightened out with each other in the interests of truth.

In the course of that conversation, the witness asserted, Billings, prefacing his remarks by declaring nothing she could say would hurt him, consented to tell her exactly what he was doing on the day of the parade.

As Miss Smith told it, Billings said he was in the employ of the unions and was going around spraying acid on automobiles. This process ruined the finish of each car thus treated and made it necessary to send it to a garage for repairs. The automobile mechanics were on strike, she explained, and the idea of the acid spraying was to fill the garages with cars needing repairs.

In the light of this, Miss Smith testified, she came to the conclusion Billings's real purpose in coming up to the dentist's office was to obtain a place where he could refill the syringe he used for spraying cars. She still believes this to be the truth of the situation, she testified.

When Billings made this admission, she declared, Older asked him how he knew which cars to destroy.

HAD CAR NUMBERS

Billings, she said, displayed the back of a cigaret pack on which were written the license numbers of ten or twelve cars he was instructed to "work on."

Older, she said, made the comment:

"Why, that is worse than carrying dynamite."

"I firmly believe," testified Miss Smith, "that's what the man was doing. If the suit case had been opened at that time I doubt if anything beyond his acid equipment would have been found in it."

Asked if Billings had indicated how much he was getting for his "work," she replied:

"He said he was being paid $5 a day and got $10 for each machine."

She has seen Billings only once since the trial in which he was convicted, she testified, and at that time he did not deny his presence in the dental office on the fatal day.

"Have you any doubt now as to his identity?"

"Doubts come and go but I have always thought, since then, that he could have proved where he bought the acid."

The reasoning in that assertion is that Billings, when cornered by the evidence in his trial, could have saved himself from prospective death on the gallows, by the alibi, even prejudicial, that he was engaged in auto spraying and the purchase of the acid would have established the point.

As Miss Smith testified, McKenzie visibly showed signs of mounting resentment. He finally leaped to his feet, called the attention of the court to the completely new version of the case presented by the witness and formally asked the court to issue an order for the presence of Billings.

Other witnesses of the day were Capt. Goff, J. E. Sanders, who identified himself as a member of the Morse patrol at the time of the Preparedness Day parade, and George S. McCullough, sergeant of police, then a clerk, who took statements from principals in the cases in the capacity of stenographer.

GOFF DENIES COACHING

Goff strenuously denied he had coached MacDonald and insisted identifications were made under circumstances allowing the prisoners every benefit of doubt. In the course of the hammering, however, McKenzie, as interrogator, and Goff, as a defensive witness, got more or less vitriolic with each other and Justice Preston, on behalf of the court, interrupted on several occasions with requests for less display of feeling.

Although Goff, in 1924, wrote a letter to the Governor favoring executive clemency for Billings on the ground some testimony had been discredited and neither Mooney nor Billings had a further opportunity to take advantage of it, he still believes MacDonald, mentally and physically stronger in 1916 than he is now, was honest in his identification of Billings as the man with the bomb suitcase.

"Do you now state as your belief," McKenzie inquired, "that MacDonald's identification of Billings in your presence was the truth?"

BELIEVES STATEMENT TRUE

"I do."

Sanders, who has never before testified, either in court or before the grand jury, and who never made a statement to police prior to the present hearing, told of talking to MacDonald after the parade bombing and of being told by MacDonald the latter had seen the man with the suitcase and associated that with the explosion. Sanders said he told MacDonald to tell his story to police officials.

McCullough, testifying to the discrepancy between the identifications given by MacDonald and the descriptions of Mooney and Billings as contained in police records, said it was possible he transposed the descriptions in the pressure of numerous statements he had to take.

McKenzie seized upon this to point out the statements distinctly referred to "the man with the suitcase" and the man who accompanied him, and scoffed at the possibility of transposition under such circumstances. If the witness made an answer it was not audible.

YOUNG TO EXAMINE MacDONALD TOMORROW

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31. (AP)—Vincent Kennedy, secretary to Gov. Young, announced this afternoon Gov. Young and members of the advisory pardon board will examine John MacDonald, recanting witness in the Mooney-Billings bombing case, in Sacramento Saturday afternoon. MacDonald will be the only witness called in the hearing which is on the application of Thomas J. Mooney for a pardon.

TUBERCULOSIS TOLL SLASHED

State Death Rate Cut Almost Half in Fourteen Years

Latest Figure Put at 106.7 for 100,000 Population

Chief of California Bureau Gives Official Report

SACRAMENTO, July 31. (AP)—California's tuberculosis death rate has been cut almost in half in the last fourteen years, the rate for 1929 being 106.7 for 100,000 population on the basis of the 1930 census, Mrs. Edythe Tate Thompson, chief of the State Tuberculosis Bureau, announced here today. Last year 5855 Californians died of the disease.

In 1915 the rate was 189 for 100,000, the highest of any State in the Union, Mrs. Thompson said.

"This remarkable reduction in the death rate is the most conclusive proof yet offered that the general public has realized tuberculosis is curable and preventable," Mrs. Thompson declared. "This achievement must be shared to a very large extent with county boards of supervisors, who have appropriated millions of dollars for construction and maintenance of sanatoria."

California now has more beds for tubercular cases and more beds in preventoria than all the rest of the country, Mrs. Thompson said. There are more than 4003 beds in the State for tubercular patients.

The death rate was reduced under trying conditions, Mrs. Thompson pointed out, declaring the Mexican and Filipino population made deportation of cases difficult.

"There has been considerable lessened migration of certain types of people who come to the State for their health, but the migratory fruit worker still offers considerable of a problem," she said.

LABORITE'S CENSURE VOTED IN COMMONS

LONDON, July 31. (AP)—The House of Commons today by 304 votes to 13 passed a motion of censure upon Elijan Sandham, Laborite, who had charged in an address that Labor members drank and accepted bribes. The resolution, proposed by Sir Philip Snowden, Chancellor of the Exchequer, provided "that Mr. Sandham be admonished by Mr. Speaker for the breach of privilege he has committed." Sandham's charges were investigated by the Committee of Privileges, which reported he "deserved the censure of Commons."

LONG QUEST FOR WHITNEY AT END

Los Angeles Suspect Taken on Landing from Europe

Authorities at Eastern Port Hold Him for Extradition

Traced Abroad as Result of Shoe String Sent to Wife

HOBOKEN (N. J.) July 31. (Exclusive)—The long arm of the law reached across the Atlantic and lassoed E. J. Whitney of Los Angeles with a shoe lace, and now the Hoboken police, who nabbed him last night as he stepped from the steamer McKeesport, are holding him for extradition to California on charges of embezzling large sums from the Consolidated Building and Loan Company.

The shoe lace is said to have been sent to his wife as a Christmas present from Whitney, at least it was on! ya shoe string that the London postoffice found in the envelope.

All over the United States and Europe detectives were looking for Whitney, and postoffices were on the watch for his mail. When the envelope containing the shoe lace was intercepted, detectives went to the London address on the back of it, found that Whitney was gone, and then traced him to Paris.

Hugh Nettle, vice-president of the National Surety Company, in charge of that company's affairs in Europe, is said to have been the man responsible for catching up with him and notifying police that he was aboard the ship arriving yesterday.

Today Whitney was before Judge Schloss in Recorder's Court here. The court sent him to the Police Jail for thirty days, pending extradition proceedings. The warrant charges a felony and accuses Whitney of four thefts. He remarked that he can implicate several high Los Angeles politicians in the thefts.

BAIL JUMPING RECORDED HERE

E. J. Whitney was arrested in Los Angeles October 26, 1929, on charges of grand theft. The complaints were signed by Stuart A. Farrell of 617 South Hill street, president of the Consolidated Building and Loan Company, of which Whitney was secretary and manager, records at the office of Sheriff Traeger show. He was charged specifically with the theft of $4630 and also with having collected fees for the making of loans, which is against the State securities and banking regulations. His bail was placed at $10,000, which it is recorded he jumped.

Telegrams asking his arrest and detention until the arrival of Los Angeles officers were sent yesterday to the Hoboken police. A member of the fugitive detail from the Sheriff's office is expected to leave today to bring him back.

WILKINS AND BRIDE BACK IN AMERICA

Explorer Full of Plans for Submarine Trip and Wife Wants to Go Along

NEW YORK, July 31. (AP)—Sir George Hubert Wilkins, Arctic and Antarctic aerial explorer, returned today from a two months' honeymoon in Europe full of talk and plans for his proposed submarine voyage to the North Pole.

Sir Hubert said he hopes to get away on his underwater expedition next May or June, starting from Spitsbergen, just at the edge of the Arctic Sea. From there he plans to drive his submarine under the Arctic ice pack, across the North Pole and down the other side of the world to Unalaska on the Bering Sea.

Lady Wilkins, the former Suzanne Bennett, actress, returned with Sir Hubert, still arguing vainly, she said, for a place as a member of the Nautilus's crew. She said she hopes to change her titled husband's mind for him before next spring.

"Of course, they need a little entertainment on a three months' voyage," she added, "and I could do a song and dance for them."

G.O.P. SOLVES FESS RIDDLE

Senator to be Appointed Temporary Chairman

Huston's Resignation to be Handed to Him

Lucas of Kentucky to Head Executive Committee

WASHINGTON, July 31. (Exclusive)—Senator Simon D. Fess, Republican, Ohio, is to be named as "provisional or temporary" chairman of the Republican National Committee at the meeting of its executive committee scheduled for next Thursday to receive the resignation of Claudius H. Huston.

This solution of legal questions has been reached, it was made known today. Doubt has been raised as to the power of the executive committee to elect the chairman of the full committee.

It has been decided that the executive committee will have the power to receive the resignation of Mr. Huston as chairman of the full committee and to select Senator Fess to succeed him subject to ratification by the full committee.

Robert H. Lucas of Kentucky, present commissioner of internal revenue, will be elected as chairman of the executive committee, there being no question as to right of this committee to choose an outsider for the office.

The plan is to call a meeting of the full national committee probably in September to ratify the selection of Senator Fess. In the meantime Senator Fess will assume the duties of the chairman and will make plans for the Congressional campaign.

FIRE DEPARTMENT LIKES VENUS DE MILO "AS IS"

WINONA LAKE (Ind.) July 31. (AP)—The fire department has gone to the rescue of the Venus De Milo, and a scheme to clothe the goddess' statue in poison ivy has been thwarted.

Mrs. Mary Schell Starr of Chicago, summering here, holds the opinion the statue, which has been a figure of artistic pride for twenty years, should wear something. Yesterday the statue was moved to a location near the fire department, and the circumstance gave Mrs. Starr an opportunity to put her idea into action.

Poison ivy was planted around the base of the statue. Mrs. Starr expressed the hope, according to the firemen, the ivy would grow and grow until finally that "indecent figure shall be all covered up."

The firemen, who are really art lovers at heart, decided to foil the scheme. They did not want to touch the ivy with their hands, so they turned the hose on it, rooting it up.

Police Chief Edington, upholding the firemen, said Winona Lake is the home town of Billy Sunday, the evangelist, and Sunday never has become publicly exercised about the statue.

"If it's O.K. with Billy, it's O.K. with me," the Chief concluded.

EUROPE FEARS CULTURE LOSS

London Professor Talks on American Influence

Institute of Politics Told of Possible Effect

United States Speaker Puts Stress on Peace Aim

WILLIAMSTOWN (Mass.) July 31. (AP)—Traditions of western culture surviving in Europe face possible corrosion or corruption by the "increased efficiency for wealth and power which American influence in Europe undoubtedly produces," Prof. C. Delisle Burns of the University of London said today in an address before the opening session of the Institute of Politics.

"Europe, which hitherto believed itself to be in the van of civilized life, now fears to be 'conquered,' by America," Prof. Burns said. "The Americanization of Europe, however, is only the latest phase of the industrialization of the world.

PEACE MAIN AIM

"The problem is whether the increased efficiency for wealth and power, which American influence in Europe undoubtedly produces, will not corrode or corrupt the magnificent tradition of western culture that still survives in Europe."

Dr. George H. Blakeslee, professor of international relations of Clark University and member of the board of advisers of the Institute of Politics, also addressing the opening session, said the foremost general foreign policy of the United States is to help establish peace with justice throughout the world.

WILL MADE PLAIN

"The genuineness of this policy is sometimes questioned in other countries since the United States has not joined the League of Nations and is regarded as somewhat insistent upon its viewpoint in international disputes," he said. "Nevertheless, the will to peace is one of the most fundamental purposes of the American people. It has shown itself in the last decade, particularly in the effort to bring about a mutual and equitable limitation of armament."

Dr. Harry Garfield, president of Williams College and chairman of the Institute of Politics, presided at the opening session and made a brief introductory address outlining the agenda of the conference, which will remain in session until the 20th inst.

"BOY" WRITER'S DISGUISE FAILS

Frances Eleanor Trott

WASHINGTON, July 31. (Exclusive)—Miss Frances Eleanor Trott, former secretary in the Department of Commerce, who recently quit her position to travel and write short stories, may have fooled the United States, but it did not take Mexico long to penetrate her disguise, according to word received here today.

When Miss Trott left Washington she donned boy's clothes and journeyed over a large portion of the United States. Going under the name of "Tommy" Trott, the young woman was successful in her disguise. Then she went to Mexico for additional color for her contemplated short stories. However, she was in that country only a few days until it was discovered she is a girl.

She was arrested by authorities and placed upon a boat to be returned to the United States.

EUROPE HITS AT AMERICA AUTO SALES

Continental Makers Take Step to Place Import of Machines on Limit Quota

NEW YORK, Aug. 1. (Friday) (AP) A Paris dispatch to the New York Times says representatives of all automobile manufacturing countries of Europe met secretly in the French capital yesterday afternoon to discuss a plan for placing American automobile sales to the continent on a limited quota basis.

The Times adds adoption of the scheme will cause the American automobile industry to lose millions of dollars, seriously curtailing its export trade.

Several years ago, says the dispatch, a similar plan was abandoned because of the lack of governmental support.

Woman Held in Detroit Killing

DETROIT, Aug. 1. (Friday) (AP)—Margy Mansell, 21 years of age, radio entertainer for station WMBC, was arrested early today in connection with the slaying of Gerald E. (Jerry) Buckley, political commentator for the station, shot by three gunmen July 23, last, shortly after he had announced the recall of Mayor Charles Bowles.

Police said Miss Mansell is a sweetheart of Pete Licavoli, notorious gangster, sought as the "key man" in the slaying. She was taken to police headquarters for questioning. Licavoli's automobile was found in her possession, police said.

COTTON CANARD MEETS DENIAL

Rumor of Small Advance by Co-operatives Refuted

BAKERSFIELD, July 31. (Exclusive)—Emphatic denial that cotton co-operatives will advance not more than 6 cents a pound to their members this fall was made today in a communication to L. W. Taylor here by Carl Williams, a member of the Federal Farm Board. In denying these false reports, which would prove detrimental to co-operatives if unchallenged, Williams said that an advance of not less than 65 per cent of the market value of cotton will be made.

"My attention," he said, "has been called to statements to the effect that the cotton co-operatives will be able to advance not more than 6 cents a pound to their members this fall.

"The statements doubtless have been innocently made, but if allowed to stand their effect would be to discourage participation by cotton farmers in the co-operative movement.

"Final determination of the amount of advance at time of delivery throughout the cotton belt had not been made. Certainly, however, it will be not less than 65 per cent of the market value of the cotton," he asserted.

Williams added that the advance might be more than 65 per cent.

He pointed out that the Texas co-operative, which is now receiving cotton in great volume from the southern end of the State, is advancing 9 cents on unclassed cotton at a time of delivery to a member.

The Farm Board member explained that all co-operatives may be expected to advance to their members the largest possible amount of money consistent with economic safety.

NEVADANS MAP FIGHT FOR WATER

Battle Over Lake Tahoe Project May be Taken Into Federal Court

RENO (Nev.) July 31. (AP)—Their efforts to secure relief from drought conditions by pumping water from Lake Tahoe checked, ranchers of the Truckee Meadows, valley surrounding Reno, at a mass meeting tonight voted to "fight to a finish" in the courts in support of their right to artificially stored water in the lake and to collect damages.

Engineers advised the farmers the probable loss in crops in Nevada will amount to $300,000 if no relief is secured, and pointed out the Truckee River in this vicinity will be practically dry within a few days.

The pumping preparations at the lake were halted by an injunction secured by Tahoe property owners in the California Superior Court at Auburn. The Nevada interests propose to have the litigation transferred to the Federal courts.

THIEVES MAY LOSE EARS

Seminole Indian Boys Face Tribal Trial in Florida with Maiming Punishment Sure if Convicted

MIAMI (Fla.) July 31. (AP)—Two Indian boys were taken to the fastnesses of the Everglades today to stand trial by their elders for theft, with the prospect, if convicted, of having one or both of their ears cut off.

The court is to be held in the Seminole retreat in Big Cypress Swamp, far from the paths of the white man, and the scene of many other trials that have brought swift and at times terrible punishment to offenders.

The two boys were charged by Miami police with having stolen articles valued at $7 when they broke into a filling station near the Musa Isle Indian village here Monday night. When City Detective Jester went to the village for the boys he was told by Cory Osceola, chief of the local tribe, the youths would be tried by an Indian court, following the custom of many years.

The police turned the case over to the Seminoles for trial, in accordance with a practice that in the past has included all charges, even murder.

Cory Osceola told police the boys will be tried by a court headed by a medicine man of the tribe, and they will be punished immediately by being maimed, if convicted.

The office of the Dade county Sheriff had no report on the case, but veterans of the department recalled several instances of maiming following conviction for theft and other misdemeanors. Willie Willie, one of whose ears was cut off, was mentioned among those who had been tried and convicted by the Indians and punished according to their code.

BANCROFT'S NEXT IS TITLED

H. B. Warner Signs With Liberty on Long Contract; Nena Quartero Given Feature Role by M.-G.-M.; Bert Roach Has Comedy Lead in Fox Film

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Leaving on location and having his current starring vehicle titled were the two interesting things that happened to George Bancroft yesterday.

GEORGE BANCROFT

The picture, which is to be a story of the sea, was titled "Typhoon Bill."

The company, composed of 100 players, technicians and prop boys, headed by Bancroft and his leading lady, Jessie Royce Landis, left Wilmington on nine ships, headed for the Mexican coast, where most of the picture will be filmed. Rowland V. Lee is directing, with the plan of making "Typhoon Bill" one of the Paramount specials of the year.

H. B. WARNER SIGNS LIBERTY CONTRACT

It was probably inevitable that that skillful actor, H. B. Warner, who has been free-lancing, would be tied up on contract by some picture concern.

H. B. WARNER

And that is what has happened. He has just been signed by Liberty Productions for a number of outstanding feature pictures to be made during the coming year. Victor Halperin made the announcement yesterday.

Two stories, the names of which are not yet ready for announcement, have already been selected for Mr. Warner. In one he will play a role similar to that with which he distinguished himself in "Silence" on both stage and screen. The second is a story written by an English author, and for which M. H. Hoffman, Liberty official now in England, is negotiating in London.

Nena Quartero as Vampire

Beautiful Nena Quartero, who recently played the half-breed charmer in "Monsieur Le Fox," is now characterizing a gypsy vampire. She was cast yesterday by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, for that role in "New Moon." This will afford Miss Quartero a good acting opportunity. The picture co-stars Lawrence Tibbett and Grace Moore.

NENA QUARTARO

For that matter, a number of notable names have been added to the cast of the new play which Jack Conway is directing, including those of Carl Stockdale and Russ Powell.

More of Roach

Now that it is all settled that Charles Farrell and Maureen O'Sullivan shall play the principal roles in "The Princess and the Plumber," Hamilton McFadden, director, and Fox officials have a chance to turn their attention to other roles.

Bert Roach has been signed for the featured comedy lead and Lucien Preval as the villain.

Two for Evaris Story

Standing Bear and Blue Cloud, full-blooded Indians who have been acting in motion pictures for several years, have been cast in "The Law Rides West," which is the current title of Hal G. Evarts's "Spanish Acres."

These actors join a cast which includes Richard Arlen as star, Rosita Moreno as leading lady, Eugene Pallette in the comedy role, Mitzi Green and Junior Durkin in the child parts, as well as Hooper Atchley, Luis Alberni and Lee Shumway.

Charles Grapewin Chosen

Charles Grapewin, Christie comedy star, a vaudeville and dramatic stage player for thirty-seven years, has been chosen by Paramount to play the part of Mary Brian's father in "Social Error."

Grapewin recently finished and published a western tale called "The Bronze Bull," which has received good notices from the reviewers.

Ynez Seabury, Babe London, Gus Shy, George Fawcett, Emily Fitzroy and other well-known players are among the principals.

Natalie Kingston at Lasky

Natalie Kingston, who recently completed her Fox contract, has been signed by Paramount for the important feminine vamp role in "Her Wedding Night," which is serving Clara Bow as a current starring vehicle.

NATALIE KINGSTON

This marks Miss Kingston's fourth talking picture since her return from abroad, a little more than six months ago.

G. Gardiner Sullivan Signs

Production official and scenario writer C. Gardiner Sullivan, has been signed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer as assistant to Irving G. Thalberg.

Sullivan comes to his new post after an experience in films dating from 1914 when he came to California as a writer for the late Thomas H. Ince. Previous to that time he had been a New York newspaper man. He rapidly climbed to a position of authority in the Ince organization. On the death of Ince he became a supervisor for the De Mille Pictures Corporation, later a supervisor at United Artists, and more recently scenario editor at Universal City.

PRISON IDEA USED IN MUSICAL REVUE

Jackie Souders, diminutive master of ceremonies from Seattle, Wash., now entertaining from the stage of the Fox Boulevard Theater, is establishing his reputation in Los Angeles, it is said. Patrons of the theater, impressed by his handling of the stage show and the band numbers, have written letters applauding his work, according to a story from the theater.

In conjunction with the present screen attraction, "The Big House," which opened a week's run yesterday, Souders has dressed his band members in convict uniforms to conform with the atmosphere of the picture. They do a humorous travesty on the theme of the prison production, billed as the laugh feature of the stage program. Delara and Lolita, Apache dancers, and Harry Lee, comedian, are included on the program with the Boulevard chorus.

SHIELDS FEATURED

Ernie Shields, leading man of many silent films, has been assigned a role in R.-K.-O. Radio Pictures wartime comedy with music, "Half Shot at Sunrise," featuring Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey.

DRAMA OF JAILED GIRL DRIVER HERE

"Manslaughter," as Talkie, at Paramount; Claudette Colbert Good

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The wealthy society girl in quest of a thrill and defying the law is exploited in "Manslaughter," a film which revives echoes of another day in the movies this week at the Paramount Theater. Doubtless you recall its story that told of the reckless-driving heroine, who was responsible for the death of a motorcycle officer, and who was sent to prison, while the district attorney, who was in love with her, went the route of inebriation.

Cecil B. De Mille produced this picture not so many years ago, and it was regarded as one of his best. In the leading roles then were Leatrice Joy and Thomas Meighan, and there was glitter, pathos and the good old theatrical to-do about the plot. But it was dandy entertainment of its time.

The new "Manslaughter" brings Claudette Colbert, in what might be termed her first starring role. She is featured in the cast, as is Frederic March, who plays the district attorney. George Abbott did the honors as the director.

The picture holds the interest, and discloses the note of quality. There are both sympathy and drama in the situations, and the climax of the motorcycle smash possesses its thrill, although I believe it was a bigger one in the original De Mille version.

Miss Colbert goes through a very distinct transition in this role from the light-hearted girl of the opening episodes to the inmate of the penitentiary sobered by her experience. The scene which shows her utter distraction over the accident itself is very finely characterized.

The production is shy some of that dazzle that surrounded the old "Manslaughter" as a creation. Perhaps the story has less pertinent meaning today than it had then, although there is no reason why it shouldn't have just as much.

The picture is a workmanlike effort throughout, and there is considerable atmosphere to the penitentiary scenes. The District Attorney's decline from grace and his regeneration are reduced to an incident in the film. The plot generally speaking centers about Miss Colbert, and there is a tearful touch when she and her ex-maid, serving a term for theft, largely because the heroine neglected to be clement toward her, meetin prison, on a common ground of understanding. The courtroom scenes are rather imaginatively handled. Emma Dunn, Natalie Moorhead, Richard Tucker and Hilda Vaughn play the more important supporting roles. The picture was adapted from the Alice Duer Miller story.

The short film, "At Home," is very entertaining. Eddie Cantor's "Cockeyed News" falls short of genuine humor. Oliver Wallace plays organ selections.

COWBOY HAINES A JOKER

Even 'Way Out West' Finds Actor in Wisecracking, Boisterous Mood

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

William Haines, wisecracker and life of the party, prances forth on the screen of Loew's State Theater this week in "Way Out West," a melodramatic comedy of the great open spaces as conceived in the studio workrooms of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

The first shot of the picture reveals Mr. Haines in the guise of a cheap funster with a traveling carnival. Under pretext of permitting a view of some hula-hula ladies in the privacy of their tent boudoir, he lures a handful of gullible cowboys into a roulette game.

Quickly, painlessly—with the aid of a few wires—he manipulates the wheel so that he collects at one fell swoop their total month's wages. As he is preparing himself for a rapid getaway from the shoddy show company to the bright lights of Chicago, one of the hula-hula girls swipes the roll.

At this moment, the cowboys, turned roarin' mad, return to investigate the game. They find the wires, but not the money. So they kidnap young Mr. Haines and ride away with him to the country where they prepare to wreak vengeance on his person and tribute upon his earning capacity by making him "work out" the lost banknotes.

Thus, the film, "Way Out West," is the tale of how Tenderfoot, Wisecracker Haines becomes a bold, strong cowboy, winning the love of a pretty girl, and eventually the respect of his kidnapers. He does this in typical Haines fashion. He starts his courtship of the girl (Leila Hyams) by slapping her on the back and snatching a banana away from her. He finally saves her life.

Of course, it is all just good, clean fun—if a little boisterous.

Haines gives his usual capable performance in this type of role. He has a good supporting cast. Leila Hyams is pretty and appealing. Polly Moran does a grand job as Panay, the hired girl, as does Cliff Edwards as Tribly, the mournful cowboy. Francis X. Bushman, Jr., Charles Middleton, Jack Pennick, Buddy Roosevelt and Jay Wiley are well in character as the cowmen. Fred Niblo directed.

The Meglin Kiddies top the stage bill with a pot-pourri of dancing and entertainment. Two youngsters who somersault their way back and forth across the rostrum drew a big hand. The "modes" idea is carried out in the Fanchon and Marco show.

Novarro Film at Fox Uptown

Romance and drama combine with light comedy in Ramon Novarro's new talking-singing picture, "In Gay Madrid," which opens a three-day engagement at the Fox Uptown Theater today. Dorothy Jordan has the feminine lead.

Monday Norma Shearer in "The Divorcee" comes to the screen at the Tenth and Western house for a four-day engagement.

Personable Figure Costars in Play

Tom Moore

Of local stage and screen note, has one of the three main roles in "Tea For Three," which starts at El Capitan Theater Sunday matinee. The other two important parts are taken care of by Ernest Glendinning and Gladys George.

THRONGS HEAR SINGER

Richard Crooks Idol of Hollywood Bowl Applause on Second Appearance

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

More than 12,000 listeners turned out to applaud Richard Crooks for his singing last night at the Hollywood Bowl, and the tenor, who apparently has become an idol as a result of his first concert, all but changed the regular orchestral program into a voice recital. Not only did he render the four scheduled selections, but he gave three encores after his final number, and one just before the intermission.

Bernardino Molinari played the accompaniments for the ultimate group of encores including "In the Silence of the Night," by Rachmaninoff, "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes," and Dvorak's "Songs My Mother Taught Me." The fact that the conductor appeared in this new role seemed especially to delight the audience, for they gave him a prolonged ovation when he returned to direct.

Crook's art and the beauty of his voice cannot be denied. They were both richly revealed in the operatic excerpts he offered, among the programmed songs. The Narrative from "Lohengrin," and "Le Reve" from "Manon," by Massenet, were enthrallingly sung, and "Una Furtiva Lagrima" from Donizetti's "L'Elisir d'Amore," was interpreted with dignity. The phrases of the "Swan Song," so called in Lohengrin's "Farewell," also floated very exquisitively forth on the evening air.

Less impressive was his rendition of "In the Silence of the Night," which should be ideal for the bowl. There did not seem the requisite unanimity between singer and accompanist in this case, nor did the song appear to lie in the most grateful register of Crooks's voice. The Molinari accompaniment was inclined to be rapid.

"Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" was very commendably done by the singer, as was also the colorful "Time, You Old Gypsy Man," written by Eleanor Warren (herself accompanying) which was the encore for the "Lohengrin" selections. Of all the numbers "Le Reve" and the "Lohengrin," as a whole, stood out as the most memorable.

Molinari's program opened with his own transcription of "Autumn" from the "Four Seasons" by Vivaldi, and culminated with "Fountains of Rome" and "Pacific 231" by Honegger. A very striking climax was achieved in the last, and brought an ovation.

"Fountains of Rome" was particularly satisfying in the latter portion. Here the delicacy of the orchestral effects was fraught with appeal.

Molinari's orchestral accompaniments to the songs were in general well modulated. Only occasionally did they show a tendency to rise above the singer's voice.

The position occupied by Crooks on the stage during the singing was hardly the most strategic, as he was directly in front of the conductor, and, therefore, in eclipse as far as a number of members of the audience were concerned. The enthusiasm for his singing seemed unusually marked.

Cast Chosen for New Play by Starling

Casting for the new Lynn Starling play, "A Cup of Sugar," is now completed and rehearsals, under the direction of George Sherwood, are under way.

The play will open in Santa Barbara the 29th inst., from there will go to San Francisco and will then come to Los Angeles in September.

"A Cup of Sugar" is the most recent manuscript from the pen of Mr. Starling, now a member of Fox studio scenario staff and well known as a playwright. He has already had produced "Meet the Wife," "In His Arms" and "Weak Sisters." Starling is dividing his time these days between the studio and the rehearsal hall and office of William P. Trumbull, producer, and George Sherwood, director, at the Hollywood Playhouse.

GIBRALTAR LOCALE FOR SPY STORY

"Inside the Lines," New at R.-K.-O., Reveals Secret Service Intrigue

BY JOHN SCOTT

Adequately melodramatic is "Inside the Lines," a spy story laid in Gibraltar, which is showing as the new film attraction at the R.-K.-O. Theater. This type of yarn has, it seems, one inevitable denouement, and the present vehicle is no exception. It was written originally by Earl Derr Biggers and in film form retains some of the suspense once well established by its author.

After the picture is really set going it reveals some interesting points. Lengthy sequences establishing the romance between the hero and heroine, in which the two stroll slowly about a garden, set a meandering pace. Later scenes are speeded up and the climax, though not unforeseen, brings out some new twists and some capable acting.

The plot is a familiar one and too much written here might prove unfair. Sufficient to say that two secret service operators are in love, and unaware of the secret affiliations of each other, are assigned to Gibraltar for duty. Each tries to save the other from what seems certain death at the hands of a firing squad, and after a series of adventures everything is worked out satisfactorily. Even the one man who dies for his country seems to be satisfied.

The role of Woodhouse, the hero, is assigned to Ralph Forbes, and this capable actor presents a finished portrayal. Careful tuning of words and a sure way of delivering them, added to a convincing personality, make of Forbes an excellent choice for the part.

Betty Compson, who, to all intents and purposes, has the leading role, gives a capable performance. Her dramatic moments are convincing. The supporting cast presents some interesting types, with Montagu Love, the veteran player, as the Governor of Gibraltar; Reginald Sharland as a sort of silly-ass Englishman, Mischa Auer as the native servant who proves to be an important cog in the story, and Ivan Simpson, Betty Carter, Evan Thomas and William Von Brincken in minor parts.

Roy J. Pomeroy directed "Inside the Lines" for Radio Pictures and also is responsible for the screen play. John Farrow is credited with the dialogue, which is good.

Headlining the vaudeville bill this week appears Viola Dana, from the screen, to play in a short sketch written by Anita Loos, authoress of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." Farcical to a degree is this comedy entitled "The Inkwell," which as far as one could gather is to prove that woman may try man's patience just so far and no farther. Miss Dana lends a nice poise and comic sense to her portrayal of an abused wife and her reading of lines is so intelligent that it was deplored some of them could not be heard. These lines, by the way, are typical of Miss Loos's best brand of humor.

Other numbers on the stage program include Lane, Osborne and Chicco, a musical and dancing team of no little merit. Then there are Ray Rogers, who is best at somersaults, and Geraldine and Joe, "International Kiddie Dancing Stars."

Problems of Modern Girls Put on Screen

Joan Crawford and her coterie of flaming youths come to the Criterion Theater today in "Our Blushing Brides." The story deals with three working girls who long for the luxuries of life and discover what it costs to attain them.

Joan Crawford is paired with Robert Montgomery, Anita Page with Raymond Hackett and Dorothy Sebastian with John Miljan. The picture is said to present a striking contrast between the lives of the average working girl and wealthy society.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

VICTIMS TESTIFY TO THEIR LOSSES

Joe A. Smith, Four Square Gospel Preacher, Accused

Witnesses Tell of Promises Made on Mining Stock

Violation of Securities Act Case on at Riverside

RIVERSIDE, July 31. — Aged men, who said they paid life savings, housewives who declared they now face menial labor to recover their losses, and others to whom the money expended represented years of sacrifice, yesterday paraded across the witness stand in Superior Judge Morton's court to tell of their asserted purchase of Angelus Mines stock from Joe A. Smith, Four Square Gospel preacher and song leader, on trial on eleven counts of violation of the California Corporate Securities Act.

As the pathetic stories were unfolded before the jury through the questioning of Earl Redwine, chief deputy county prosecutor, Smith, a somber-faced, pale individual, hung his head at the counsel table, refusing to look into the eyes of church members who believed his asserted story that he wanted to "do something for the Lord" by developing an abandoned mine on the desert, and give one-tenth for missionary work.

TESTIMONY SIMILAR

The eleven individual accounts of purchases of mining stock from Smith varied only in minor details, Smith, the witnesses said, approached them with the proposition to invest money with him to finance operations on a mine at which, he is said to have told his prospectives, there was enough ore to last six years.

Beginning on March 1, the investors would receive 20 per cent of their invested principal each month until entirely repaid. Thus, the investment would be little more than a loan. The inducement, the church members said, was Smith's asserted promise that he would devote 10 per cent of the earnings to missionary work for the church.

Authorities assert Smith obtained between $9000 and $10,000 from the stock sales. He is said to have been maintaining a lavishly furnished apartment in Los Angeles when arrested there by officers of this county. It is reported he has none of the money left, and the stockholders are still waiting for the 20 per cent payments to begin, they testified yesterday.

The testimony of Mrs. Jake A. Toombs, wife of a local police officer, was outstanding. She told of Smith's coming to their home on December 16, 1929, and offering the stock to them under his unchanging plan.

SAID HE'D BEEN "SAVED"

"What did he say about the stock and the mines?" asked Redwine.

"He said, 'Sister Toombs, I have been saved and I want to do something for the Lord. Mr. Carpenter has offered to sell me the mine and I want money to finance it. I will turn one-tenth of the money to the Lord's work.' We gave him a trust deed, made out to both my husband and myself, and he wrote out a stock certificate for us.

"Now, I said to him, 'Now, Brother Smith, if you don't make this mine go, as you say you will, I'll have to pack oranges for the rest of my life.'

"'Sister Toombs,' he said, 'Don't you worry; you won't have to work any more when the money starts coming in from this.'"

The woman, who had followed her husband to the witness stand as the second prosecution witness, testified she has never received any payment from the investment. They bought approximately 1000 shares from Smith at $1 a share.

CHILDREN FAVORED IN McGROARTY SERIES

TUJUNGA, July 31.—In a characteristic move in furtherance of his aim to impress upon the children of the Southland the glamor and heroic history of this section, John Steven McGroarty, author of the Mission Play, today announced a special rate to all children of elementary school age for admission to the four plays he is presenting in the rustic theater at his home here, beginning August 9. McGroarty said that all elementary school children could secure tickets or make reservations for a markedly reduced rate.

Two of these plays, "El Dorado" and "La Golondrina," portray California history from where the Mission Play finishes until after California was admitted to the Union. Reservations can be made at the reservation booth in the Pacific Electric Subway Terminal at 423 South Hill street.

ANTLER LEADER NOMINATED

Harry Farmer of Pasadena Slated to be Exalted Ruler of State Organization Now in Session

PASADENA, July 30.—Harry Farmer, son of Cliff Farmer, local Union Pacific Railway agent, today was nominated for Exalted Ruler, highest office in the California Antlers' Association, now holding its sixth annual convention at the Pasadena Elks Lodge, 400 West Colorado street.

Farmer served as leading Antler of the association last year and is chairman of the convention executive committee. Although other nominations may be made prior to the election, Farmer's friends assert they have been assured of enough votes to name him State leader of the junior Elks' organization.

Addresses of welcome were made today before the 150 delegates by James B. Morgan, Exalted Ruler of the local Elks' lodge, and Norris Rebholtz, present Exalted Ruler of California Antlers.

Lodges represented at the convention include San Francisco, Santa Barbara, Stockton, Los Angeles, Long Beach, Santa Monica, Glendale, Alhambra, Huntington Park, San Fernando, Monrovia and Salt Lake City, Utah.

A parade of floats entered by each attending lodge wound through the business streets tonight from the Elks' lodge to the Hotel Constance, convention headquarters.

Consolidation of Seven Cities to be Studied

HUNTINGTON PARK, July 31.—For the purpose of securing expressions from representatives of the chambers of commerce and the city officials, in the consolidation of Maywood, Bell, South Gate, Lynwood, Cudahy, Walnut Park and Huntington Park into one large city, the Southeast Realty Board held a meeting in this city yesterday, in which each of the cities and communities were represented.

The purpose of the meeting was made known, and expressions were called for by B. B. Barnwell, president of the Realty Board. Several representatives present gave expressions, most of the number being favorable to the movement of consolidation, while others at this time, declined to express themselves on the proposition until they had given it further consideration.

It was pointed out that there are five cities, Bell, Maywood, South Gate, Lynwood and Huntington Park, and two communities in unincorporated territory—Walnut Park and Cudahy—within the district; that the proposition, if carried through, would be beneficial financially, in the operation of one large city government instead of several smaller city governments, and that consolidation would mean a large city of at least 75,000 population.

It was also mentioned that this southeast section is a large industrial section, with factories located in the various communities and other industries in surrounding territory, while most of the employees in these industries are residents of these different cities and communities.

It was finally decided that communications be sent to the various chamber of commerce officials throughout the district, and that a meeting be held later by the officers of these organizations to discuss the proposed consolidation, and that, at this future meeting five members be selected from each chamber, and that another meeting follow for consideration of the matter, after which a report is to be made.

NURSERYMEN PUZZLED BY FREAK APPLE TREE

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, July 31. A freak apple tree that continues to blossom and bear fruit all summer, owned by W. P. Taylor of Etiwanda street of North Los Angeles, is a puzzle being discussed by North Los Angeles nurserymen. Quite a number have inspected the tree, but none seem able to identify it.

Last year the tree bloomed until Christmas time, and usually it carries leaves all winter. The fruit is flat and green, but very palatable.

March Field Not Abandoned, Official Word

ANAHEIM, July 31.—Setting at rest rumors regarding the possible abandonment of March Field as an aviation base and throwing official light upon the government's reported plans for moving its aviation activities out of North Island, San Diego, a letter was received at the Chamber of Commerce here today from F. T. Payne, acting Secretary of War, Washington, D. C.

The letter came in response to a telegram of protest sent the 5th inst. when word was received of the proposed abandonment of North Island, San Diego, as an aviation base.

Acting Secretary of War Payne's letter of explanation is as follows:

"Your telegram dated July 5, 1930, addressed to the President, in reference to the removal of the air depot from Southern California has been forwarded to this office for reply.

"Due to the increased activity of the Navy on North Island, sufficient space is not available to accommodate both the Army and Navy activities at Rockwell Field, therefore, the Army Air Corps is forced to produce other sites.

"It has been decided to station the Army Air Corps activities as follows: Air depot in Alameda county, California; the bombardment group in Marin county, California, and the pursuit group at March Field, California.

"It will be noted that this is an increase over the present Army Air Corps activities and, due to the great mobility of air corps units, it is possible to concentrate these units at vital points within a short period of time."

SAN DIEGO'S BUDGET IN DOLDRUMS

Financial Ordinance Held Up by Two Councilmen Refusing to Vote for It

SAN DIEGO, July 31.—Refusal of Councilmen J. V. Alexander and S. P. McMullen to vote for the budget ordinance places the three members of the Council who favor it in a position to "back up" and, according to report at the City Hall today, a compromise may be asked before Monday, which is the last day under charter requirements that the ordinance can be passed.

The charter says that before an emergency ordinance can be adopted it must have the votes of four Councilmen. For the reason that the budget was made up late and was not ready for Council consideration heretofore, it was made an emergency ordinance. Three votes, however, cannot legally pass it as an emergency measure, it is held by the opposing Councilmen. Last Monday the ordinance was passed on its first reading by a vote of 3 to 2. The contention is now raised that it cannot pass by a 3-to-2 vote next Monday because it carries the emergency clause. Should the Council eliminate the emergency clause, the ordinance would not become effective until thirty-one days after approval by the Mayor.

Councilman McMullen said he would hold out against the ordinance for the reason the other Councilmen failed to keep faith with him on the park-board allowance. He said he did not object to $180,000 for the parks and that he did object to the $10,000 added to the $180,000. He said the Council could use the $10,000 for other purposes for which it is needed. According to City Hall report the three Councilmen who raised the park allowance did so in order that the budget ordinance can be duly passed by the required vote.

South Gate Pair Must Work Out Fines in Jail

SOUTH GATE, July 31.—Found guilty of violation of the liquor laws, Harry J. Madden and his wife, Alice, of this city, have been ordered committed in the County Jail for failure to pay fines imposed upon them by Police Judge Stanley Moffatt. Officers arrested the two a few days ago following a raid at the Madden residence. It was shown that the officers had to force their way into the home after being refused admittance, though armed with a search warrant, it is stated.

While they were attempting to enter the residence, the Maddens are stated to have made efforts to destroy many bottles and jugs containing liquor. When they finally gained entrance, the police state they saw Mrs. Madden in the rear of the house, coming from a bathroom where she is asserted to have attempted to destroy liquor. They found a gallon jug in the bath-tub with water running into it. A pint bottle with liquor pouring from it was found on the floor and there was also other bottles of beer and whisky found.

Mrs. Madden had entered a plea of not guilty, but changed this to one of guilty and was fined $500. Of this amount, $300 was suspended. Failing to pay the fine, a 100-days' jail sentence was meted out to her. Madden was found guilty and fined $500, of which $200 was suspended, or a jail sentence, which he is now serving.

Following the raid at the Madden home, the officers went to the home of Henry Richter where they state they found thirteen bottles filled with "Gordon Gin," also labels, sacks of corks, tester, bottles and jugs and other equipment used in this business. Richter had many witnesses to testify as to his character. His fine was placed at $500 of which $350 was suspended.

It was shown in the testimony at the hearing that Richter had been asked to keep this equipment at his home by the Maddens and that they were the owners of it.

VENTURA, July 31.—One of the first to grow oranges in Ventura county, E. E. Nichols, 75-year-old Saticoy rancher, died of heart attack at his home at 4:30 a.m. yesterday. The aged man worked yesterday in the fields, although he had been cautioned by his physician to avoid overexertion. Nichols came to this county from Canada forty-two years ago. Besides his widow he leaves a daughter, Mrs. Viola Griesmer of Porterville, and three sons, Arthur, Albert and Earnest Nichols.

VALENCIA CROP TRULY GOLDEN

Bank Accounts of Growers Swelled by Returns

Predictions Made Total will Approximate $2,000,000

Santiago Association Hopes to Net This Amount

SANTA ANA, July 31.—While bank deposits here and at Orange were being swelled today by the addition of $585,101, representing net returns to growers for fruit marketed in the season's first Valencia pool of the Santiago Orange Growers' Association of Orange, one of the largest organizations of its kind in the world, predictions were made that total returns would considerably exceed $2,000,000 and thus establish a record for a short-crop year.

At the same time it became known that the Orange Mutual Citrus Association anticipates seasonal returns in excess of $900,000, according to L. F. Finley, manager.

The more than $500,000 returns for the Santiago growers' first Valencia pool was considered to reflect the sound financial condition of the county's citrus industry.

Predictions regarding the possible total return of more than $2,000,000 for the season were made by R. E. Gross, plant manager for the Santiago organization. They were based on the assumption that ensuing pools will run as high in prices realized as the first.

Starting April 22 and closing on June 22, a period of two months, the first pool enjoyed a period of high prices, particularly during the opening weeks.

As a result, a new mark was set for the highest per-box returns ever paid to Santiago growers for early pool fruit, while the pool itself set a record of contributing the highest bulk returns or any early-season pool paid out by the association.

Gross said that the total net returns even exceeded the record pools paid during the 1928 season, another year of high prices.

Commenting on the fact that considerably higher prices prevailed during the fore part of the pool the manager said that the average over the two-months' period was very gratifying and should prove very satisfactory to the growers.

The pool contained 245 cars of fruit, which is about 25 per cent of the total Valencia crop expected to be shipped by the association this season. Gross said that slightly over 1000 cars of Valencias are in prospect, as compared with 1700 cars last year.

The association is at present engaged in packing its second pool, which will contain approximately 300 cars.

Verdict Blames City Park Board

SAN DIEGO, July 31.—A Coroner's jury today held the city park authorities responsible for negligence in failing to inspect the palm trees at the city plaza following an inquest held into the death of Dorothy Edwards, 19 years of age, Coroner Kelly announced.

Miss Edwards was killed Monday, when the top of one of the towering palm trees in the city plaza at Third and Broadway collapsed and crushed her. A unanimous verdict rendered by the Coroner's jury stated that "the park authorities were negligent in not inspecting the palm trees in the city plaza in order to protect human life." The girl victim was waiting for a street car at the time of the fatal accident.

BABE UNDER ARREST FOR JUVENILE COURT

PASADENA, July 31. — A 7-months-old baby was arrested here today, according to the report of the local police department. The child, Lois Ward, was "arrested" at 180 North Broadway by Policewoman Irma Stevens, and a regular booking slip and arrest report was made out in police headquarters. The tiny prisoner was not jailed and was taken to juvenile headquarters in Los Angeles.

Policewoman Stevens explained that the detention of the baby was made as a technical step to place the child under the care of juvenile authorities pending investigation of conditions in the baby's home.

WRONG MAN IS KILLED

Moonshiners Shoot First and Investigate After Victim is Dead

ETIWANDA, July 31.—Gangsters put the wrong man "on the spot" last night, killing Juan Decorez in an attack apparently meant for Marco Rodriguez, suspected of informing dry officers of moonshining activities of a group operating in the Etiwanda district.

Decorez was slain when he attempted a dash from Rodriguez's home to obtain help after Rodrigues had been threatened by three unidentified men who called to revenge an asserted "informing" of officers of a moonshining plot.

When Decorez left Rodriguez's home three men opened fire on him with rifles. Three bullets struck him in the head and he fell dead. Rodriguez, who followed Decorez out of the house, dropped, feigning that he had been hit, when the attackers opened fire on him.

The three men called at the Rodrigues home near the ranch of Constable J. D. Orendorff, who conducted a raid on a moonshine plant in the afternoon. Decorez saw the car approach and went to meet it. The gunmen told him that they were going to kill Rodriguez. Decorez later decided to make a dash for help. He was shot down as he left the house.

Deputy sheriffs last night conducted a search throughout the district for the gunmen, believed by Sheriff Walter A. Shay to be members of a Los Angeles gang which is suspected of operating in the Etiwanda district, where a number of stills have been seized in recent months.

Match Falls on Hoe, Starts Grass Fire

CAHUENGA PARK, July 31.—Here is a new one and odd, too. A Mexican yesterday was clearing off weeds at Cedros avenue and Valley Heart street. He became uncomfortably warm and took off his shirt. In doing this a match in the pocket of the shirt fell on a steel hoe and lighted in the midst of dry grass. Four acres of grass, brush and dry shrubbery burned before the fire was extinguished by the Van Nuys Fire Department. While the fire was at its height several costly homes in the path of the flames were threatened.

Swimming Pools Opened Again

GLENDALE, July 31.—With the passage of the worst phases of the infantile paralysis epidemic, Dr. D. E. Smallhorst, district health officer, today granted permission to the local swimming pools to resume operations and to admit children who have been barred since the authorities began checking the spread of the disease. There are only eight cases now under quarantine here, Dr. Smallhorst reported, as compared to twenty-seven ten days ago.

The health department's action in opening the plunges, Dr. Smallhorst stated, may be taken as indicating that the danger of children attending public gatherings is also negligible.

MONTEBELLO ROTARY INSTALLS OFFICERS

MONTEBELLO, July 31.—Oscar I. Leuenberger was installed president of the local Rotary Club last evening at the annual dinner-dance meeting, while W. F. Johnson was made secretary-treasurer for the ensuing year. Leuenberger gave a brief address calling attention to several projects that the local organization should sponsor during the year. He also gave an interesting synopsis of the Chicago convention of the Rotary International. Leuenberger is a pioneer realty dealer of this section and has for the past four years been secretary of the Montebello Building and Loan Association. His knowledge of the needs of the community makes him an ideal head for the local service club, according to its members.

POLICEMAN'S PRIZE CHICKENS STOLEN

VAN NUYS, July 31.—Police Sergeant Edward Berger of the valley division has a dozen prize legborn hens in his back yard that he values at $60. That is, he did have them. Last night somebody pried into his pens and made way with the champion layers.

While he was making his official report of the theft, Patrolman H. B. Schwartz came into the station with two Negroes, Ulysses Smith and Fred Davis. They were under arrest. Schwartz reported he had apprehended the pair while they were attempting to unscrew a costly radiator cap off his automobile.

Closed Bank's Papers Studied by Prosecutor

SAN DIEGO, July 31.—Continued study of records and reports compiled by State bank examiners in connection with closing last week of California Savings and Commercial Bank was the order of today in the District Attorney's office.

After filing the reports with the District Attorney and causing a complaint to be issued against I. Isaac Irwin, president of the bank, the State officials left the city except for a staff placed in the bank under C. A. Lebrie of the State liquidation bureau.

Dist.-Atty. Stephen Connell indicated that no further action was likely to be taken until the State bank officials return for consultation.

Irwin, in a state of collapse at his home on Point Loma, is at liberty under $30,000 bond pending preliminary hearing before Township Justice Arthur L. Mundo September 4 on a charge of grand theft of $50000 of the bank's funds.

RUM SCOW QUIZ SEEKS HIGH-UPS

Government to Sift Facts in New York Seizure

Wants to Know if Officials of City Linked to Plot

Skipper of Captured Craft Tells Fantastic Tale

NEW YORK, July 31. (Exclusive) The strong arm of the Federal government reached out today in an effort to learn if city officials, higher up than $42-a-week scow skippers, were involved in the attempt to smuggle in 1500 cases of liquor aboard an ill-smelling $100,000 municipal craft which was seized early yesterday by customs patrol officials with its $90,000 cargo of contraband.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Robert B. Watts said tonight that he has evidence that the use of city scows to bring imported wet goods to New York docks was not unusual. He added that he might request the presence of officials of the sanitation department and possibly other City Hall officials at the Federal Building to testify before the August Federal grand jury before which the facts of the seizure under the Brooklyn Bridge at the Roosevelt-street pier, East River, will be presented. The first step taken by Watts, who is in charge of prohibition matters under U. S. Atty. Charles H. Tuttle, upon his return from Washington today was to confer with another Federal prosecutor, Thomas E. Kerrigan, who arraigned the twenty-two men taken in the raid, seven of the city employees.

INSPECTOR'S STORY

Capt. R. Drace White, Federal prohibition supervisor, said he is satisfied with the report of Federal Inspector Louis Orborne, who was aboard the tug M. Moran, which had passed the "E" (later captured rumrunner) and another one, "P," in tow Monday night on their way to sea with garbage.

Osborne's sole duty was to see that the refuse was dumped out far enough. He reported that he had seen nothing unusual on the trip and White explained that the inspector "probably was asleep" on the return voyage.

TALE OF SEA RUFFIANS

A vivid and colorful description of how the liquor got aboard was given to Sanitation Commissioner Charles S. Hand today by Leonardo Sammartino, captain of the scow. Two miles this side of the dumping place, he said, thirty ruffians came alongside his scow in two speedboats and boarded her. They told him, he related earnestly, that his life wouldn't "be worth 30 cents" unless they were permitted to take the liquor on board and land at the pier. He was alone on deck at the time, his brother Vincenzo, the scow's mate, being asleep in the cabin.

Valuing life above all else he permitted the boarding party to put the liquor in bags from the boats to the scow. Upon the arrival to the pier yesterday afternoon Leonardo said he was threatened again and for that reason did not notify his superiors.

Dorothy June

SUNNYSIDE (L. I.) July 31. (Exclusive)—Dorothy June of this city believes in filling engagements promptly. In fact she believes in it so strongly that when she was answering a summons for a cousin who parked his car over the time limit, Miss June sat upon the steps of traffic court all night so as to be there when court opened.

So, besides a night's sleep, her cousin's negligence cost her $3.

OFFICIALS OF JUAREZ ARRESTED

Town Also Placed Under Martial Law as Result of Row Over Election

EL PASO, July 31. (AP)—Political differences which arose during the heated gubernatorial campaign in the State of Chihuahua, Mex., today were renewed after the Mayor, City Secretary and three Aldermen of Juarez, across the Rio Grande from here, were arrested and the city placed under martial law.

Lieut.-Col. Ignacio L. Campos, aide to Gen. Francisco Del Arco, commander of the Juarez garrison, is acting Chief of Police and with two squads of soldiers is in charge of the municipality.

The latest trouble was reported as an aftermath of the gubernatorial election on the 20th inst. in connection with which Gov. POLITICIANS VIE WITH OIL MEN

Gore to Oppose Wrightsman for Senate Seat

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 31. (AP) Seasoned political generals will be pitted against oil millionaires in the August 12 run-off primary both for the United States Senatorial and gubernatorial Democratic nominations.

Thomas P. Gore, who represented Oklahoma in the Senate for thirteen years after Statehood, will oppose C. J. Wrightsman, Tulsa oil operator, who himself is not new to the political game, in the Senatorial run-off. William H. Murray, who served Oklahoma as president of its constitutional convention, Speaker of the State House of Representatives and Representative before attempting to establish Oklahoma colonies in Bolivia, will contest Frank Buttram, Oklahoma City man enriched by oil.

In 3108 of the State's 3338 precincts, Gore was leading Wrightsman tonight, 65,528 to 65,029. Henry S. Johnston, deposed Governor, was third in the field of nine with 49,332 votes; Lee Cruce, another former Governor, fourth with 36,840, and J. B. A. Robertson, a third former chief executive who campaigned for dry-law repeal, 12,141.

Senator W. B. Pine, Republican, who will meet the winner of the Gore-Wrightsman contest in the November election, had nearly a four-to-one lead over the combined votes of his two opponents for the Republican nomination when 1592 precincts had been reported.

EX-WIFE'S HONEYMOON CAUSES NEW CONFLICT

NEW YORK, July 31. (Exclusive)—A question of divorce etiquette, involving whether a man should be forced to pay the expenses of his children when his ex-wife takes them on her honeymoon with his successor as her husband, has been made the basis of a further post-marital conflict between Louis Stewart, Jr., banker, and the former Marion Kingsbury, young society matron.

Stewart, a vice-president of the New York Trust Company and the Central Mercantile Bank, declines to pay a bill of $773 which his erstwhile wife presented him with to cover the expenses of the two little Stewarts when they accompanied her on a bridal tour with Clinton S. Dow, broker of Orange, N. J.

FIERY BEASTS IMPERIL TOWN

Flaming Rabbits and Deer Flee from Forest

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31. (Exclusive)—Flaming rabbits and deer, dashing helter-skelter from blazing forests, brought the historic mining town of Angels Camp close to destruction today, according to reports of State and Federal rangers directing the battle over a front of seventeen miles.

Sharpshooters had to be stationed at strategic points to kill the fleeing forest creatures and prevent the spread of the flames, but not before 8000 acres had been burned and seven ranches destroyed at an estimated loss of $15,000.

Shaw's Earliest Novel Finally to be Published

NEW YORK, July 31. (Exclusive) George Bernard Shaw's first novel, which he wrote at the age of 23, is to be published in September, fifty-one years after it was written, William H. Wise, publisher, disclosed tonight.

The early work, which will run to more than 400 pages, is to be included in a collected set of Shaw's writings.

The manuscript, called "Immaturity," was sent by Shaw to some sixty British and American publishers, all of whom refused it, Mr. Wise said. After several years of fruitless effort to find a publisher, Shaw put the manuscript away.

TARZAN AND THE LOST EMPIRE

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Meanwhile, Tarzan of the Apes, chained to the center pole in the Bagego hut, with Lukedi crouched against the wall in fear, heard the tumult of battle die away. Then three men burst into the hut, enemy warriors searching the village for fugitives. At the sight of Tarzan, the leading warrior halted in surprise. He addressed the ape-man in a language that Tarzan did not understand. As they could not communicate by words, he motioned the prisoner toward the door. Tarzan pointed to the chain about his leg. One of the warriors examined the lock and left the hut. He returned soon carrying two rocks.

Tarzan was ordered to lie upon the ground. The warrior placed the padlock on one of the rocks and pounded upon it with the other until it broke. Then Lukedi was discovered and was dragged, shrieking, to the center of the floor. The ape-man and the Bagego were led from the hut. In the center of the village were about a hundred light-brown warriors, wearing the garb of Roman soldiers, surrounding some fifty Bagego prisoners. Then a white man approached. To Tarzan it appeared that the white man might have been a statue of Julius Caesar come miraculously to life.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, July 31. (AP)—Inquiries for wool are more numerous than they have been for several weeks and fairly large volume of business being closed by a few houses. Demand is largely for 64s and finer quality, although there is a fair amount of trading being done on the lower grades. Prices are very firm to slightly stronger.

LABOR HOURS DISTRIBUTED

Industrialists Resist Wage Cutting by Systems of Part-Time Employment; Problem Studied

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Most business and manufacturing organizations are meeting the employment situation calmly and intelligently. Contrasted with the relatively few who have adopted panic-time measures, hundreds of illustrations are available of scientific approaches to the problem with the idea of alleviating distress and increasing efficiency.

So far as possible the aim of industrial leaders has been to provide employment for as many workers as practicable without cutting wages. Hours of labor are distributed among a maximum number of workers required to perform the necessary tasks, vacation schedules adjusted to cover slack periods and full utilization made of inventory shut-downs.

GRACE'S PLAN

Typical of the enlightened attitude was the comment yesterday by Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, in connection with the issuance of quarterly earnings:

"There has been no reduction in wages and none is contemplated. I believe it would be false economy to reduce wages under present conditions. Workers are contributing enough on part-time employment. We are distributing our work among all the men and they are making a real sacrifice. Average earnings of workmen in 1929 were $1942 per man and men are averaging 60 to 65 per cent of this amount at present."

Southern California Edison, one of the largest Pacific Coast utilities, is not even worried over unemployment troubles. F. B. Lewis, vice-president and general manager, reports Edison employment conditions virtually unchanged. Workers are laboring in the same number, the same hours and at the same wages as last year, with the exception of workers on a few special construction jobs.

EDISON STEADY

Edison employment has been undisturbed, Mr. Lewis says, because of the increased business turned in by the new business department. The annual increase in business is running now at the rate of 332,000 horsepower, which is lower than the rate in 1928.

Large oil companies have cut down the number of field workers as the result of curtailment in production, but some of them, like Standard of California, are providing a substantial amount of new employment. This company has diverted a sizable number of workers into cleaning and repairing old wells and into other activities neglected in more prosperous times.

The Studebaker Corporation has worked out the solution in this fashion: Approximately 200 man hours are required to produce the average Studebaker car. The man hours required by a day's production schedule are distributed equally over the standardized force without reduction in wages. The company calls the entire force to work for the number of hours which will care for the schedule of production on any given day.

Rate Reduced on Studebaker Motor Common

NEW YORK, July 31. (Exclusive) Directors of the Studebaker Corporation declared today a quarterly dividend of 75 cents a share on the common, which reduced the dividend from $4 to $3 annually. In the previous quarter the annual basis was reduced from $5 to $4 a share.

Report of the Studebaker Corporation including Pierce-Arrow Motor Car Company for the second quarter shows consolidated net profits of $1,075,180 after charges and taxes. This is equal after deduction of Pierce-Arrow Class A minority interest, Studebaker preferred dividends and preferred dividends of Pierce-Arrow, to 41 cents a share on 1,961,413 shares. In the same period of 1929 net profits were $6,150,289, or $3.02 a share, and $1,492,137, or 62 cents in the preceding quarter.

In the six months' period net profits totaled $2,567,317, or $1.03 after charges on 1,961,413 shares, compared with $11,183,879, or $5.56 a share in the first half of 1929.

Rate on Hancock Oil Stock Pared

Directors of the Hancock Oil Company of California yesterday reduced the annual dividend rate from $1.75 to $1 a share by the declaration of a quarterly dividend of 25 cents. For the three preceding quarters the company paid 43 3-4 cents, which will make total cash disbursements, including the one just declared, of $1.56 1-2 cents for the fiscal year ending September 1, next.

During the first half of the year, while the California market was disrupted, Hancock, according to yesterday's announcement, concentrated on its export and out-of-State business. This business increased 33 per cent over 1929, while California sales fell off 19 per cent. Plans have been laid for active marketing in the San Francisco and San Joaquin Valley districts and a large expenditure authorized for sales promotion. The new dividend is payable September 1 to stock of record August 15.

DEFINITE UPTURN IN BOND MARKET NOTED

The upward trend of bond prices has already reflected itself in government, municipal and the better grade of industrial and public utility issues, which are, under normal conditions, attractive only to institutions requiring an active market and who can afford a lesser income, according to a report just compiled by the California Company, Ltd.

Baltimore-Ohio Rail May Annex Chicago-Alton

NEW YORK, July 31. (Exclusive) Negotiations for the acquisition of Chicago and Alton Railway by the Baltimore and Ohio are being carried on, but no definite conclusions have been reached as yet, George M. Shriver, senior vice-president of the Baltimore and Ohio, stated today.

Interests closely identified with the 3½ per cent Chicago and Alton bonds also stated that negotiations have not as yet been concluded.

In co-operation with efforts of the Interstate Commerce Commission to bring about railroad consolidations, Chicago and Alton and Baltimore and Ohio are making a general survey to determine in what respects traffic relations might be advantageous to the two roads, and in what respects they might be detrimental, according to W. G. Bierd, receiver of the Chicago and Alton. This is the only step that has been taken looking toward consolidation, he said. "We have no knowledge here of whether the bonds have changed hands or not and we have no records that would show this information as the bonds are not registered with us," he added.

Net of MacMarr Chain Declines

PORTLAND (Or.) July 31. (Exclusive)—Net profits of MacMarr Stores, Inc., for the six months ended June 30, last, was approximately $620,000 after depreciation, obsolescence and Federal taxes, equal after preferred dividend requirements to 41 cents a share on 772,554 common shares, according to a statement issued today by Ross McIntyre, president.

The decline in earnings this year is due to a large extent to constantly declining commodity markets which alone accounts for an inventory price shrinkage of approximately $400,000, Mr. McIntyre stated, adding that he does not anticipate any change in the dividend policy on the common stock as he regards the present decrease in earnings as temporary and solely due to uncontrollable basic conditions which have now been fully discounted.

Kinner Motor Reports Sales

Shipments of the Kinner Airplane and Motor Corporation for the first seven months of the year were reported yesterday at 202 motors, compared with 408 in the same period of 1929. The Glendale plant is turning out two motors daily, and the shipments in the month of July alone totaled forty-three, according to Robert Porter, president. August and September shipments are expected to show improvement.

Unfilled orders now stand at 700 motors, according to Mr. Porter. This compares with 900 at the same time last year. Ability to deliver motors depends, he said, on the ability of manufacturers to sell planes.

SPANG CHALFANT REPORTS

PITTSBURGH, July 31.—Net income of Spang Chalfant & Co. for the quarter ended June 30, last, totaled $930,211 after charges and taxes, equal to 97 cents a share on 750,000 shares of common. This compares with $1,105,442, or $1.20 in June, 1929. Six months' net was $1,881,980, or $1.97 a share, compared with $2,046,275, or $2.18 in the first half of 1929.

NEW CLOUD ON OIL HORIZON

Texas Court Upsets Plan to Curtail Output of Darst Field by 55,000 Barrels

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, July 31.—The oil industry is worried again. Just when everything seemed to be going along well, with production almost in balance with consumption, the curtailment plans in the rich Darst oil field in Texas, were blown up by a court injunction against the proration order of the Texas Railroad Commission.

So what happened? Instead of 20,000 barrels a day production in this field, it moved up last week to 75,000 barrels.

Still more difficulties! The Mid-continent Petroleum Corporation, a big refining unit, notified the American Petroleum Institute, as well as the Federal Trade Commission, that it was withdrawing from the code of oil marketing practices which was drawn up by the industry last year with the approval of the Oil Conservation Board.

Thus the oil industry, after months of hard work spent in whipping the various factors into a workable shape, must face another severe overproduction era.

The forty-eight States comprising the United States spent $910,485,000 in improving 32,522 miles of State highways last year. The press has said little about it. Think of 314,136 miles of State highways at the end of 1929!

Digging into figures a little, we note for construction and rights of way, the States spent $537,000,000; for maintenance, $173,060,000; for equipment and machinery, $18,056,000; for interest on outstanding bonds and notes, $45,834,000; and the rest was spent on various items.

But the States last year had total sums available of $1,194,775,000, or $232,987,000 more than was expended.

Where did the large part of this money come from? Motorist and vehicle fees contributed $278,000,000; gasoline taxes, $287,000,000; State bonds and notes issued, added another $161,000,000; Federal-aid fund allotments gave $77,572,000, and the rest was from miscellaneous sources.

Who would have thought fifteen years ago that the road costs could ever reach such proportions, and the States still remain solvent?

Is France, by deliberate gold hoarding, forcing down the world price level? Yes, say some British and American observers. France says nothing. She demands more and still more gold, in spite of the fact that she today has more than twice as much gold in her vaults as Great Britain.

The French price level is rising and tourists, while not as numerous in France this year as last, are leaving plenty of money there. Still very little expansion of French credit has taken place, with the receipt of gold, except a small amount of notes. The Bank of France apparently has matters in hand, and has effected almost a total sterilization of this gold surplus, in a way that it will not cause French prices to rise disproportionately.

But why is France demanding more and more gold? It's about the first question every international banker asks another these days—by way of greeting.

But France, shrewd, calculating, successful, playing a lone hand, growing more powerful every hour, only asks for more gold.

Since January 1 new construction undertaken in this territory was valued at $2,935,090,000, as against $3,545,703,800 for like period ended July 26, 1929.

CHICAGO, July 31.—New construction contracts let in Chicago in the period from January 1 to the 25th inst. amounted to $74,016,300, against $225,926,700 in a like period last year, according to F. W. Dodge Corporation.

Barnsdall Oil Profits Lower for Half Year

NEW YORK, July 31.—Barnsdall Corporation today reported net income for the first six months of the year of $3,264,131 after interest, depreciation, depletion, etc., and taxes, compared with $4,125,576 in the first six months of 1929. Net earnings in the June quarter of $1,946,845 were equal to 86 cents on 2,254,725 combined shares, against 90 cents on 2,247,425 shares in the June quarter last year.

Barnsdall, according to the announcement, has purchased a substantial interest in the O'Neil Oil Company of Milwaukee, one of the oldest distributing companies in the West.

The company also reported the Buenos Aires plant successfully launched, capacity operations in the Texas and Louisiana chemical plants, and the completion by September of the new San Francisco plant for the manufacture of glue in pearl form.

STRONGER TONE RULES ON MART

Substantial Upturn Follows Irregular Opening

Action Pleasant Surprise to Pessimistic Group

Total Turnover Shows Slump from Previous Day

NEW YORK, July 31. (AP)—The tone of the financial markets improved today. Efforts to follow up the Wednesday decline in stocks were discouraged by the resistance to further selling and the list turned upward after the irregular trading of the morning.

Closing prices showed net advances of 1 to 5 points. Volume remained small and the total sales of 2,162,000 shares were about 400,000 below yesterday's.

The movement of stocks was a pleasant surprise to those who had feared yesterday's break would bring out public liquidation. Buying orders outweighed selling orders at the opening, which was generally higher. The bear faction, however, disregarded this signal and resumed operations at pivotal points, with indifferent success.

One dividend omission and a few reductions afforded the outstanding unfavorable developments in the news. Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh Railway passed its semiannual payment of $2 on the common. It was the first time since 1901 that the road, now a Baltimore and Ohio subsidiary, had failed to make a disbursement. Missouri Pacific dropped 6 points, Louisville and Nashville 2 and Delaware and Hudson 3. Baltimore and Ohio aaged 3 points, but recovered all but a fraction of the loss. Southern Railway closed more than 2 points higher.

Studebaker was one of the companies to reduce the dividend, cutting to a $3 basis from $4, coincident with the announcement that earnings for the six months amounted to $1.03 a share, against $5.56 a year ago.

News from the Detroit automotive plants was more reassuring. Dispatches from that city said that the vacation shutdowns would end this week, with few exceptions.

Among the standard issues, American Can rose about 3 points, United States Steel, General Electric and American Telephone gained about a point. General Motors and Radio closed fractionally higher. Warner Brothers was under pressure for a time, recording another new low at 35½, but closing at 37 1-4, up a fraction.

Gillette rose 5 points, Autostrop rose more than 2 points to another new high.

Eastman sold up more than 6 points, but lost most of its gain. Westinghouse Electric, American Tobacco B, Lorillard, National Power and Light, Worthington and Safeway closed about 2 to 4 points higher. Youngstown Sheet lost 3 points.

Foreign exchanges were firm. The German mark rose to 23.90¼ cents, a new 1930 high.

PLANS BREWING FOR GLASS UNIT MERGER

Negotiations were reported in progress yesterday for the consolidation of Illinois Pacific Glass Corporation and the Pacific Coast Glass Company, two of the largest manufacturers of glassware on the Pacific Coast. The consolidated companies would have total assets of more than $7,000,000.

Wheat Follows Corn in Sharp Price Advance

CHICAGO, July 31. (AP)—Extraordinary shriveling up of the 1930 corn crop led to fresh soaring of corn prices today, and helped to rally the wheat market.

Losses of corn reach 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 bushels every twenty-four hours that general drought continues, it was authoritatively estimated.

Big export business in wheat from North America, said to total upward of 6,000,000 bushels for the last forty-eight hours, was another outstanding feature.

Increased profit-taking sales brought about late reactions from the day's top figures, with corn and wheat both closing nervous, corn at ⅝@3¼c net gain over yesterday's finish. Wheat and oats both closed 1@1⅛c up and provisions unchanged to a rise of 17c.

Peering into the corn pit were reports that in some sections of the corn belt not more than a quarter to a half of the ordinary yield of corn was expected. Other advices told of canning factories not planning to open. Stopped by failure of corn growth, instances were noted where there has been no rain for six weeks. Burning corn fields to burn up. One Chicago expert summarized his information as showing the present condition of corn throughout the entire United States at 80.9 per cent, the lowest point for corn since 1911.

Prospective yields of corn throughout the whole country were figured on this basis to be 2,267,000,000 bushels less than the government July 1 forecast.

Wheat trading was active, but less so than corn, and the advances in wheat quotations came largely from sympathy with corn strength. Oats touched new low-price records for the season, but then ascended with other grain.

Notwithstanding declines in hog values, provisions advanced aided by grain price upturns.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, July 31. (AP)—The listed bond market gave another ragged performance today. Second grade rails and some utilities suffered in the irregular price movement, together with volatile issues.

Stock privilege issues fluctuated with alternate declines and rallies to close higher. High-grade rails and United States governments were the firmest spots. Foreign issues also suffered, although the recessions which occurred in the most popular bonds were confined to small fractions.

Mortgage bonds of New York Central, Atchison, Nickel Plate, Pennsylvania and Atchison held at their present high levels.

Strength was shown at the close by such convertible issues as American Telephone 4½s, up 1½, American International 5½ and Rock Island 4½s.

Marked strength and weakness were shown by the utility group. Consumers Power of Chicago 5s reached a new high. American Telephone issues held firm, with the collateral 5s at the highest figure of the year.

Austrian 7s closed at ¾ point higher. German 6½s dropped to a new low.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing price in order given. To expedite transmission the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

BY PORTER FLINT

Because of the unexpected showing of the new Venice field, the excess oil production for the entire State amounted to 3647 barrels daily, according to the new proration schedule prepared yesterday by the fact-finding committee, headed by W. E. Dunlap, chairman.

New figures just released show the State's potential is set at 1,136,000 barrels daily with a required curtailment of 533,392 barrels per day. The new allotment for the period from the 1st to 15th inst., inclusive is 603,568 barrels daily. Daily average production for the last period from the 16th to 31st inst., inclusive, was 607,215 barrels.

The Venice field recorded a daily excess of 5500 barrels of oil during the last period. Exclusive of that district, the State showed a net underproduction of 1853 barrels daily. To combat the overproduction at Venice and two other Los Angeles basin fields which heretofore have produced more than their allowable, all San Joaquin Valley fields under Group No. 1 will be required to make a 49 per cent curtailment for the month of August instead of the 47.9 per cent indicated on the new report. The curtailment required at Santa Fe Springs will be 48.9 per cent.

According to the new report which covers the period from the 1st to the 15th inst., inclusive, the State production for the last half of July averaged 363 barrels of oil a day less than during the first half of the month, but while production was declining the potential of the State increased 4110 barrels per day.

Increased Potentials

The fact-finding committee's new report shows that the Signal Hill field's potential jumped to 139,255 barrels daily and as a result the allowable for the first half of the month will be 98,602 barrels daily instead of 96,000 barrels daily. Santa Fe Springs' new allowable is 101,918 barrels daily.

In the Venice field fourteen wells have been brought in since December, 1929, and at least a dozen new projects are expected to be completed within the next two weeks. The field's potential jumped from 3000 barrels daily to 11,500 barrels per day. It is to cut back 47.83 per cent, giving it a required curtailment of 3500 barrels daily as against 3000 barrels during the last period.

The Kettleman Hills field's potential remains approximately the same. Its potential was set at 83,000 barrels daily and with a cut of 12.82 per cent, the field will be permitted to flow 13,500 barrels daily. Little change is noted throughout the other State fields.

New Test Scheduled

Having cored deeper into oil sand, the Shell Oil Company is running oil string in Porter-Day No. 1 wildcat six miles southeast of Bakersfield and may make another production test of it by the end of the week.

Shell's project failed to develop much "kick" recently when a production test was made with bottom of the hole at 4965 feet. A solid body of oil sand had previously been penetrated and it was determined to test that showing before going any deeper. Bottom of the hole now is at 5029 feet.

To Drill Another

The Erburu field, nine miles west of the Inwood coastal field, continues active. The General Petroleum Corporation discovered the field nearly a year ago when the Erburu No. 1 came in for 150 barrels of 20-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth slightly below 1300 feet. Since then General has drilled and completed six other shallow producers and is preparing to complete Erburu No. 7, with bottom at 1432 feet, and building derrick for Erburu No. 8 with foundation in for Erburu No. 9.

Most of the activity in the Erburu field is due to lease requirements. Instead of allowing the wells to produce, General shut them in to conform to the State-wide oil-curtailment program. The same plan is being observed by the Shell company, as it also has considerable acreage in that district and has a drilling program that calls for additional projects. Shell's most recent undertaking, the Orella No. 1, failed to develop production and has been abandoned, with bottom of the hole at 2260 feet. It is one of the deepest in that area. On a near-by lease Shell drilled several dry holes during the earlier portion of the drilling campaign, but moved over closer to the ocean, where production had been found by General. Shell is preparing to make a new location.

Plugs Back

Failing to find deep production the Standard Oil Company recently plugged back to 3020 feet in its K. C. No. 2-36 at Wheeler Ridge and resumed bailing. This project went to 7129 feet, and with exception of an occasional showing of oil has so far failed to produce. Near King City, Standard's Piedmont No. 1 wildcat is making progress, with the drill below 4807 feet without showings.

Drilling Out

George F. Getty, Inc., yesterday was drilling out cement plug at 5035 feet in Parker No. 4 in the Potrero town-lot area and will probably make a production test soon, with bottom of the hole at 5328 feet. This project is near the Richfield Oil Company's Coffin No. 1, a deep test now cleaning out to bottom preparatory to a production test at 6258 feet.

Getty's Lincoln Drilling-Getty No. 1 wildcat at Lost Hills is rigging rotary and will be drilling ahead this week. This test is on a forty-acre lease formerly held by the Lincoln Drilling Company, the operators having entered into a drilling arrangement to test that district.

Importance Realized

The test at Lost Hills is considered important by operators, who hold considerable acreage there. The area to be prospected is about eight miles from the north Belridge district, where the Belridge Oil Company found deeper production, and is within ten miles of Buttonwillow, where the Millham Exploration Company developed a number of gassers, and plans to develop others when the demand for gas is greater. The importance of the Lost Hills test is emphasized by the fact that the Kettleman Hills oil field is due Northwest of it twelve miles.

NEW PLANS FOR SHIPYARDS STIR

Bethlehem Chief Bearer of Cheerful News

Will Put Harbor Plant Back on Building Map

Expects Share of Contracts for Construction

BY WALDO DRAKE

Los Angeles Harbor gained added prestige in the nation's new shipbuilding program yesterday with the announcement by Joseph J. Tynan, vice-president and general manager of the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, Ltd., that he plans an extensive program of new ship construction for the Bethlehem yards at San Pedro. Mr. Tynan's announcement follows a report that the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation, of which George A. Armes, San Francisco shipbuilding wizard, is now president, is soon to start thorough overhaul of yard facilities preparatory to probable new construction.

Mr. Tynan said that the Bethlehem interests have either bid or are working on specifications for nearly sixty new ships to be built in American yards.

"It is only fair to assume that we will get our share of this business and, therefore, we plan to run the San Pedro yards on a big scale," he said. "They have been my favorite yards since I bought them in 1924 and I plan to put this place back on the shipbuilding map. They are in such good shape right now that, aside from some work on the building ways, we could start building ships there tomorrow."

Established in 1917 as the Southwestern Shipbuilding Company, the local Bethlehem yards built more than twenty vessels during the wartime period and have since been active in new construction and repair work. Ships and mechanical facilities are available for simultaneous construction of six vessels up to a length of 700 feet.

LINER ECUADOR IN WITH RECORD LIST

The largest list of passengers brought into Los Angeles Harbor aboard a Panama-Mail liner arrived yesterday morning at daylight on the Ecuador.

There were 135 voyagers, hailing from cities and towns of the east coast and Middle Western United States, the Panama Canal and seven countries in the Spanish Americas.

Arriving as a passenger was Capt. Clinton Beaverstock, master of the liner Corinto, who, due to ill health was forced to relinquish his command at the Canal. He was succeeded by Capt. Thomas Williams, formerly chief officer of the liner Ecuador. Alvin W. Opheim arrived as chief officer on the Ecuador. Capt. Beaverstock, who was named master of the Corinto about six months ago, plans to take an extended vacation before returning to sea.

Henry P. Marendaz, prominent steamship and tourist official of Hartford, Ct., accompanied by Mrs. Marendaz arrived on the Ecuador on vacation.

Four Guatemalans en route to Sacramento to attend the Pan-American Reciprocal Trade Conference, which opens the 25th inst., were on the Ecuador. They were Escobar Vega, Guillermo Lavagrimo, Francisco Gogseuta and Edgar Jeanneau.

Leo E. Archer, Pacific Coast manager of the International Mercantile Marine Company, will be among the 600 passengers arriving at the port tomorrow morning aboard the Panama-Pacific electric liner California, from New York via Havana and the Canal.

Mr. Archer has been in New York for a series of conferences with P. A. S. Franklin, president of I.M.M., relative to future development of the Panama-Pacific Line's intercoastal express service. He is accompanied by Mrs. Archer and their daughters, Dorothy and Lucille.

Others arriving include Rev. John J. Burke, of Washington, of the National Catholic Welfare committee; P. A. Dempey, former athletic director of Georgetown University; David Sasseen, dramatic editor of the Brooklyn Standard-Union, and Charles E. Alexander, society editor of the Boston Transcript.

Charles H. Walker, patrolman in the port police division, will today celebrate his twelfth anniversary as greeter of incoming and departing passenger ships at Los Angeles Harbor.

Charles estimates that in these twelve years he has met 22,000 vessels, carrying approximately 4,000,000 passengers.

Philippine Legislators Report Having Open Mind on Hoover Appointee

MANILA, July 31. (AP)—Senate President Quezon, Acting Senate President Osmena and Acting Speaker of the House De la Salsa today accepted President Hoover's offer to discuss the appointment of Nicholas Roosevelt as Vice-Governor of the Philippines.

In a message to the Filipino mission at Washington the insular leaders said they are willing to discuss the matter with an open mind, in accordance with the President's suggestion, "prompted by a sincere desire to reach a just and satisfactory solution."

The insular Senate unanimously went on record against the appointment of Roosevelt and native opposition was widespread. His book, "The Philippines: A Treasure and a Problem," contributed to the opposition.

With the Filipino leaders willing to discuss the appointment it was considered possible arrangements could be made whereby Roosevelt's coming will not precipitate an open controversy.

No Llega a Acuerdo un Jurado Penal

Fue disuelto ayer un jurado en la sala del juez superior Thompson por no haber podido llegar a ningún veredicto en el juicio por $25,000 de daños entablado por John T. y Louise Keirns con motivo de la muerte de una criatura de ellos en una mesa calefactora del Hospital Luterano de California.

Según el presidente del jurado, éste se dividió en siete votos contra cinco; pero no se supo de qué lado estaba la mayoría. Los actores alegan que la criatura murió a consecuencia del excesivo calor de la mesa en que fue colocado tras una operación cesárea. Los médicos que prestaron testimonio por el hospital declararon que era imposible calentar la mesa arriba de 118 grados Fahrenheit, la que ésta mucho de ser temperatura mortal.

El jurado del forense exoneró al hospital poco después de la muerte de la criatura, fallando que la muerte de éste había sido un accidente inevitable.

LATIN-AMERICAN VANGUARD HERE

Party from Guatemala will Attend Trade Parley

Group Reports America Has Commerce Prospect

Improvements in Roads and Construction Reported

Five delegates representing Guatemala arrived in Los Angeles yesterday as the first of the Latin-American contingents that are to attend the Pan-American Reciprocal Trade Conference, which is to begin with a three days' gathering here starting the 11th inst. and concluding with business sessions at Sacramento following a tour of the State.

GUILLERMO LAVAGNIN

The Guatemalan party comprises Guillermo Lavagnin, chairman of the delegation, a member of the Guatemala Board of Trade and representing the Chamber of Commerce of that place; Francisco Goyzueta, secretary, importantly connected with Guatemalan tourist club affairs; Dr. Armando Toriello, representing foreign trade interests; Manuel Escobar Vega, representing the newspaper El Imparcial, and Edgar Jarnau, who has had a leading part in the development of Central American air transportation. Dr. Toriello was graduated from the University of California at Berkeley last May. Mr. Goyzueta, also a graduate of that university, served as an American soldier in the Spanish-American War.

DR. ARMANDO TORIELLO

COMES BY BOAT

The delegation traveled to Los Angeles from Guatemala City on board the S.S. Ecuador and Messrs. Vega, Goyzueta and Jarnau continued to San Francisco on this ship, accompanied by F. Waller, Guatemalan Consul here, who is host to the party during its stay in California. Consul Waller has been named to represent Guatemala at the conference. Mr. Lavagnin and Dr. Toriello, who during their stay in Los Angeles were the guests of Guillermo Elisondo, chancellor of the Guatemalan Consulate, proceeded to San Francisco later in the day via Western Air Express. The entire party intends to return here in eight days to join the other Latin-American delegations.

FRIENDSHIP EXPRESSED

The Guatemalan party brought expressions of deep friendship for the United States from their country. Guatemala has every desire to maintain a close friendship with this nation and to do everything possible to promote their trade relationships, the two delegates who visited here said. They reported Guatemala in good condition, optimistic and with a thoroughly stable government. It is carrying on a program of industrial and building expansion that holds much promise for that country, they stated. Considerable road building, they said, is being done, important structures are being erected and thousands of acres of land are being newly devoted to banana cultivation. These activities will have a large part in furthering Pacific Coast trade, Dr. Toriello predicted.

The Pan-American conference is hailed forward to as a significant means to strengthen the friendship between this country and Latin America.

AIMS OUTLINED

"Better and cheaper shipping facilities, better banking arrangements, adequate credit arrangements for consumers of American products in Guatemala, these are some of the missions our delegation has to accomplish at the conference," according to Federico Waller, Guatemalan consul at Los Angeles, who spoke for the visitors at the dock yesterday.

"The proper propaganda for Guatemalan products also interests our delegates. Our major products

Dolores Del Rio and Cedric Gibbons

MISS DEL RIO TO WED NEXT WEDNESDAY

Actress and Art Director Have Not Decided Hour or Place of Ceremony

Dolores Del Rio, Mexican motion-picture actress, yesterday announced she and Cedric Gibbons, art director in films, will be married next Wednesday. The wedding will climax a romance of three months.

Although their friends in the film capital were aware they were good friends, Miss Del Rio's announcement of yesterday took them by complete surprise as she had oft repeated she would never marry again.

The time and the place for the ceremony have not been decided by the couple nor have they made plans for their honeymoon. It is probable they will file their notice of intention at the local bureau tomorrow.

"It makes me very happy to announce that we will be married on next Wednesday," was Miss Del Rio's only comment yesterday. Miss Del Rio was formerly married to Jaime Martinez Del Rio, author and playwright who died in Berlin, Germany, a short time after Miss Del Rio divorced him in Mexico.

Four years ago Gibbons and Gwendoline Weller, society girl of New York, were divorced. Gibbons for twelve years has been head of the art department of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios and is responsible for all of the company's screen settings.

At present Miss Del Rio is under contract at United Artists, her next picture being scheduled for production on the 28th inst. She believes she and Gibbons will be able to take a short honeymoon trip before that time.

In confirming the marriage, Gibbons said he and Miss Del Rio had been engaged for a month. They at first had planned to wed secretly and let their friends in on it later, but changed their minds yesterday when they made public announcement of the coming event.

Miss Del Rio rose to screen fame

MIDGET GOLFING OWNERS UNITE

Association Organized by Course Proprietors

Group to Seek Sources of Curfew Advocates

Sane Regulation Wanted if Council Must Act

A mobilization of interests favorable to miniature golf was begun yesterday with formation of Associated Golf Course Owners out of two recently formed organizations known as Golf Course Owners' Association and Miniature Golf Owners' Association.

The new organization directed its governing committee, at the instance of Jess E. Stephens, formerly City Attorney, to ascertain who are the foes of miniature golf, what they wish and then work to effect an agreement between them and course owners so that the City Council may do a reasonable thing, if it must regulate them instead of going after them in a haphazard manner.

OPPOSE CURFEW

The conferees yesterday opposed the proposed ordinance to close all such courses at midnight, pointing out that many courses are in isolated places where they may operate any hour without disturbing anybody.

"We are new at this business," said one speaker, "and we wish to co-operate with the neighborhood in which we operate. But how can anyone lay down a general rule for all?"

"I think," said another, "that some of these folks went by a course one time heard some young folks laughing and having a good time and said to themselves 'Well, it must be wicked, let's stop it!'"

WOULD TONE SPEAKERS

It was admitted by many of the course operators that loud speakers hurling broadsides of radio throughout their neighborhoods are responsible for much of the opposition and the opinion was expressed and repeatedly from the floor by various speakers that if the operators would tone down this nuisance much of the opposition would disappear.

J. Gordon Key was made president of the new organization, H. G. McCausland, vice-president; Philip Racine, treasurer; M. J. Hall, secretary; Preston F. Ward and B. J. Barnett, managers. They have headquarters at 351 South Vermont avenue.

PORT TRADE HEALTHY IN LAST MONTH

Customs Figures Give Indication of Increase This Year Over Last

There is favorable indication that the business of the port of Los Angeles in the current fiscal year will exceed that of the fiscal year of 1929-30, Collector Schwaebe yesterday predicted. Last month the total was near $15,000,000.

Particularly encouraging were the figures showing trade with Hawaii. Shipments from Los Angeles to the islands last July were valued at $815,000, compared with $601,316 in July, 1929.

During July, too, the business of Los Angeles customs district, which no longer embraces San Diego, totaled 2,314,619 tons, valued at $87,786,565.

Imports for July were valued at $4,700,000, and exports at $10,500,000. Collections for the month were $550,000.

"Everything considered the figures for July prove the port is growing by leaps and bounds," said Collector Schwaebe. "It is destined to become one of the greatest of American ports, and certainly the leading port of the Pacific Coast."

During July the lumber receipts were 74,929,000 board feet, and oil shipments aggregated 10,240,175 barrels.

In July there arrived at the port 785 commercial vessels of 2,048,886 net tonnage. Commercial ships departing numbered 791 of 2,037,184 net tonnage. Of the arrivals 651 were American, forty-two British, thirty-one Japanese, twenty-two Norwegian, six German, six Danish, six Swedish, five French, five Mexican, four Dutch, two Italian, two Panaman, and three Belgian.

AIR FILM PIRACY CHARGED

'Journey's End' Producers Seek to Bar 'Dawn Patrol;' Suit Similar to 'Hell's Angels' Action

Charging that the producers of the motion picture "The Dawn Patrol," used "substantial portions" of the picture "Journey's End," suit for an injunction to prevent further exhibition was filed in United States District Court yesterday by Gainsborough Pictures, Ltd., Welsh, Pearson & Elder, Ltd., and R. C. Sherriff, against First National Pictures, Inc., Warner Brothers, and various subsidiary companies and numerous individuals. Infringements of a copyright is charged.

It is charged in the complaint that the play, "Journey's End," was written and copyrighted by R. C. Sherriff and that rights to the picture were assigned to Gainsborough Pictures, Ltd., Welsh, Pearson & Elder, Ltd., and was subsequently produced and shown in various States. It is asserted by attorney for the plaintiffs, that "The Dawn Patrol" was released and presented in various States, and that it contained many of the important parts of "Journey's End," and of "Hell's Angels," and that the producers of "The Dawn Patrol" also "pirated" portions of the book, "War Birds."

It is asserted that "Journey's End" is valued at more than $2,000,000. An affidavit was filed in court by Joseph Moncure March, writer of continuity for "Journey's End," in which he states that there are sequences in "The Dawn Patrol," similar in many instances to "Journey's End."

An order to show cause why an injunction should not be issued against the defendants was granted by United States District Judge James, returnable before Judge Cosgrave on Monday. A similar order was issued with respect to the suit brought by the Caddo Film Company against the same defendants, relating to "Hell's Angels."

WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS WILL BUILD

Brunswig Company Plans Five-Story Structure on Second Near Central

Announcement that the Brunswig Drug Company will begin construction work within ninety days on a five-story building 250 by 150 feet and costing approximately $780,000 was made yesterday by Lucien N. Brunswig, president and owner of the company.

The structure will rise on a site the company recently purchased on Second street extending from San Pedro street to Central avenue. The site fronts 200 feet on Second and is 220 feet deep. It was acquired within the past two months from the Arthur Letis estate.

Erection of the building is necessitated by the extension and widening of Spring street through to Sunset Boulevard, four buildings now owned by the company to be razed for this improvement. General offices of the drug company will remain in the building they now occupy and the new structure will house the manufacturing department and laboratory.

The Brunswig Drug Company was established in Los Angeles forty-three years ago when the city's population was 30,000. The move to the Second-street location will be the first the concern has made from the Main-street area in that time. The company engages in the wholesale drug business and also manufactures complete equipment for drug stores, including show cases and soda fountain equipment. Products of the concern are shipped throughout the Southwest and to China, Japan and the Philippines.

Four buildings of the company to be razed for the Spring-street opening include that housing the company's show case and soda fountain manufacturing department, the repair factory, a five-story laboratory building and a garage.

Bathing Pools to be Reopened

Municipal swimming pools, closed since July 9 as a precautionary measure against infantile paralysis, will be opened to the public today, according to announcement made by Playground and Recreation Department officials. Ten plunges and beach bath-houses at Sunset Pier, near Cabrillo Beach, will welcome the youthful swimmers again. All plunges with the exception of Griffith and Central Park pools have been closed and swimmers under 15 years of age have been barred.

Swimming classes for girls from 6 to 18 years of age will start Monday at the Y.W.C.A. plunge, 941 South Figueroa street, following the lifting of the ban.

JERSEY PICNIC TOMORROW

President C. Newton Miller has called New Jerseyites for a picnic reunion tomorrow in Elysian Park at the Sunset side. All Jersey folks are invited.

THERMOMETER EXCEEDS 90 THIRD DAY OF WAVE

July went out yesterday in a flurry of heat as the thermometer for the third consecutive day registered a maximum above 90 deg. August will be ushered in today by cloudy weather and with thunder storms in the mountains, according to the Weather Bureau. Temperatures above the normal will continue, officials predict.

At noon yesterday the mercury reached 95 deg., the maximum of the day. The lowest record was during the early morning hours when 77 deg. was reached. At 5 a.m., the temperature had started to rise and 79 deg. was registered. Yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock 87 deg. was indicated. Humidity of 44 per cent was recorded at the early morning reading, which was close to the lowest percentage recorded at that hour during the month. The highest temperature of the day, a year ago, was 75 deg. The month closed without precipitation, with .01 of an inch behind the normal for the month.

While the mercury has been hitting the high spots during the month the county beaches at Redondo, Manhattan, Santa Monica Canyon and Alamitos Bay entertained 1,378,533 visitors, according to a report made yesterday to Fred E. Wadsworth, county superintendent of recreation and playgrounds, by Edgar M. Carroll, chief of life guards. Actual bathers were 463,392 and 915,141 were spectators.

According to the report thirty life guards are on duty at the beaches and a twenty-four-hour service is maintained at Manhattan and Santa Monica beaches.

There have been no serious accidents as yet but hardly a day goes by without rescues being made. On one day there were twenty-one. No one has been drowned.

Beaches are provided with fire circles for wiener roasts, playgrounds for children and fresh water. The beaches are kept clean of refuse and debris, the report points out.

With all of the pomp and circumstance attendant upon any full-grown circus, the Traveling Playground Circus, a summer feature of the Los Angeles Playground Department for the past two years, has been doing its one-night stands in the twenty-six recreation grounds throughout the city.

Last night the big circus wagon, carrying the equipment for the performance, rolled up to the Yale Playground, 929 Castelar street, the abbreviated replica of the regulation "big top" was pitched, the circus ring and platform for the ringmaster were put into place, even the familiar sawdust was not lacking and by the time the stupendous spectacle and "the g-r-reatest show on earth" was ready to start an enthusiastic neighborhood audience of approximately 2000 grown-ups and children had assembled to see the wondrous sights.

Although circus programs are not new in playground work, the traveling circus idea has not been used in any other city, according to circus directors. The equipment, in large measure, has been made by children in the various playgrounds and the children at each ground constitute the performers. The variety of the program depends upon the talent available in each district and many of the acts are entirely impromptu.

Equipment for the circus includes tent, stakes, circus ring, lighting equipment, stage coach, costumes, cosmetics, horisontal bars, tight rope stands, bucking bronco apparatus, clown paraphernalia, animals to be manned by the youngsters, freaks, magicians and jugglers. And a ringmaster, dressed in the traditional style, goes along to direct the performance. Among the acts at last night's show were tumbling, animal acts, bicycle stunts, gipsy dance, a bull fight, gymnastic stunts and a wild west show for the grand finale. A boys' and girls' harmonica band of forty pieces supplied the music.

'Doomed' Pets Get Reprieve in Suit Delay

Reprieved for one week by order of Superior Judge Hanby, who postponed trial of a suit enjoining their death, the three dogs and two cats of the late Mrs. Charles Winterman yesterday continued to enjoy their bones and milk at the veterinary hospital of Dr. C. A. White, South San Pedro street.

Miss Nancy L. White sued to prevent the carrying out of Mrs. Winterman's last wishes, directing that her surviving pets be painlessly put to death subsequent to her demise. Miss White asserted the execution of the animals would be cruel and that because the pets are valuable their death would diminish the value of the dead woman's estate.

Superior Judge Hazlett granted a temporary injunction against the death of the pets.

TOFFEE MAKER VISITS

On a tour of the country after attendance at the Rotary International convention in Chicago, J. H. Riley, governing director of Riley Brothers, toffee manufacturers, of Halifax, Eng., arrived in Los Angeles yesterday and registered at the Biltmore. Riley said that business conditions in England are depressed, but that he looks for improvement soon.

Public Works Board Head Wields Pick in Rites at Washington Street Span

With President Hugh J. McGuire of the Board of Public Works wielding a pick, and Clarence Urban, president of the Washington Boulevard Association, handling a shovel, work was officially started yesterday morning on the new Washington-street bridge over the Los Angeles River.

The ceremonies, conducted on the west abutment, were attended by several hundred property owners and by President Sanborn of the City Council; Carl A. Wirsching, vice-president of the Board of Public Works; Capt. Edgar A. Elkins of the board; Merrill Butler, engineer in charge of the bridges and viaducts division, city engineer's office; C. J. Schultz, head of designing division, and other officials.

Speakers included Urban, President McGuire, Vice-President Wirsching, Butler and President Sanborn, who, as chairman of the Bridges and Viaducts Committee of the City Council, discussed the history of the project and told of the plans for linking East Twenty-third street, from its terminus at Santa Fe avenue, with East Washington street to make a new through route to the beaches. The bridge and its approaches will connect East Twenty-third street with Soto street on the other side of the river.

The General Engineering Corporation, Ltd., is handling construction work on the new Washington-street bridge, which is scheduled for completion in about seven months. It will be 310 feet long, twenty feet high, seventy-one feet wide, with a roadway of fifty-six feet. More than 7000 square feet of concrete, a greater quantity than is used in a twelve-story building, will be utilized in building the bridge. More than 830,000 pounds of reinforcing steel, and a total of 696 concrete piles also will be used, in addition to the paving materials.

Opera Season May be Sellout

A total gross intake of $175,000 for the local opera season in the Shrine Auditorium September 29 to October 13 was predicted yesterday by Col. William Eric Fowler, chairman of the general seat sale committee, as he reported an advance sale to date of $40,000.

The first season ever presented by the Los Angeles Grand Opera Association, in 1924, grossed $58,000. Fowler expects each of the nine nights of the season to be a sellout.

The repertoire this season includes "La Boheme," "La Traviata," "Mignon," "Manon," "Tannhauser," "Salome," "Girl of the Golden West," "Cavalleria Rusticana," "Hansel and Gretel" and "Lucia."

CITY BOARDS PICK OFFICERS

Park, Fire, Building and Playground Groups Elect; Griffith Terminates Long Service

Four of the city commissions elected their officers for the ensuing year yesterday. They are the Park, Fire, Building and Safety and the Playground and Recreation commissions.

Outstanding among the election results was the termination of the long service of Van M. Griffith, son of the donor of Griffith Park, as president of the Park Commission. He has been president of the commission for the past six years.

For several years past, although there is no salary outside the meeting fee attached to the park board presidency, he has been devoting virtually all of his time to the development of the city's park program.

It was rumored before the meeting that Mayor Porter wished the presidency this year to go to Mrs. Mabel B. Socha, whose term expired July 1, last, but who was reappointed by the Mayor early this week. She was placed in nomination for the position by George H. Barnes, her nomination was unopposed and she was elected unanimously. Then Warren B. Bovard nominated Commissioner Barnes,

STEEL COMPANY TO ERECT PLANT

Consolidated Corporation to Expand Facilities

Fifty Acres Acquired at Slauson and Eastern

Construction will Begin at Once, Opening Many Jobs

Consolidated Steel Corporation, Ltd., largest steel fabricating concern on the Pacific Coast, has acquired from the Bandini Estate Company fifty acres of land at the intersection of Slauson and Eastern avenues on which to erect a new structural steel plant, it was announced yesterday by President Waller Taylor of the steel organization.

The transaction involves one of the most important industrial real-estate deals in months, for in addition to the fifty acres already acquired, Consolidated Steel has also obtained an option on an adjoining twenty-five acres to provide for probable expansions of the corporation in future years. The amount of cash involved in the deal was not disclosed.

It was revealed by Mr. Taylor, however, that part of the purchase price on the acreage is offset by the transference to the Bandini Estate Company of that portion of the Baker Iron Works plant lying west of Broadway, the Gallagher Pontoon Deck Company plant on Avalon Boulevard, and the site of the present Union Iron Works plant in the Maywood industrial district.

"The effect of the change will be the gathering together in one place of the corporation's operations in the fabrication of structural steel and the production of Gallagher pontoon decks and bolted tanks," President Taylor said. "By this means important savings in the operations of these departments will be effected."

Demolition of that portion of the Baker plant west of Broadway, included in the transaction, is now under way and plans for the new structural fabricating shop and Gallagher plant on the new site are being drawn preparatory to moving these operations to the new property. Construction work is to begin immediately, Mr. Taylor stated, and will give employment to a large number of men. All the material in the present Union Iron plant will be salvaged and removed to the new site, where it will be incorporated in the mammoth new buildings soon to arise.

HOUCK OUT OF RACE FOR SUPERVISOR

Ex-Mayor of Culver City Says Business Forces Him to Quit in Fourth District

Reve E. Houck, former Mayor of Culver City, yesterday announced his withdrawal from the race for Supervisor of Los Angeles county in the Fourth District.

In a letter to the press the candidate declares:

"After due consideration and realizing the effect on my personal business, I feel that it will be impossible to carry on an extensive campaign at this time. While I have been besieged by a host of supporters, I feel that my first duty is to my home and my business.

"I am taking this method of not only thanking my numerous friends for their wonderful expressions of confidence in me, but at the same time notifying them of my withdrawal from the race for Supervisor in the Fourth District."

Five candidates are still in the race. They are J. C. Barthel, Raymond V. Darby, Lawrence McLean, Robert C. Ramage and John R. Quinn, the latter the incumbent, who was appointed by Gov. Young to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Supervisor McClellan last spring.

COUNCIL ABANDONS IMPROVEMENT MOVE

The City Council yesterday adopted ordinances abandoning the proceedings for the improvement of Curson avenue between Melrose avenue and Beverly Boulevard and for the improvement of Victoria avenue between Fifty-second street and Slauson avenue.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THE present problem of the Thomas J. Mooney case seems to be this: When is a liar telling the truth?

DESERT HEAT

The weather man says that this heat just came wafting in off the desert. In the circumstances I shudder to think what it must be like in the desert.

I recall one such summer as this in the desert—in the earlier days of Imperial Valley. A band of Cocopah Indians was working on a river bank that had gone wild.

There was an enterprising Jewish merchant in the town who had just pulled off a stroke of business. At an auction he had bid in for next to nothing some double-breasted red flannel shirts—bright scarlet. They had been manufactured for the Alaska trade and the manufacturer had been stuck. With considerable practical psychology and a great understanding of Indian nature the merchant brought down his fiery shirts and the Indians fell over one another in their eagerness to buy them.

All through that terrible summer the Cocopah bucks worked in the blazing sun in Alaska double-breasted underwear—worn outside, of course, where it would show.

FORTUNES IN FISH

This summer is turning out to be the greatest clean-up in the history of commercial fishing, here or anywhere else.

The Portuguese fishermen of San Pedro are getting rich; they are, by nature, shrewd business men, anyhow.

I know of one boat where the crew averages $800 each for a short voyage of a few days. Every member of the crew of one of the fishing ships owns an automobile. Their little shacks are giving way to fine houses.

IMPROVED METHODS

This sudden burst of prosperity is partly due to a miraculous run of fish; but due in larger degree to improved fishing methods.

The Japanese introduced the plan of carrying live bait to the tuna banks some years ago. Their crude practices have been improved by modern engineering methods. There is still a problem to be solved—which is to devise a tank in which live-bait fish can be made to live for a long period of time.

Mechanical refrigeration makes it possible for fishing vessels to make long voyages. These voyages are only limited in length by the fact that they can't keep the minnows alive.

THE FISHING MASSACRE

Like other ways of making "quick money," this El Dorado can't last very long. The world's supply of fish cannot possibly resist these raids. Scientists have outguessed the fish, but, after all the fish have the last word. They can die and fool them.

DOPE STORY HIT BY MARY NOLAN

Picture Actress Denies She Ever Used Drugs

Narcotic Agent Withholds Action on Warrants

She Quickly Leaves Hospital After Officer's Visit

Sweeping denials of charges that she is a narcotic addict were made last night by Mary Nolan, film actress, in reply to accusations made in sworn affidavits placed before United States Commissioner Head by two trained nurses.

The actress, who figured in a series of sensational escapades as Imogene Wilson, Follies show girl, declared that she is the victim of an attempted plot to besmirch her reputation and that she has never been a user of drugs. She characterized the sworn statements of the two nurses who attended her for two weeks during a recent illness as without foundation of any kind.

In branding the affidavits, on which search warrants were issued, as a part of a plot to shatter her reputation, Miss Nolan announced that she had conferred earlier in the afternoon with Frederick W. Beetson, secretary and treasurer of the Motion Picture Producers' Association, of which Will Hays is president, Louis B. Mayer and Joseph Schenck, prominent producers, and had placed the entire situation in their hands.

NOTHING TO HIDE

"I conferred with Mr. Beetson, and the other film chieftains just as soon as I heard of the filing of the affidavits and the search warrants and they advised me to make the whole matter public," Miss Nolan said.

"I have nothing to hide, and action will be taken against the two nurses who have attempted to blast my name by these false accusations. I have never used narcotics in my life, and Mr. Beetson, through the Will Hays organization, will see that these people responsible for this outrage shall not go unpunished," the actress declared in speaking from her apartment at the Roosevelt Hotel.

Affirmation of the statement of Miss Nolan that she is not an addict also was made yesterday by V. H. De Spain, Federal narcotic agent, who asked for search warrants on the affidavits of the nurses, but after an investigation declined to serve the documents.

WARRANT HELD UP

De Spain based his belief, he said, on a cursory examination of the actress made in a hospital where she had gone for treatment for sunburn and to arrange for a major operation. As a result of this examination and questioning of the actress De Spain said that no action will be taken on the warrants at this time.

Police records show that information charging Miss Nolan with addiction was given first to Detective Lieutenants Yoakum and Powell of the police narcotic detail by Miss Carolyn Clarke, 726 North Van Ness avenue, and Miss Claire Anderson, 5010 West Norton avenue, trained nurses. The latter later prepared affidavits and filed them with Commissioner Head, the documents setting forth that the deponents had been employed by Miss Nolan and that they had assisted her in preparing narcotics for use and had witnessed her administering them to herself. Search warrants accordingly were issued providing for search of the apartments where Miss Nolan resides, a beach club at Santa Monica and a dressing-room bungalow on the studio lot where she is employed.

Miss Anderson, one of the nurses who attended Miss Nolan and made one of the affidavits now in the hands of the authorities, reiterated her accusations last night, and branded the denial of the actress as a fabrication.

"As far as I am concerned," said Miss Anderson, "I am a trained nurse and know what I am talking about."

OPERATION DELAYED

Before executing the warrants, however, Investigator De Spain went yesterday to St. Vincent's Hospital, where Miss Nolan was located, she having made arrangements to undergo an operation there. De Spain said he made a casual examination in an effort to determine the extent of Miss Nolan's asserted addiction and that it had virtually convinced him the charges are unfounded.

Following the visit of the Federal agent and a matron, Miss Nolan departed the hospital and canceled arrangements for the proposed major operation. She said that she is only postponing the surgeon's knife as she expects to start work today at 2 p.m. on a new talking picture.

The escapades in which Miss Nolan figured as Imogene Wilson, the show girl, took place in New York several years ago, following a romance with Frank Tinney, blackface comedian. Two years ago, Miss Nolan came to Hollywood and entered pictures after changing her name.

PIONEER'S RITES TO BE TOMORROW

Mrs. Cummings Was Direct Descendant of Man Who Built San Gabriel Mission

Funeral services for Mrs. Maria Sacramenta Lopez Cummings, 80 years of age, member of one of California's oldest families, who died last Wednesday, will be conducted at 9 a.m. tomorrow in St. Paul's Church, 4112 West Washington street. Burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Mrs. Cummings, mother of Frank Cummings, chief clerk in the District Attorney's office, had lived in Los Angeles all her life.

Her great grandfather, Claudio Lopez, built San Gabriel Mission under commission of the King of Spain. Her grandfather, Francisco Lopez, is credited by a majority of historians as having been the first discoverer of gold in California.

Mrs. Cummings, whose Los Angeles address is 3604 Second avenue, was the great aunt of Eugene Biscailuz, former undersheriff and now chief of the State highway patrol. It had been her custom each summer to spend a few months on the 5000-acre ranch near Tehachapi. She had been an invalid for two and a half years.

She leaves five sons, Frank, Edward, Albert, Clarence and George; a daughter, Mrs. Ferd Snyder, Jr., and a sister, Mrs. Francisca De Bilderrain.

WOMAN'S HEARING SET IN FIRE DEATH

Held pending investigation of her daughter's death by burning, Mrs. Jennie Davidson, 72 years of age, yesterday was arraigned in psychopathic court. Superior Judge Guerin set a hearing on the woman's case for Monday. Mrs. Davidson's daughter, Bertie Davidson, a music teacher, was burned to death in a fire of unexplained origin in their home, 905 Rose avenue, Long Beach, on July 24, last. Investigators reported finding kerosene containers near the bed in which the music teacher was burned.

Fatal Fist Fight Outcome of Few Profane Words

Son of Woman Who Heard Them Held as Slayer

Autopsy Shows that Victim Died of Heart Attack

A few hours after Robert Hoffman, 27 years of age, of Maywood, had been charged with murder for the death of Clarence Newlin, 35, assertedly killed in a drunken fight early yesterday, the Coroner announced that Newlin's death was caused by a heart attack. This was established by an autopsy, according to official announcement.

Whether this stroke was induced by excitement or overexertion in the battle is a question yet to be determined. The inquest will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. today, at which time a half-dozen or more persons who witnessed the fight are expected to testify. Among the witnesses will be the 19-year-old son of Newlin, who lived at 3621 East Sixty-first Place, Huntington Park.

PARENTS' STORY

According to Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hoffman, parents of the asserted slayer, Newlin and their son had been drinking earlier in the evening and became involved in an argument at the Hoffman home. During the resultant quarrel, the mother said, Newlin used profane language in her presence and her son demanded an apology. When this was not forthcoming young Hoffman suggested that they step outside and "fight it out" with their fists.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hoffman attempted to separate the combatants as they rolled over and over on the ground, they said, and succeeded after several minutes. Young Hoffman then entered the house and went to bed while Newlin, badly beaten and bleeding profusely about the head, drove away in his car.

FOUND IN CAR

A few minutes later he was found slumped down in his machine, a few blocks from the scene of the fight, by Mr. and Mrs. James Vale of 4106 East Fifty-second street. Newlin was unconscious, Vale said, and police were notified. They took the victim to the Corby Hospital at Bell, where he died within a few minutes. Deputy sheriffs found young Hoffman asleep at his home and arrested him on a charge of murder.

Newlin's death is believed to have been caused by his head striking on a concrete pavement, when he was thrown or knocked down by his adversary. He was married and had a 18-year-old son. He lived at 3621 East Sixty-first Place, Huntington Park.

Briegleb will Undergo Knife in East Today

Word was received in Los Angeles last night that Rev. Gustav A. Briegleb, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, is to be operated on this morning in Presbyterian Hospital at Chicago, where he went to deliver the graduating address before the Moody Bible Institute.

The operation, a representative in Los Angeles said last night, is not considered serious, and is an aftermath of an operation the clergyman underwent a year ago in Los Angeles for appendicitis.

As it is expected the clergyman will be compelled to remain in the hospital perhaps two weeks, his vacation schedule will of necessity be greatly curtailed, and he may return to Los Angeles directly from Chicago, instead of going on to New York and New Orleans as originally planned.

AMUSEMENT FEDERATION BACKS FITTS

Northern Sentiment said to be Increasingly in District Attorney's Favor

Additional strength was added to Buron Fitts's candidacy yesterday with the indorsement of the Federated Voters of the Los Angeles Amusement Organizations. In a letter from T. H. Eckerson, secretary-treasurer, Fitts was notified that members of the organization have not only indorsed him, but will make every effort to see that his campaign is a successful one.

Mrs. Ruth W. McNary, trustee of the W.C.T.U. Rome at Eagle Rock, has also entered the list on the side of Fitts.

Another personal indorsement has been received from Harold Starr, past Adjutant of the All Veterans' League. Starr, who presided at the recent giant public rally at the Olympic Auditorium attended by the various gubernatorial candidates, declared that the reception accorded Fitts there convinced him that Southern California is heart and soul behind the Los Angeles candidate.

From Northern California comes news that on Wednesday night while Fitts was addressing an enthusiastic meeting of 500 Shasta county citizens in Redding's civic auditorium, supporters of Young put on a dinner as a rival affair which dinner was attended by forty-eight people. The dinner was addressed by Harry Ensell, attorney for the State Highway Commission. While Ensell was lauding the road-building program of the administration, Fitts was charging that the votes are being bought by Young with roads paid for by the people's money.

An enthusiastic wave of Fitts sentiment is sweeping through Northern California, according to his supporters in that section of the State. Successful meetings were held at Yreka and Dunsmuir yesterday. Fitts is opening the eyes of the voters who now refuse to accept at face value the claims of the administration that the affairs of the State are being conducted in a business-like manner.

Today Mrs. Thomas Austin, prominent club woman of Pasadena, will deliver a radio address in behalf of Fitts over KMPC by remote control from Griffith Studios, 1126 Hacienda Place, Hollywood, at 11:45 a.m. W. Turney Fox, former City Attorney of Glendale, will broadcast over Station KELW at 6 p.m.

His broadcasting work over the National Broadcasting Company chain won him notice of newspaper critics and radio editors. He is the author of several books on social and political problems of India.

JAIL SENTENCE FACED IN HEDGE-AND-SIGN ROW

Mrs. Margaret A. Palmer, 65-year-old resident of West Hollywood, faces a term in jail for contempt for failure to comply with a court order to trim a hedge of castor-bean trees and remove obnoxious signs from her property, Superior Judge Hanby warned her yesterday when he gave her five days to obey the order.

Default judgment was entered against Mrs. Palmer a few days ago when she failed to appear in Superior Judge McComb's court after being summoned. She explained that she mailed the summons to her attorney and assumed he would attend to the matter for her.

Mrs. Palmer was sued by Bernard J. and Elia Fahey, her next-door neighbors, who asserted she permitted her castor-bean hedge to grow more than five feet in height, in violation of a deed restriction, and demanded $300 damages for their work in grubbing up the young castor-bean plants that sprouted from beans falling on their lawn. The objectionable sign read: "No vandalism, sneaking, snooping or peeking allowed."

The Faheys declared there was not only no justification for the sign, but that it interfered with a sale of their property, prospective purchasers not desiring to live near a neighbor who would post such signs.

Other Communists Testify on February Rioting

Precautions Ordered Today to Prevent Trouble

Frank Spector, Communist leader, went to the Plaza on February 26 to fight, he admitted on the witness stand yesterday in Municipal Judge Willis's court, where he and other Reds are on trial for offenses committed during the February 26 rioting.

Spector told his story of the fight with police officers, and then, on cross-examination by Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday, admitted his purpose in going to the Plaza, said that he did not see Police Officer Hayes strike anyone, and admitted that he himself held the officer on the ground and struck him. He fled when Officer Pfeiffer threatened to shoot him if he struck Hayes again, witnesses said.

Spector, who is serving a San Quentin prison sentence for criminal syndicalism, denied that he was convicted of a felony.

"I do not recognize such capitalistic laws," he told Hornaday.

Several other defendants, as well as additional defense witnesses, all of whom admitted they are Communist sympathizers, were called to the stand during the day. Members of the Police Commission, also called as defense witnesses, reiterated the stand they stated in previous Red trials against Communist dictrines and meetings.

Special precautions will be taken in court today, Hornaday said last night, to prevent any interference with the trial by Communists who are expected to demonstrate a "Red day" today. Spector and Karl Sklar, who are on trial, are Communist leaders in Southern California. Posters and stickers advertising the demonstrations scheduled for today were pasted up outside the courtroom yesterday by Red sympathizers while the court was in session.

OESTERREICH CASE IN SNA

Woman Witness Refuses to Come from Milwauk for Trial of Widow Beginning Monday

New complications yesterday hampered the District Attorney's s in preparation for the trial of Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, charged the murder of her husband, Fred Oesterreich, on August 22, 1922.

The latest difficulty, according to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Costello, assigned to the case, is the refusal of Mrs. Alvie Judkins, important prosecution witness, to come to Los Angeles as a witness at the trial in Superior Judge Hardy's court scheduled for Monday. Costello but recently returned from Milwaukee, where he interviewed the witness and obtained her promise to appear in court.

Since that time, however, Mrs. Judkins has received an anonymous threatening letter, Costello said, and upon the advice of her attorney declines to come to California as a witness.

The woman was expected to give important information regarding asserted domestic difficulties between the Oesterreichs before the murder.

Other witnesses from Milwaukee who have important information on the case will appear, however, according to the prosecutor.

Otto Sanhuber, mysterious attic man, who lived in attics and secret rooms in the Oesterreich homes for ten years, was convicted of manslaughter for shooting Oesterreich but was released from custody because under the law the manslaughter charge was outlawed.

MRS. JUDKINS SAYS SHE RECEIVED NO TRAVEL FARE

MILWAUKEE, July 31. (AP)—Mrs. Alvie Judkins reported in Los Angeles to have refused to testify at the trial of Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, accused of slaying her husband, Fred Oesterreich, said tonight the only reason for her failure to appear as a witness is because Los Angeles authorities have not sent her money to make the trip.

The District Attorney's office in Los Angeles was reported as saying she refused to testify because of asserted threats against her life. Mrs. Judkins said she received a threat, but that she would testify despite it.

Statistics show 6 out of 10 have a prevalent after 40 ailment. Many needlessly so.

THE most prevalent cause of after 40 health breakdown is kidney ailment. Kidneys excrete 75% of poisonous waste from the system, much in too concentrated form. Overburdened, delicate kidney cells wear out and thus fail in their function of elimination...the beginning of many serious ills.

Over 60% past 40 are afflicted with kidney ailment, doctors say, many without knowledge of it. There are no warning symptoms and that is why medical authorities advise young and old to use this effective preventive:

Drink 6 glasses of Puritas Water (mineral-free) daily. Puritas is scientifically distilled and aerated, drinking water in its purest state.

Puritas keeps kidneys flushed, absorbs and carries off poisonous waste, thus easing their heavy burden. And, mineral-free, it leaves no mineral deposits to add further to this burden. (Sufficient minerals are furnished in fruits and vegetables.)

With each glass of Puritas, you protect health as well as quench thirst. Though Puritas tastes different at first, each drink you'll increasingly enjoy.

Good news for studios employe

it is said many employees alrea

For the past four years the com

"Because of the tremendous num

According to Warner, the com

Warners now own or control mo

AVOCADO CROP WILL BE HUGE

Bumper Quantities of Fruit Prospect in County

Gain of 1000 Per Cent Over Last Year Forecast

Farm Adviser Also Gives Good Citrus Report

Los Angeles county's avocado crop, the harvesting of which begins in November and December, will be a bumper one, an increase of 1000 per cent over the last, according to experts in the industry.

"There is every indication that the coming crop, known among growers as the 1931 crop, will be exceptionally heavy this year," says M. B. Rounds, county farm adviser. "In fact, growers are predicting it will run 1000 per cent heavier than the last."

MARKETING PROBLEM

Already there is considerable discussion among the producers on the problem of where to market such a heavy quantity of the fruit.

Picking of the 1931 crop will begin in November and December and run well into the winter.

There is also to be a heavy crop of citrus fruits in Los Angeles county this year, according to Rounds, particularly in those groves where watering has been resorted to during the recent heated spell.

WALNUT PROSPECTS

The crop of walnuts, the farm adviser declares, will not be as heavy this year due to an unsatisfactory winter season earlier in the year. The nuts did not get a sufficient amount of frost, he said.

At the present time government farm experts and those connected with the local advisory department are making a study of tomato yellows, a disease that attacks and wilts tomato vines, which has made its appearance in Los Angeles county. It is caused largely by the lack of fog, the experts say.

JURY FAILS TO AGREE ON BABY DEATH

Parents Asked $25,000, Blaming Heating Device Used in Hospital

A jury in Superior Judge Thompson's court yesterday was dismissed after disagreeing on a verdict in the $25,000 damage suit for the death of the infant of John T. and Louise Keirns, on a heating table in the California Lutheran Hospital.

According to the foreman, the jury stood seven to five, but it was not stated how the majority voted. The plaintiffs asserted that the infant died as the result of overheating of the table on which it lay after a Caesarian operation. Physicians testifying for the hospital declared it is impossible to heat the table hotter than 118 deg. Fahrenheit, which, it was contended, is not a fatal temperature.

A Coroner's jury exonerated the hospital shortly after the infant died, holding its death an unavoidable accident.

EX-OFFICER RELEASED IN THEFT CASE

Prosecutor Unable to Link Former Constable to "Charge Fixing"

Grand theft charges against Harry Amend, former Inglewood constable, were dismissed yesterday by Municipal Judge Turney at the conclusion of his preliminary hearing. Two co-defendants, J. C. Campiglia and Carl Hitz, were held for Superior Court trial on the charge. On motion of their attorney, Lester Hardy, they were released without bail pending trial.

The trio was accused by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Coleman of accepting $500 from Mrs. Fern Strauss, 1231 South Olive street, to "fix" a drunk driving charge against her son, Norman Strauss. Evidence at the hearing showed that Strauss's bail was forfeited when he failed to appear for preliminary hearing on the charge, but that the court failed to issue a warrant for his arrest. The charge is still pending against him, according to court records.

Coleman was unable to establish Amend's connection with the asserted "shakedown."

Amend was also arraigned before Municipal Judge Ballard yesterday on a complaint charging him with ten counts of allowing prisoners to escape, filed against him the day before by the District Attorney's office. He was released without bail pending the preliminary hearing, which the court set for the 28th inst.

Divorce Plea Blames Golf 'Widowhood'

Mrs. Jessie R. Harda might as well be a divorce court widow as a golf widow, she testified in Superior Judge Archbald's court yesterday, where she appeared seeking alimony, following filing of complaints by herself and husband, Wendell F. Harda, in which each accuses the other of habitual intemperance.

Mrs. Harda declared that her husband played golf every Saturday and Sunday and four or five afternoons during the week. She said he spent all his money on golf, and had a set of clubs costing $500.

Harda attempted to show that his family paid his club dues, and Mrs. Harda retorted with the observation that she would admit that fact; she was sometimes led to believe she had married her husband's family as well as him.

Judge Archbald ordered Harda, a San Pedro real-estate broker, to pay his wife $50 a week.

Today's Bible Text

If ye then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God. Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth.—Col. iii, 1-2.

SUCKER WHISKY

Commissioner Doran says that bootleggers are riding about in custom-built limousines because the country has people who are willing to pay $10 for 15-cents worth of sucker whisky. This is something for these birds to roll in their cigarettes as smoke.

POKER

Benjamin Novak, Boston, won $650 in a poker game and the Massachusetts Supreme Court felt so badly about it that it invoked an old law passed in 1740 and brought in a decision by which the gambler forfeited the 650 bucks and was assessed a fine for as much again.

BETTER ABROAD

Nevada sends 232,000 sheep out into other States to graze and in turn other States send 316,000 sheep into Nevada for the same purposes. However, thousands of Americans go to Europe each year and thousands of Europeans come to America to gaze and graze. There seems to be a good deal of mutton in msh.

FRISCO TABOO

San Francisco is all "het up" over folks calling her "Frisco." She wants full name or nothing. So the California Order of Native Sons placarded the Bay City with this legend: "This city's name is San Francisco, not Frisco." When some one calls Los Angeles "Los" we know how the San Franciscans feel about "Frisco". We resent anyone feeling loss over us just as the San Franciscan feels about being frisked.

BEARDS BACK

Beards are to come back. Foliage on the face is appearing among the younger set in London. Young fellows from Cambridge and Oxford are cultivating Van Dykes and "Hanging Gardens of Babylon." What Paris does, the women over the world do in dress. But London sets the styles for men—even in America. A cascade of whiskers flowing down over the personality is a distinctive feature of the male. The return of long dresses may have something to do with it. As woman seeks to be more feminine, man is likely to become masculine. The sexes are drawing apart. Some think that while the maid expresses aversion for whiskers, she secretly admires them. Whatever the cause, it promises to be a good year for alfalfa.

PORTLAND'S LOW RATES

Rates which, on the average, are declared to be lower for electricity than are enjoyed by all but two of the large cities of the country, go into effect in Portland, Or., in a few days. Portland is supplied exclusively by companies under private ownership, which have the advantage of abundant water power and of cheap fuel for their stand-by plants and which can thus supply electricity at rates less than exist in Los Angeles, San Francisco or Seattle, pay the taxes which municipally owned plants are exempt from, and still return a profit to stockholders. They pay, of course, no tribute to politics and can devote their time exclusively to efficiency, economy and good service.

The two cities lower than Portland are Buffalo and Tacoma—the former having that ideal power supply, Niagara, the latter a municipal plant which has had to be helped out by the United States Navy when there was a water shortage. Tacoma's rates are low because her plant has no stand-by for emergency use and because her power resources are close at hand, making transmission costs negligible. A private company would be expected and required to build a plant adequate to contingencies, but a municipal plant is protected by politics and by lack of public regulation and allowed to get by. Besides, it pays no taxes.

Portland's low rates, while established by the Oregon Public Service Commission, were ordered in the case of one company only and were promptly concurred in by the other which serves the city. They will take a good deal of explaining away on the part of those who contend that low rates can only be had through municipal ownership and that public regulation is of small avail.

FIRING ON CHINESE REDS

Action of the United States gunboat Palos in returning the fire of Chinese Communists near Changsha, on the Siang River, can hardly fail to have the entire support of the State and Navy departments, which also must approve any further punitive measures made necessary by the circumstances. It goes without saying that the American naval forces in China should go to extreme lengths to avoid being embroiled in Chinese shore quarrels, and the fact that they have succeeded for years in keeping out of the Chinese mess, though constantly patrolling the rivers for the protection of American lives and property, is proof enough that the action by the Palos was warranted.

If the Palos had not returned the fire of the revolutionaries, silenced it and driven them off, similar attacks upon other American vessels doubtless would have followed and might have led to serious consequences. It is to be hoped that the Red forces have learned enough from the incident to avoid similar clashes in the future, letting American gunboats severely alone.

How much genuine Communism there may be in this Changsha affair and how much it is a looting expedition with banditry as its aim, it is difficult to tell from the dispatches. That it was inspired and organized by Russian soviet agents is of course entirely probable. It is also probable that no one concerned but the soviet agents has any conception of the teachings of Karl Marx. This was the case in the short-lived Red revolt in Canton, which was quickly extinguished by the forces of Chiang Kai-Shek—its animus was plunder and it fell to pieces as soon as the looting ceased to be good. To proclaim a "soviet republic" in Changsha would not be a difficult task, but to establish one might be more intricate.

With such domestic affairs, of course, the United States officially has no concern, except to hope that the revolutionary spirit may soon wear itself out and permit the establishment of a stable government. At present that seems a long way off—as delayed in fact as the disintegration of China which has been so freely predicted for the past dozen years or more. With all its troubles, China seems somehow to hang together in a sort of fashion, giving hope that the centrifugal tendencies will not be as strong as its cohesion and that some order will result from chaos some time.

In the meantime, it is necessary to safeguard American interests as well as that can conveniently be done, using such methods as are appropriate to the circumstances. To violence there is customarily no reply but violence, and when American ships are wantonly attacked they must defend themselves in kind. This is all the gunboat Palos seems to have done and there is no reason why the affair needs to lead to international complications, unless there is more in it than appears from the dispatches.

The developments need to be watched closely, of course.

BOWL SYMPHONIES

The ninth annual season of our world-famous "Symphonies Under the Stars" in the great open-air amphitheater at Hollywood now starts on its second half. So far it has achieved a record both for attendance and appreciation on the part of the public and for the high standard of the music selected and presented by the performers. There is every evidence that the month of August will duplicate the successes attained in the month of July.

On the last day of July a special concert was offered to mark the two hundred and seventy-fifth performance of the Symphony Orchestra in the Hollywood Bowl. The size and enthusiasm of the audience that gathered to listen to this extremely classical program were a striking tribute to the achievement of these 275 Bowl symphonies in educating our people to high musical standards and teaching them to appreciate the best works of the leading composers, both ancient and modern.

Through the rest of the season the same high-class rating will be maintained, famous soloists and conductors both native and foreign having been secured. Composers whose works will be presented include Beethoven, Mendelssohn, Rossini, Haydn, Wagoner, Verdi, Tschaikowsky and moderns still in the making.

Every year the Bowl has to increase its accommodations for the constantly increasing crowds. This season its parking station has been considerably enlarged and additional lots secured in close proximity. If Los Angeles needed a yardstick by which to measure the culture of its citizens, it could ask for no better one than the success of our Hollywood Bowl symphony concerts.

THE ANNUAL SNEEZE

Hay fever is mostly hearsay in the West. Los Angeles and Seattle are almost free from the ragweed pollen which is largely blamed for the annual sneeze of the East.

O. C. Durham, industrial botanist of Indianapolis, has made research of all sections of the country and estimates that 1,000,000 tons of that variety of pollen are responsible for the great discomfiture of the summertime east of the Rocky Mountains.

Sometimes we are spiteful toward the wild oats of this section. It springs up like wildfire in the springtime and then dies down as swiftly in the blistering summer sun. It leaves a fertile field for grass fires and seems to serve no useful purpose, but to menace the community. But at least it chokes out the ragweed. The ragweed does not stand much of a chance with it in the vacant lot.

The obvious conclusion, which the learned botanist does not reach, is that folks should come to California. They should come to California in the wintertime to escape the blizzards and freeze-ups. They should come in the summertime to keep from blowing their heads off in the annual sneeze. Having done both they might as well live here the year 'round and save car fare.

There is little if anything to be sneezed at on the Pacific Coast. You quit sneezing when you reach El Paso or Albuquerque and forget that you ever sneezed until you entrain in the autumn and begin to shuttle down the Great Plains into the Mississippi Valley again.

Maybe sometimes some one will discover why ragweed was created. Up to the present time, lack of information keeps it under the ban. One worthy notion is that ragweed was created to drive folks to California. After your radiator has frozen up with your toes in wintertime and you have thawed out the pipes with hot water, and after you have shoveled coal for six months down in the cellar mine and you get your flannels off, then comes the gentle ragweed. It sneaks into all the vacant lots and pre-empts the entire farm and city spaces. It is nature's command to take Horace Greeley's advice. And make it snappy!

SHIPBUILDING

The recent statement of Third Assistant Postmaster-General Glover that American ships building or for which plans are well advanced are fifty-six in number and will cost more than $300,000,000 is enforced by another statement by the Panama Mail Steamship Company to the effect that steamship companies operating from Pacific Coast ports have a $75,000,000 building program under way, the amount representing ships actually under construction or for which plans and specifications are in the hands of shipyards.

This indicates such a revival of the American merchant marine as the Jones-White shipping law was designed to bring about. The local port will get full advantage of this activity and it is expected several vessels will be built here, if not the major part of the Pacific Coast tonnage.

Much propaganda is being put out by foreign shipowners to the effect that this American building is unnecessary and merely will force cut-throat competition on the part of other shipping nations. The sea, they assert, has already all the tonnage it needs. Yet foreign shipyards are busy, and it was noted recently that virtually all vessels leaving Los Angeles Harbor are loaded to capacity. If there is so much business during a time of depression, what will shippers do for cargo space in the coming revival?

WHEN THE PEOPLE SPEAK

The recall of Detroit's Mayor does not seem to carry out the contention of the wets that a majority of the people want wide-open conditions and the attendant vice and crime.

LEE SIDE O' L.A.
By Lee Shippey

"VACATIONS," declared Mr. Skinner, "are the bunk. You go away to places no more interesting than those all around you and pay six prices for accommodations and food not as good as you can get at home and come home all tired out as well as broke."

Mrs. Skinner looked a little dismayed for a moment and Evelyn, their 17-year-old daughter, looked as if she was about to cry. But Mrs. Skinner smiled reassuringly at her and turned calmly to her husband.

"Then what are you going to do with your vacation, Flint?"

Evelyn leaned forward, but her mother gave her a warning look. And Evelyn is quite an old-fashioned girl. She pays some attention to warning looks.

"I think you're mighty wise to make that decision, Flint," declared Mrs. Skinner. "I'm so glad. You do need a real rest. And by staying home you can afford to take a longer rest. Let's make it a full month's vacation instead of just two weeks."

Skinner was pleased—and touched. Such solicitude for his purse and his physical condition convinced him that marriage wasn't such a bad thing, after all.

The Restful Vacation at Home

It was easy for Skinner to arrange to be away from the office a month instead of two weeks and he came home feeling life was pretty good.

"That office will find out that when it worries along a whole month without me it's going to miss me a lot," he prophesied. "The old man looked sort of dazed when I told him I needed a month instead of two weeks. I bet he'll be glad to see me back. I wouldn't wonder if this independence on my part is going to result in a raise before long."

"I'll bet it will, too," agreed Mrs. Skinner, with conviction. "And it's so good to have you home for keeps for a while. We're just like the office—we can't get along without you, either. Evelyn and I realized that when we started cleaning house today."

"Cleaning house!" exclaimed Skinner, with vague alarm. "I thought that was all attended to in the spring."

"It should be. But we were so occupied with other things this spring we didn't get to it. It really has to be done now, or we wouldn't feel respectable. But with you to help Evelyn and me with the heavy things it really will be fun. We'll take it easy—spread it out over a whole month."

"Oh, yes," agreed Evelyn, "it will just be fun. And what you need, daddy, is exercise."

Her dancing eyes looked as if she really meant it would be fun. Skinner found himself mumbling acquiescence.

Driven From Home—and Back

Next morning Skinner was just settling down to enjoy his paper when his wife called: "Oh, Flint, will you step here a minute?" And he had just finished the job she turned over to his "strong, capable hands" when Evelyn called: "Daddy, dear, can you help me with these curtains? We have to use a screw driver to get down the fixtures and I never could use a screw driver as a man can."

And for four days it was like that all the time. The ingenuity of those females in thinking up jobs for Skinner to do was fiendish.

The morning of the fifth day he got up at dawn and slipped out. He continued a. w. o. l. till lunch time. But he got tired of playing peewee golf and could think of nothing better and less expensive to do. A man adrift in a great city with nothing definite to do is a very helpless creature.

He had intended to lunch at a restaurant. But after paying his golf bill he decided he'd better go back where luncheon didn't cost anything. Some men, you know, go home because it costs too much to go elsewhere.

And when he got home he found four heavy rugs waiting for him. It's wonderful how patiently rugs can wait.

Skinner's Conversion

The lunch was a dandy, for Mrs. Skinner is one of the wisest women alive. She has to be, to get heavy rugs and things like that out of Skinner. And she and Evelyn were all sweet solicitude. Not pestiferous solicitude, or accusative solicitude, but sweet solicitude.

"We're surely happy to see you back, looking so well," said Mrs. Skinner. "We really were getting awfully worried. Did some sudden recollection of business drag you away from your vacation rest, dear?"

"Ahem!" said Skinner. "Well, no, not exactly that. No—er—hurrum, the fact is that this vacation theory of yours is all wrong. It isn't a rest at home—if such it may be called—that a man needs to keen him up for a fresh attack on his business. It's an absolute change of scene, of conditions. No matter what it costs, everybody ought to get into an entirely different environment at least once a year. I'm sorry I won't be able to help you with those rugs, my dear. I have to go down and see about reservations for a trip to Hawaii. We still have three weeks and two days of my vacation left and that's time enough,"

What Every Woman Has to Be

As the door closed behind him Evelyn ran to her mother and gave her an athletic hug.

"Oh, momsey, the dream of my life come true!" she cried. "With a two-week vacation we never could have made it. Mother, you're the greatest strategist in the world—even if we did have to work three times as hard as usual to keep him at it."

Mrs. Skinner straightened her hair. "Oh, no, my dear," she said. "I'm not the greatest strategist in the world. I'm just an ordinary happily married woman."

MONKEY BUSINESS

A Chicago youth has been sitting in the tree tops for some 360 hours. By this time he should have quite a strain of orang-utan in his veins.

NEVER SATISFIED
By James J. Montague

If we ever release from the atom
The power that's locked in its breast,
No more need we slave, from our birth to the grave,
With toilsome unwearying zest.
There will be a continued vacation
For the millionaire down to the clerk,
They can loll in their chairs and forget their dull cares,
For the atom will do all their work.

The farmer need not drive to market
His harvest, in many vast loads,
He will only need stand with a straw in his hand,
And watch while an atom explodes
And puff! will be whisked to the city
His wheat and his oats and his hay,
Without trouble or toil, and the atom's recoil
Will bring back the money that day.

One atom will rear a tall building
A couple will pave a long street,
And I'm told three or four, if we have a new war,
Will run all the ships in our fleet.
No more we need wear out our sinews
At a slave-driving boss's behest,
For what is the use, when an atom, let loose
Will enable the whole world to rest?

But I fear, when we're freed from our labor
And released from all forms of hard work,
We shall find by and by, as at leisure we lie
That it's frightfully irksome to work.
We shall dwell, with dismay and vexation
On our early laborious ways,
And murmur aghast, as we think of the past,
"Ah! those were the happy old days!"

HEARST AND HIS PAL

BY EUGENE BROWN

It seems that the Ancient Order of Back Numbers and the Ancient League of Human Fossils both passed eloquent resolutions in hearty approbation of W. R. Hearst and Hiram Johnson for their gallant and persistent efforts to bring about the repudiation of the London naval treaty. Outside of this indorsement the crusade of the pair went practically unrecognized and unrewarded. The battlers might just as well have been pitching horseshoes behind the barn. In fact, one of the great artists painted a picture for the shooting gallery in which the Gold Dust Twins were represented as a couple of blind men leading each other down to a big, wet ocean for the purpose of demanding the freedom of the seas.

All they did was to get their feet wet.

But really Bill is entitled to a large wad of sympathy and deserves more serious consideration.

He mustered the combined resources of his chain of newspapers and set all his high-powered writers to the task of bringing about the American rejection of the offending pact. He felt that he was going to be patriotic for once and he did not propose to have his country's right to build war cruisers impaired. If we wished to stock the Pacific with gunboats that was our business and no hireling pacifists of England could halt our plans.

Furthermore, we wanted no agreement with other nations, anyhow. Uncle Sam was in the lone-hand position and could afford to snub all other powers.

What the heck did we care for the British lion? He was a mangy and toothless brute, anyhow, according to Hearst. There were lions in Hollywood that could chew him up and hardly call it a lunch. As far as Japan was concerned the Mikado was only some one to write comic operas about.

We want no pacts, treaties or agreements with alien folk. They are really evidences of weakness. They only open the door to the League of Nations and everybody knows what that is. It is a mere round-up of hoodlums itching for a fight—in fact, Hiram's last pitiful plea was to the effect that if the pact should ever be recognized it would at once be understood that it was all off in the event of the United States connecting up with the League. This was his last feeble protest and was made just as the steam roller passed over his rebellious frame.

As for Bill Hearst he started out with a brass band and a million dollars' worth of fireworks and wound up with a penny whistle and a singed thumb. The great national movement in behalf of independent action turned out to be little better than a game of solitaire. Bill has been pointing the way in which our public affairs should be conducted for many moons. He has long aspired to shape our national policies. He insists that he is unselfish and patriotic. But the country has been justly suspicious of him and the citizens don't seem to pay any more attention to him than they would to a squirrel in a cage. He is just overlooked. He makes a lot of noise and beats many tom-toms, but the people take it as a mere gust of wind blowing through a knothole.

Bill is convinced that any alliances made by Uncle Sam—except possibly with Russia—are fraught with woe. They are monstrous to contemplate. We have a country of our own and should preserve it intact. The slogan is America for Americans—and Russians. We do not have to have commerce or contacts with peoples overseas. They are only trying to goldbrick us and take our money away. If they suggest any agreements or understandings they are for the purpose of cheating us out of our birthright. They are a confusion and a snare. Don't let Mussolini bite you.

Our statesmen may see in the London treaty the greatest step ever taken toward international disarmament and the permanent peace of the world. But Bill knows better. He sniffs out all the trickery. He sees Uncle Sam in manacles and incapable of building a canoe while other powers are defying him and going ahead with construction schedules that would prevent us from navigating any stream deeper than the Los Angeles River. They are preparing for war. Bill has always been trying to start wars and his biased mind can even see one in a peace treaty. Why he wants to stop it now is a matter for wonder. He must be getting scared.

Bill occupies the peculiar position of one who has long striven to shape and dictate the policies and affairs of government and now finds he has been talking to the wrong number.

The parade went by and he was too busy with his marbles to see it. Now he and Hiram may sit on the mourners' bench and hold hands. That is about the only sport left to them.

They were the last of the Mohicans—and rather rotten Indians at that. Now there are none so poor to do them reverence.

They are punk guessers in the game of politics.

They are usually found outside the breastworks.

Our Hiram sat on a high-board fence,
Kicking to beat the band.
His piteous cries were so intense
As to echo across the land.
But nobody seemed to care a hoot,
Or list to his latest groan—
They passed it up as a tiny toot,
And left him to mourn alone.

Twenty thousand people in France now own knitting machines and do the work in their homes, while only 12,500 are employed in knitting mills.

A Firm Conviction

SAN DIEGO, July 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] As a woman of the conservative class I wish to voice my firm conviction, based on all the incontroverisible facts which surely have been open to anybody who was able to read the newspapers, pro and contra, that Mooney and Billings are innocent of the Preparedness Day bombing outrage of 1916, of which they were accused and convicted, serving life sentences in prison ever since.

The witness, Oxman, on whose testimony Mooney was convicted, had to be dropped at the trial of Mrs. Mooney, who was acquitted, as Oxman then was exposed as a perjurer, and now the other principal witness, MacDonald, again confesses that he had out and out perjured himself and is willing to say so in open court regardless of consequences to himself.

Reaction Told

RIVERSIDE, July 29.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I read your "Free Speech and Radio" editorial with interest, but the reaction, from this and others of similar nature, is that "Thou surely doth protest too much." Bob is gaining popularity with each such "knock." They are too palpable. Possibly, though, you are "aiding and abetting" Bob in his work. I wonder. Well, you know the effect your editorials on Shuler have on me anyway—and I've heard the same opinion expressed by others.

E. L. CONROY.

Past and Present

PASADENA, July 28.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In today's column of "The Washington Wash" your correspondent, Mr. Strickland Gillilan, makes rather an error. He makes Kipling say, "The tumult and the shouting has died," and then says "the grammar is Ruddie's, not mine."

If Mr. Strickland Gillilan had only known the Recessional even slightly, he could not have fallen into such a peculiar error. "Has died" and "sacrifice" certainly do not make much of a rhyme nor do they scan.

The grammar a la Kipling goes:

"The tumult and the shouting dies,
The captains and the kings depart.
Still stands thine ancient sacrifice
An humble and a contrite heart."

WHERE CAN I LEARN
Power Sewing Machine?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

There are 350 garment manufacturing establishments in Los Angeles. These do a great variety of work and the Frank Wiggins Trade School, 216 West Venice Boulevard, trains women to operate all types and makes of machines used in these shops and factories. In co-operation with the industry, the school places all efficient trainees. Beginners may enroll in the day classes, but only experienced seamstresses may attend the evening classes.

Age limits as a rule are 18 to 35 years, but older women are taken on request of manufacturers for training on a special machine or for some special operation. Steady nerves, good eyesight, adaptability, speed and accuracy are required. Each girl is taught to operate the companion machines used by the factory of her choice, in addition to being trained as a specialist on one particular machine. This is to lessen the danger of a lay-off during the dull seasons.

As there is usually a waiting list for this free instruction, those interested should go at once to the school to apply for admission to the waiting list. Whenever a vacancy occurs in any class, the next one on the waiting list is called. Then on enrolling, the fee is $1. That is the only expense. The office of the school is open on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 1 to 9 p.m.

Canada's Waterproof Clothing

Considerable oiled and waterproof clothing is made in Canada and the industry is expanding every year. Nearly all is made for home consumption, but some is sent to Great Britain, United States and other countries. There are eighteen establishments engaged in this industry located principally in the eastern part of the country. The total value of all products in 1927 was $1,430,633, while the volume of business reported for the year 1928 was $1,724,394, an increase of $293,761, or 20.53 per cent. The total amount of capital invested in the various establishments was $1,238,488. Seven had a capital of $1,108,741, or 89.5 per cent of the total sum invested, and the average of the whole eighteen establishments was $158,392. Employment was given to 359 workpeople.

Corncob Sugar Sweeter Than Cane

It has been asserted that this nation's entire sugar supply could be obtained from the corncobs on American farms if the commercial process can be developed in keeping with laboratory experiments. The new compound is 300 times as sweet as sugar.

CONAN DOYLE

When Conan Doyle was blithe and young, he wrote his Sherlock tales of crime; translated into every tongue, they penetrated every clime. Around the world the yarns were read, and filled the people with delight, and kids who should have been in bed sat up with Watson through the night. The years went by and Conan felt that he was built for higher things; and so he buckled up his belt and wrote great tales of knights and kings. He wrote a book on ancient times as good as old Sir Walter's best; but people wanted modern crimes, with Sherlock Holmes upon the quest. "We do not care three hoots," they cried, "for musty stories of the past;" the people would not be denied, so Doyle returned to Holmes at last. He wrote another dozen tales of mysteries in every land, of felons going to the jails, propelled by Sherlock's iron hand. "I've done my duty now," he said. "I've killed old Sherlock off for good; I'll write of war, of landscapes red, and of the foe our troops withstood." A splendid chronicle he wrote of heroes and their deeds in France, of Wilhelm Two, who lost his goat, of Sir John French and his advance. But his admirers beat their domes, and cried, "Why waste your precious time? What has become of Sherlock Holmes? Who cares for war when there is crime?" All wearily the author then dragged Sherlock from his timely tomb, and diligently plied his pen to tell of felons and their doom. Again he shipped poor Holmes away to run a bee farm, full of grief; and then, grown old and tired and gray, he tried to tell us his belief. He talked of scenes on t'other shore, of strange things where the spirit roams; and always he could hear the roar, "What has become of Sherlock Holmes?"

PRACTICAL RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CHEF WYMAN'S ANSWERS

CREAMED SALAD DRESSING

M. E. D., Pasadena, Cal. Sorry I did not receive your letter in time to print the salad dressing for you last Friday, but my copy has to go in three days ahead of time.

One-half teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of mustard, one-half tablespoonful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter, three-fourths cupful of cream, one-fourth cupful of vinegar, one egg slightly beaten. Mix the salt, mustard, sugar, butter and cream together, place in a double boiler, and cook until the mixture thickens, stirring constantly, cover and cook on a simmering heat for ten minutes longer, add the egg, and cook for one minute, strain and cool the mixture. When cold, and just before ready to serve, beat in one-half cupful of whipped cream.

COVERING JELLY

J. L. B., Hemet, Cal. Jelly has very much of a tendency to ooze out from underneath the paraffin. The best way to do is allow a half an inch of space in your glasses. Cover when cold with the paraffin, and as soon as that layer of paraffin is set, cover it with another layer of paraffin, and tip your glass so that the edges will be covered all the way around. Think in this way you will have no trouble.

PICKLED FIGS

J. P. A., Whittier, Cal. Place in a preserving kettle four cupfuls of water and four cupfuls of sugar, stir and boil until the sugar is dissolved, add five quarts of firm, clean, ripe figs, and cook slowly until tender, add four more cupfuls of sugar, two cupfuls of cider vinegar, one tablespoonful of whole cloves, one tablespoonful of ground mace, one tablespoonful of ground cinnamon, one teaspoonful of ground allspice, one thinly sliced lemon, and cook until the figs are clear, but not mushy, let stand in the syrup over night, pack in jars, cover with the syrup, seal, and sterilize in boiling water for fifteen minutes.

FRUIT SALAD DRESSING

A. D. H., Long Beach, Cal. Place in a double boiler a half-cupful of pineapple juice, a half-cupful of orange juice and one-third of a cupful of lemon juice. When heated add the yolks of four eggs, that have been beaten until light, adding them gradually, add four tablespoonfuls of sugar, and stir until thick and smooth. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff, and beat into them a half a cupful of sugar, beating it in gradually until they will stand alone. Fold them into the mixture in the double boiler and allow to cook for one minute, but do not boil, when cold add one cupful of whipped cream.

HOME-MADE YEAST

H. J. K., Los Angeles, Cal. To make the yeast, grate three medium-sized boiled potatoes, and mix them with a half-cupful of brown sugar, four level teaspoonfuls of salt, four cupfuls of flour, and enough water to make a thick batter. Pour four quarts of boiling water over one cupful of loose hops, and boil for five minutes. Strain the water from the hops into the batter, while hot, and add one cake of yeast, that has been dissolved in two tablespoonfuls of warm water. Let stand over night in a warm place, or until it raises and the top is covered with bubbles, then it will be ready for use. Keep the yeast in a stone crock or in glass jars and it will keep in a cold place for several days.

GUMBO SOUP

D. H. W., Santa Barbara, Cal. Cut one chicken at the joints, roll it in flour, and fry it a light brown in four tablespoonfuls of hot oil. Place it in a pot, add one small ham bone, that has been stripped of all the meat, two teaspoonfuls of chopped thyme, one teaspoonful of chopped rosemary, one crushed bay leaf, one teaspoonful of tarragon leaves, and two quarts of water, bring to a boil and simmer until the meat will leave the bones, remove the ham bone and chicken, cut the meat in small pieces, and discard the bones, return to the pot, and keep hot. Place in a saute pan two tablespoonfuls of oil, add one large sliced onion, and fry until brown, add four cupfuls of okra, one chopped red pepper, one cupful of peeled and cooked shrimps and two cupfuls of tomatoes, bring to a boil, add this to the chicken soup, and simmer slowly for forty-five minutes. To serve, place three tablespoonfuls of dry boiled rice in a soup plate, and fill with the gumbo.

Byrd Air Aide Joins Express Flying Staff

Laying aside his history-making adventures for pursuits of a more prosaic nature, Capt. Alton N. Parker, chief test pilot with Admiral Richard E. Byrd on the recent expedition to the South Pole and an associate pilot on the flight over the North Pole in 1926, has signed a contract as pilot with Western Air Express.

Backed by more than 3000 air hours to his credit, and by experiences gained as a commercial pilot over a period of four years, Capt. Parker has decided to follow the commecial field.

Parker piloted Byrd on the trip when the Marie Byrdland Mountains were discovered and later given to the United States government. The mountains were named for Mrs. Byrd.

Capt. Parker was born in Haslehurst, Miss., in 1895, is married and has one child, Jack Saunders Parker, 7 years of age. He has leased an apartment in Alnambra and will live there.

According to present plans, Parker will fly ships on the Kansas City line.

Woman Freed Will Remarry

Upon obtaining annulment of her marriage yesterday Mrs. Bessie Gore announced that she is going to remarry Roy Gore as quickly as the law allows. Superior Judge Collier annulled the Gores' marriage in order to permit the wife to correct a legal slip which, he conceded, was not her fault.

Mrs. Gore obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce from Clarence Rogers in this city February 1, 1928. A year elapsed and she supposed it was all right to marry Gore, which she did in Seattle, March 7, 1929. On June 18, last, she learned that her final decree had not been signed and entered, so she separated from Gore next day and obtained an annulment yesterday.

DEPORTATION ORDERED FOR MEXICAN BANDITS

Deportation was decreed yesterday for Rudolph Marquez and Ormond Marquez after they had pleaded guilty to committing a series of burglaries in Glendale. Fumes of Auto Suicide Means of Weingarten

David Weingarten, 53 years of age, former president of the Los Angeles Trunk Company and brother of Charles Weingarten, who was shot to death by "Tuffy" Reid in 1922, committed suicide yesterday, according to a police report, by inhaling carbon monoxide fumes in the garage behind his home at 34 Sunset avenue, Venice.

The body, unclothed and seated at the wheel of an automobile, was discovered by police when they broke down the garage doors after a street-sweeper had reported hearing a motor running and noting that all crevices in the structure had been stuffed with rags. Weingarten evidently had locked himself in, started the engine and then sat down to await death from the deadly gases generated by the exhaust.

While the body was being removed to a mortuary, Weingarten's wife arrived home from a visit with friends. She told police her husband had been despondent over heavy losses in stock speculation.

An autopsy will be performed today.

Cooke Protests Plea for Stable

C. R. Bell, resident of Beverly Hills, wants to establish a private stable in the Hollywood Hills south of Mulholland High Way near Laurel Canyon Road, but Councilman Cooke, representing the district, raised a protest yesterday in the City Council, and the matter was referred back to the City Planning Committee for consideration.

The subject came up on a report of the City Planning Committee, signed by Councilmen Randall and Holland. Cooke protested he had not been consulted. During the discussion it was brought out that the Bell stable, if situated in the new location, will be removed from the north side of Mulholland High Way, which is in Randall's district.

Auto Dealers Must Pay Fees

An ordinance regulating dealers in second-hand automobiles was adopted yesterday by the City Council setting fees to be charged.

FUR SALON WILL OPEN AT STORE

Arthur W. Isaacs Will Direct Department at Myer Siegel Company

BY OLIVE GRAY

Long an important figure in the fur world, Arthur W. Isaacs has taken charge of the enlarged fur salon at Myer Siegel's and today, Friday, the 1st inst., the opening will occur.

Well versed in all departments of the fur trade, including buying and designing of novel and authentic style models in furs, Arthur Isaacs has made for himself an enviable reputation in his chosen field. The alliance of this expert with the Myer Siegel Company predicates extensive success for both Mr. Isaacs and the company. Many novel and interesting numbers will be shown at the opening today, including coats and wraps for street, sports and evening. Caracul in all desirable colors, including black will be shown, collars and trim in harmonizing and in contrasting pelts forming a salient feature of the fall and winter wraps, with long, slenderizing coats in the lead for street and sports, and the shorter and more precious furs featured for evening. Extremely flattering in line, meticulous in finish and surprisingly low in price, the collection is sure to elicit notice most favorable.

Other sections, at Myer Siegel's, co-operating with the opening of the fur salon, will show coats in fabric, fur-trimmed and fur-collared in the mode's latest issue, and frocks and gowns to correspond with wraps are among the importations arrived for the occasion.

Notable among the more dressy numbers are frocks of velvet, this material being among the most authentic exactions of the forthcoming season. Comprising the flattering styles which prove the derivation to be from leading centers of culture, there is a notable conservatism as to skirt length and waist line in street and sportswear, a feature pleasing to those who knowingly eschew the extreme and bizarre in dress.

The millinery section, in this exclusive store, is headed by a genius in design—one who has grasped the new and flattering points of the season's mode in chapeaux. The bandeau effect, serving to fulfill the exactions of the off-face hat, while at the same time preserving the closely fitted demand, here is shown in novel and interesting productions; in felt, in velvet and in combinations of these, the leading fabrics for the new season.

Buyers returning with newest effects in negligees and in lingerie, for which this house long has been famed, proudly display lovely confections wrought in lace, silks and modish weaves, while those sections devoted to handbags and other accessories of correct feminine attire have connived with all other departments to bring about wardrobes both authentic and harmonious. It is an ideal of this store, as declared by the managing buyer, to direct their patrons so that they may find deepest satisfaction in each and every detail of dress, since a wardrobe chosen in harmony is sure to result not only in excellence of style, but in actual economy for the purchaser—a friend-winning principle.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

The Times' free cooking school conducted by Chef Wyman has been discontinued for the summer. Date for resuming has not been set but will be announced later.

CORN, TOMATO AND CHEESE SANDWICHES

One tablespoonful of butter, two cupfuls of grated cheese, three-fourths of a cupful of grated fresh corn, one pimiento, one-half cupful of tomato puree, the yolks of four eggs, one teaspoonful of salt, one-half teaspoonful of paprika, one small clove of garlic. Melt the butter, add the cheese, and stir until it is melted, then add the corn and pimiento, tomato puree, salt, paprika and garlic, and allow to cook for ten minutes, then add the well-beaten egg yolks, and as soon as the eggs have set, pour over bread, that has been toasted on one side, place the untoasted side up, and cover with the mixture.

JELLIED STRAWBERRY SALAD

One cupful of strawberries, one-fourth cupful of sugar, two teaspoonfuls of lemon juice, one tablespoonful of gelatine, one cupful of boiling water, one tablespoonful of cold water, two medium sized grapefruit. Wash and hull the berries and cut in small pieces before measuring, add the sugar, and lemon juice, and allow to stand for a few minutes. Soften the gelatine in cold water, and dissolve in the boiling water, allow to cool, add the strawberries. Line individual molds with the grapefruit sections, pour in the gelatine mixture and allow to thoroughly chill, unmold on lettuce leaves and serve with a mayonnaise to which whipped cream has been added.

One-fourth cupful of shortening, one-half cupful of sugar, two eggs, one-third cupful of milk, one cupful of flour, one-half teaspoonfuls of salt, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of mace, one-half teaspoonful of grated lemon rind, three-fourths of a cupful of nut meats. Cream the shortening, and add the sugar gradually, add the well-beaten eggs and milk. Sift the flour, baking powder, salt and mace together and mix with the other mixture, add the grated rind, and the chopped nut meats. Drop from a small spoon on to a well oiled baking sheet, about one inch apart. Place a half of a nut meat on the top of each one and bake in a moderate oven.

Mix the cabbage with the green peppers and pickles, place the lemon juice or vinegar in a bowl, add the sugar, salt, mustard and a little white pepper, mix altogether, then slowly stir in the cream. Pour the mixture over the cabbage and allow to stand in the ice box until thoroughly chilled.

Acquittal Won in Baler Theft

Circumstantial evidence failed to convict Walter C. Henneman in Superior Judge McDaniel's court yesterday when a jury brought in a verdict of acquittal of the charge of stealing a hay baler from the Los Angeles Implement Company's branch yard at Lancaster.

Principal evidence against Henneman was given by Deputy Sheriff Catlin, former cowboy on the Kansas range, who tracked the baler and Henneman's car which towed it, in a dusty road. Henneman admitted his car was used to drag the baler, but swore he was in a Lancaster restaurant at the time the implement was taken.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

JIM CROW'S EYES ARE OPENED

Far more often than you dream
Things are not just what they seem.
—Jim Crow.

For three days Jim Crow had been a member of the flock, of which his father, Blacky, was the leader over in the Green Forest. At first, Jim Crow had thought it very wonderful. He had flown away from Farmer Brown's dooryard with the other Crows and gone over to the Green Forest. It was the first time he had been in the Green Forest since he had fallen from the nest and had been taken home by Farmer Brown's Boy. All the time the other Crows had been telling him about the joys of freedom and independence. It was early in the afternoon that Jim Crow had gone away with the other Crows. After a while he grew hungry. Now, Jim Crow hadn't had to hunt for his own food since he was hatched. First, his father and mother had provided food for him and then Farmer Brown's Boy had seen to it that he never was hungry.

The other Crows evidently were hungry at about the same time and it was proposed that they go get something to eat before bedtime. So the flock flew over to the Green Meadows and there they scattered, each one looking for something to eat. Now, Jim Crow had just as bright eyes as the other Crows, but he had never had to hunt for his meals, so he hardly knew how to go about it. He had "silm pickings," as the saying is, and when at last the signal was given to return to the Green Forest, Jim Crow was still hungry.

There was a great deal of talking and gossiping in the treetops and the other Crows were very friendly and kept asking Jim Crow if he didn't think it was fine to be free. But as the Black Shadows came creeping into the Green Forest, the noisy tongues became quiet, and one by one those Crows disappeared. Before they disappeared they appeared to be nervous. In fact, it seemed to Jim Crow that they were afraid of the Black Shadows. He was himself. You see, he had been accustomed to sleeping in Farmer Brown's barn, where he had felt quite safe. Presently, Jim Crow found himself quite alone. Even his father and mother had disappeared. He crept in where the branches of a big hemlock tree were thickest and there he huddled very much afraid.

However, even a frightened young Crow can go to sleep, and in a short time Jim Crow was fast asleep. He was awakened at once by a terrible sound. He awoke with little cold shivers running all over him. It was the terrible hunting cry of Hooty the Howl that had wakened him.

He had never had to hunt for his meals, so he hardly knew how to go about it

With the coming of daylight the fears of the night were forgotten. All the Crows reappeared and there was a great deal of gossiping, so that the Green Forest was a noisy place. Then, together, all the members of the flock flew away to hunt for breakfast. Of course, Jim Crow went with them. He enjoyed that morning fly. You see, they went a long distance before they finally settled down to hunt for food, and it was all new and strange to Jim Crow.

But he didn't enjoy having to work so hard to get a little to eat. You see, he had to do a great deal of walking about, whereas he had been accustomed to having all he could eat without having to hunt for it. It seemed as if he never would get enough. Then, too, he couldn't get used to this constant fear that all the Crows seemed to feel. Always when they were eating there was a sentinel on duty, a watchman. Whenever a man appeared there would be a signal from the watchman and all the Crows would take to their wings. Jim Crow wasn't afraid, but his companions were, and it was all very hard for him to understand. By the end of the second day Jim Crow was getting his eyes opened and he was doing some real thinking. This so-called freedom wasn't so fine as he had thought it would be.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children if a stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply. This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, straps and bolts and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

CHILDREN'S QUARRELS DO SERVE A PURPOSE

Anything as universal as the child's tendency to quarrel must serve some useful purpose in his development. Only in the mother's imagination dwells the child who never raises his voice, never snatches at toys, never throws black looks and angry words at the person who defeats his purposes.

"Mother, John took my ball. He won't give it back to me."

"Given Helen her ball, darling. If you had asked sister for it nicely I am sure she would have let you play with it, but it is Helen's ball and you must ask for it."

"Well, he can't have it. Jane and I want to play with it and he could ask me all day and I wouldn't give it to him. He's so mean and stingy he wouldn't give me his tool chest yesterday when we wanted to cut some sticks for our garden. He just needn't ask me because I would say no."

John, the usual John, can't endure the idea that if he wants that ball he can't have it. When mother is out of sight he makes a lunge for it and gets it. Helen yells, and John disappears around the house. There are dozens of other toys in sight—why do they both center their attention on this one miserable ball, thinks mother. It is hot, and mother is cross, and Helen's voice is loud and disturbing, the initial situation may be entirely forgotten when mother resorts to force to end Helen's wails, or, what is almost as bad, bribes her to stop yelling and let John have her ball, which is pretty bad for John.

Quarreling, if the children are equally matched, is a good test for both of them. They learn to give and take and manage their affairs peacefully. If mother is wont to step in and take sides John may learn that by running away mother will pacify Helen and he will get the ball. Helen may learn that by being stubborn about her rights she will in the end gain larger benefits. We have a leaflet on "Prevention and Handling of Children's Quarrels" which may be helpful in giving the mother a better idea of what she can do to avoid them, instead of trying to solve them after they have arisen. (Inclose a self-addressed and stamped envelope with your request for this, please.)

DON'T INTERFERE

Constant, bitter quarrels indicate that the family situation needs adjustment. To play together amiably children should be very nearly the same age, otherwise the older is apt to take advantage of his greater strength or cupidity to victimize the younger. The mother may show favoritism toward the younger or weaker child, causing the older one to burn with indignation at his helplessness and making a smug whiner of the younger. It is impossible for an adult, upon entering a situation, to be really fair, no matter how hard she tries. The mother should center her attention on preventing trouble and if it does arise, should stand on the outside, if possible, and let the children manage by themselves.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Next week will bring to the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt Hotel two particularly brilliant events—one a "welcome-home" affair and the other one of farewell.

Monday in the Blossom Room will be "Hollywood Vanities" night and will have as guest of honor Gilda Gray, dancer, who has just returned to Hollywood and the film colony following a long absence in the East. Miss Gray comes here directly from an engagement at the Roxy Theater, New York. Many celebrities will be in attendance as guests and are to participate on the program of entertainment in tribute to the artiste.

Bon voyage night to Maurice Chevalier, film actor, in the Blossom Room Thursday night will be a farewell to the star upon the eve of his departure on a European trip. The affair will also be in the nature of a testimonial and benefit for the French Hospital, and will mark Chevalier's final appearance here for some time.

NEW CAFE POPULAR

Only recently opened, Davidson's Cafe, Broadway at Ninth street, is said to be proving popular. It is ideally situated for the business group and is in the heart of the theater district. L. O. Davidson, manager, announces a complete fountain service is available now, as well as a special noonday lunch and evening dinner.

TOURISTS IN EVIDENCE

Stevens Restaurant on West Seventh street near Lucas street, reports a noticeable influx of summer tourists. During the past few weeks many new families from middlewestern States, especially Illinois, have been guests at this cafe. New food features have been added. Ice-box desserts are now prepared by women cooks who make all pastries; Paradise trout are shipped direct each day from Noah Beery's mountain resort and trout club.

FIESTA DAYS TO REVIVE

The spirit of early California will hold full sway at George Olsen's new club, Culver City, tonight, when the second of the new series of dancing contests will be held, with an explorer's bag of $100 in gold awarded to the first four winning couples. This gold will be divided, $50 first prize; $25, second; $15, third and $10, fourth.

George Olsen has been making a research of Spanish folk songs and tangos which were popular at the old-time fiestas here, and he promises a unique program of dance music. One of the selections to be played tonight is more than 200 years of age.

In addition to the explorer's dancing contest, the new summer revue will be presented, featuring George Olsen and his music; George Murphy and Juliette Johnson, musical-comedy dancers from "Hold Everything" and "Good News;" M. Kuznetzoff, Mme. Nicolina and M. Vasiloff, Russian singing trio from Balieff's "Chauve Souris;" Jack Shutta, the "gay 90's" comedian; Bob Rice, the crooning troubadour, and Olsen's new ensemble of sixteen beautiful show girls.

To make the tomato jelly, in Friday's menu, follow directions given on the package of gelatin, using strained fresh or canned tomato juice in the place of any other liquid. Pour into square enameled pan to about the depth of one inch, and place on ice. Cut into cubes and serve in bouillon cups.

Tiny Hands Instinctively Reach for the BLUE GINGHAM [WAXED WRAPPER] LOAF

Even a baby mind knows instinctively that here is something better than the ordinary. Bread that is worthy of its wrapper—this, indeed, is a new departure in modern baking methods. Blue gingham has endured through a century, typical of purity, cleanliness, freshness and good old-fashioned cookery. And so in wrapping WEBER'S BREAD in this familiar old pattern we have set for ourselves a standard of quality worthy of the best ideals of American Womanhood. Nothing but the best in ingredients and baking processes enables us to maintain this standard.

ROBBERIES HIT NEW HIGH PEAK

... Hold-Ups Reported to Police Yesterday

... for July Reaches Record of 146

... employment and Lack of Officers Blamed

With an unexpectedness, made more emphatic because of the alight ... Wednesday night when ... Steckel's special crime squad ... went into action, the July crime ... reached a new high peak yesterday when reports of nine more ... brought the total number ... the month to date to 146, an unprecedented record for any summer month in Los Angeles.

Four of the bandits' victims were ... with iron pipes. Two of the ... were perpetrated in drug ..., one in a candy store, one in ... cafe, one in a public garage, and ... were street hold-ups of pedestrians. Seven of the robberies were ... during night hours and ... remaining two after midnight.

TWO SUSPECTS TAKEN

At the same time, despite the consternation of Chief Steckel's special squads working in co-operation with ... men and regular detectives in ... work, only two bandit suspects were taken into custody. Both ... admitted, according to Captain of Detectives Miller, planning the immediate robbery of a delicatessen ... and a piece of iron pipe found in their possession led police to believe they were responsible for one ... assaults.

Burglary, the lesser branch of ... crime, continued to decline, ... thirteen being reported as ... with twenty for the night ... and thirty for the night before that. No arrests for burglary were made.

A partial monthly report compiled ... showed, however, that 938 ... arrests have been made since ... 1st inst. Of this number 290 were ... by uniformed officers and the ... by detectives. This is an increase of 99 as compared with a total of 839 for June last.

ARREST FIGURES LACKING

Figures are not yet available ... the number of persons arrested ... taken into court and convicted of crimes or released. ... various reasons for the present increase in crime here have been ... by police authorities. Chief ... asserts that the police department is greatly handicapped in inadequate force. Other executives declare that the economic depression, an unusual number of men out of work, is one of the causes. Most of the veteran officers in the department, who decline to be quoted because of their official position, declare emphatically that the Police Commission is largely to ... for the crime increase by preventing them, through a recent order, to employ operatives or informers in securing information on criminals operating in the city.

LIST OF ROBBERIES

Following are the robberies reported to the police yesterday.

... Dodrer of 235 West Thirty-... street, utility man at the Fox ..., held up by two bandits on ... at Thirty-first and Main ... and robbed of $15. One of ... bandits said he was married, ... of work, and needed money.

... Fay Bergman, clerk, held up ... candy shop at 3011 West Seventh street and robbed of $32 by a ... bandit.

... Butler of 217 West One Hundred and Eighteenth Place, held up ... two bandits armed with revolvers ... Broadway near his home and ... of his purse, which contained papers but no cash.

... Ensign, cashier, held up by ... bandit in a cafe at 241 North ... Boulevard and robbed of ... The bandit first partook of a ... meal.

VICTIM SLUGGED

... a drug store at 2527 South ... street Miss Rose Pavis, ..., and Charles M. Wilson and ... Miller, clerks, were held up ... a bandit armed with a revolver ... after taking $18 in cash, forced ... into a rear room. He then ... them to open the liquor vault and took forty-four half-pint bottles of whisky.

Hugh Griggs, night man in the St. Paul Garage at 635 St. Paul street, was the fourth victim of the gas pipe bandits. When he made too much noise to suit the pair of desperadoes he was knocked unconscious by a blow on the head. His pockets were empty.

The two bandit suspects arrested are Herbert Weber, 29, and Carl Stone of 506 Stanford avenue. Officers Coleman and Shireman found them at Kenmore and Melrose avenues on foot. One of them carried the piece of gas pipe wrapped in a newspaper. Stone, the officers said, admitted stealing an automobile in Saginaw, Mich., and both confessed planning a robbery in the neighborhood.

FILM DIRECTOR TRAVELS FAST

Clarence Brown Makes Trip from Paris in Less Than Week

Establishing what is said to be a record in actual traveling time, Clarence Brown, film director, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday from Paris. He completed the trip in six and one-half days of actual traveling time, five and one-half days by steamer and twenty-two hours from New York to Los Angeles by plane. He landed at Rogers Airport.

Brown flew his own plane from New York, as he flew from Los Angeles east when he started his trip. When he left eight weeks ago it was to carry his latest picture to its New York premiere, and while there he decided on a European trip.

PLEA MADE ON BEHALF OF BERMAN

Permission to Lodge Him in Jail Hospital Asked of Attorney-General

Permission for Jacob Berman, Federal convict and star prosecution witness in five felony cases growing out of the Julian crash, to be kept in the County Jail hospital if his mental and physical condition warrants, was sought by Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart from the Attorney-General of the United States yesterday afternoon.

According to the County Jail records Berman was sent to the hospital a number of days ago suffering from a nervous condition and other ailments. Yesterday he was ordered back to a cell by County Jail Surgeon Blank. Later he was examined by Federal Surgeon Anthony, who recommended he be allowed to remain in the hospital because of his nervous condition, but Dr. Blank decided he should be returned to his cell.

"I do not consider him a sick man," said Dr. Blank.

Lack of jurisdiction over the Federal prisoner by the two surgeons later in the day resulted in Stewart's telegram to the Attorney-General. A reply is expected today.

Berman, who was brought to this city more than a month ago, already has testified in three State cases and is expected to take the witness stand in two more. He also was tried and convicted on three counts of forgery in connection with the stock deals which resulted in the Julian crash.

State Drops Death Charge Against Co-Ed

Lack of evidence yesterday caused the District Attorney to dismiss a manslaughter charge pending against Mary Louise Hall, University of Southern California student, in Superior Judge Wilson's court. The motion was made by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Croll.

Miss Hall was charged with causing the death of Mrs. Margaret Olivares in a traffic accident at West Adams street and Budlong avenue on May 2, last. A Coroner's jury exonerated the girl of blame for the accident, but the District Attorney's office issued a manslaughter complaint.

TWINS' TRESSES TELL TALE

IF ALL twins would be as thoughtful as Marie and Clarence Hunter, Cincinnati teachers who arrived at the local harbor yesterday on the Panama Mail liner Ecuador, there would be much less embarrassment for friends who talk for an hour to one twin, only to discover they have in reality been discoursing with the other.

The Hunter system is simple. Marie wears long hair; Clarence has bobbed her tresses. There is never any doubt which is which.

Clarence Hunter is head of the vocational training system of the Cincinnati educational department and told ship news reporters that her division is second only to the Los Angeles vocational training system which, she said, is recognized as the finest in the country. Marie Hunter is a mathematics expert in the high schools of the Ohio metropolis.

Jury Decides Breath Odors Not of Sauce

Liquor and Worcestershire sauce do not smell alike, it was decided yesterday by a jury in Superior Judge Gans's court. Mrs. Mary E. Zimmerman was on trial charged with drunken driving. The arresting officers testified that they smelled liquor on her breath.

"It wasn't liquor they smelled," protested Mrs. Zimmerman. "I had eaten Worcestershire sauce and raw eggs. It must have been that."

The jury found her guilty and recommended a fine. Judge Gans continued the matter of sentence until next Tuesday.

WOMAN HOUSED IN CABIN ASKS DIVORCE

Is a cabin a place of abode? Mrs. Dessie Knorr denied it yesterday in inducing Superior Judge Rector to grant her a divorce from Louis E. Knorr. She complained that Knorr "never provided a home or place of abode for the plaintiff, but immediately after their marriage compelled her to live in a shack or cabin located on a ranch." The wife added that Knorr compelled her to drive a truck carrying material and workmen from the ranch to Agate, Colo., often at night and in early morning, through desolate wilderness. Later, Knorr deserted her, she asserted. Attorney Paul C. Hill represented her.

KODAK PICNIC SUNDAY

The annual picnic of the Eastman Kodak Company will be held Sunday at Indian Springs with a barbecue supper, golf and archery tournament as events of the day. More than 250 employees are expected to attend.

ASSAILANT OF GIRL HAS TORN SHIRT

Victim of Attack Retains Sleeve When Man Flees Because of Her Screams

A Mexican with one sleeve missing from his shirt was sought by deputy sheriffs yesterday as the attacker of Miss Lola West, 17 years of age, of 339 South Kern avenue.

The girl, who is employed nights at a tire manufacturing plant, said she was seized by the man as she was returning home from work shortly after midnight. She had observed him following her, she said, and had taken to the middle of the street in an attempt to elude him. However, he overtook her only a few feet from her home and her screams were heard by Mrs. Dol Yeoman of 427 South Kern avenue.

When Mr. Yeoman ran to the rescue the girl's assailant fled, but she was still clinging to his shirt sleeve, which was ripped loose in the struggle.

This was turned over to Deputy Sheriffs Holloway and Christy of the Belvedere substation as a clew.

Young Suspects Tell Story of Modern Fagin

A modern Fagin is being sought by police as the result of the arrest yesterday of Roy M. Madden, 14 years of age, of 629 West Ninth street, and Bill L. Mathny, 15, address not given. Taken in custody at Ninth and Flower streets at an early hour, they are asserted to have confessed to Officers Stephens and Hamilton, who found pass keys in their possession, that they are members of a gang and had been taught by an older boy to open store doors. They were booked as delinquents on suspicion of burglary.

The officers' suspicion was aroused when they observed the boys lugging a huge cake of ice through the streets.

TRAFFIC FLASHER ORDERED

The City Council yesterday issued instructions for the establishment of a red flasher traffic signal at the north end of the parking in Highland avenue at Melrose avenue.

CHAOS PICTURED FOR FREE INDIA

Church Official Back From Tour of World

Dr. Guild Has Little Faith in Italian Prosperity

Hospitality for Americans Found in Germany

"Civilization in India would be doomed if Gandhi and his followers should achieve their purpose," declared Dr. Lewis Thurber Guild, formerly local district superintendent of the Methodist church, who with Mrs. Guild, returned to Los Angeles yesterday from a trip around the world.

DR. LEWIS THURBER GUILD

"India's desire for self-government originated with British rule," said Dr. Guild. "The idea of self-government began in Lord Macaulay's day. Macaulay's laid down the principle (which has been generally followed by the British government) that the object of England's rule was to bring India to the point at which she could govern herself. However, in India, as a country, there is no historical basis for self-rule.

MANY ILLITERATE

"More than 90 per cent of the people of India are illiterate," said Dr. Guild. "They have no traditions of self-government, no precedents to guide them. The Indian people of today cannot be compared to our forefathers, who had had generations of training in self-government. Difficulties in the way of Indian independence are many and, for the present, insurmountable. More than 60,000,000 of the inhabitants are Mohammedans. The country also has 60,000,000 outcasts who have no rights in Hindu law or customs. In that vast territory twenty languages are spoken and of the great variety of religions nine of the outstanding ones are antagonistic to one another.

"There is no such thing as an 'Indian nation,'" said Dr. Guild. "Two-fifths of India is under native princes, being under British rule only for foreign and international relations. If British rule should be abandoned tomorrow, the Mohammedans and Hindus would be at each other's throats in twenty-four hours."

GANDHI DREAMER

Discussing Gandhi, Dr. Guild voiced the opinion that he is sincere but that, religiously, he is a fanatic and, politically, an extremist whose dreams cannot become true, at least for some time to come.

"The small farms, poor soil, inadequate methods of farming and the refusal of the Hindus to kill their cattle are some of the factors responsible for India's poverty," he believes.

Admitting that Mussolini has done much for Italy and that, apparently, the people are industrious and prosperous, Dr. Guild said that the methods by which Italy's condition was brought about compel the observer to doubt if such prosperous conditions can continue.

Speaking of his visits to Germany, Dr. Guild said that nowhere was he treated with more kindliness and hospitality than in that country.

Opening of Fire Sale Announced for Tomorrow

Beginning at 9 a.m. tomorrow a $300,000 fire, smoke and water sale will start at Maximes, 519 South Broadway. The store will remain open until 9 p.m. tomorrow and the sale will continue for one week.

The fire at Maximes occurred July 12, last. Only reserve stocks on the fourth floor were damaged. Ready-to-wear articles, millinery, hosiery, underwear, neckwear, sportswear, leather goods, jewelry and laces in other parts of the store were untouched, save by a little smoke. Nevertheless, all these will be put up for sale at bargain prices, the store management yesterday announced.

The windows of the store have been retrimmed with the fire-sale bargains so the public can have a preview of the low-priced selections to be offered.

Council Orders Legal Moves in Pico Widening

The City Council yesterday instructed the City Attorney to proceed with condemnation suits for the widening of Pico street between Santa Fe avenue and Alvarado street. Several days ago the Council listened to many protestants on the matter, who wanted the project halted. Among the protestants was Rev. R. P. Shuler on behalf of Trinity Methodist Church.

The motion was made by Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Cooke. They were joined in the vote by President Sanborn and Councilmen Barthel, Burns, Henning, Holland and Ingram. Councilmen Lewis, McAlister, Martin, Randall, Jacobsen and Williams voted to abandon. Councilman Webster was absent.

CHANGE MADE IN "RADIO DIAL"

"The Times" Introduces New Column Arrangement

More Comprehensive Guide for Listeners-in Aim

KHJ to Carry KMBC Entry Into Columbia Chain

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. Dr. Philip M. Lovell, editor, Care of the Body in The Sunday Times; Anton Chris, steel guitarist.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Effective today The Times' radio dial introduces a new method of indicating suggested feature programs of the day's broadcast. It will be noted that such programs appear in the dial in black-face type. Attention also is called to the fact that all programs originating outside of Los Angeles are indicated by (C) denoting chain broadcasts.

Every effort is being made to establish a comprehensive and complete radio dialing guide for listeners-in.

On the other hand, the radio audience will appreciate the fact that there will be many excellent programs daily which will not be indicated as features. The aim is to indicate what may be termed the high spots of the day's offerings. Of course, fairness to all stations listed will be maintained.

Supplemental comment on programs is to appear in the radio column.

AROUND TODAY'S DIAL

KHJ will offer Columbia's Nit Wits at 4 o'clock this afternoon in a burlesque presentation of "William Tell." What they will do to the apple and the Swiss gentleman will be a caution, and should provoke plenty of laughs. At 6 o'clock tonight KMBC, Kansas City, Mo., will be formally received into the Columbia Broadcasting System, presenting for the first time in the West "A Day at KMBC." This program will include the station's best talent. At 7 o'clock tonight Raymond Paige is to take listeners-in on the waves of music into the Scandinavian countries, interpreting the spirit of the men of the North, their folk music, national songs and mood pictures. There will be a chorus and soloists, besides the Raymond Paige thirty-five-piece concert orchestra. At 9 o'clock tonight, KOIN, Portland's link in the Don Lee chain, is to offer thirty minutes of its Isle of Golden Dreams, with Hawaiian music by an organ and steel guitars. The Song Premiere at 9:30 p.m. is to include four numbers from the uncompleted motion picture, "Good News," as sung by June Parker, Ted White, Elvia Allman and Bob Swan.

At 6 o'clock tonight, on NBC chain, is to offer with the exception of Lois Bennett's solo, "The Last Rose of Summer," thirty minutes of duet, quartet and concert arrangements. At 7:30 p.m. there will be a classical half-hour with James Burroughs and the Schoenberger Trio, while 8:45 o'clock is to find another NBC program with Walter O'Keefe and a male quartet worth listening to.

KECA at 4 o'clock this afternoon will give a feast of popular and semi-classic compositions with the Cities Service Orchestra, and a number of guest singers headed by Gitia Erstinn, internationally known coloratura soprano. "Mah Linday Lou" will be Erstinn's solo, while she will sing in trio rendition the "Indian Love Call." At 6:30 p.m. the Raleigh Revue is to provide thirty minutes of Down South plantation music and song, with Elliott Shaw, baritone, as guest soloist.

KNX at 2:30 this afternoon will present the second of a new series of master work recordings—today it will be the Fifth Symphony by Tschaikowsky in its entirety. In contrast, at 9:45 p.m. the Hollywood Legion will send a round-by-round account of the meeting of Armand Emanuel and Albert Morro.

FRIDAY FOLLIES

KFWB at 2 o'clock will inaugurate a weekly program "Friday's Follies." It will be a "whale of an afternoon program," says KFWB, and is to include its entire staff of stars. At 7:10 tonight Larry Cebalios's Revue from Warner Brothers' Theater backstage will feature the "California Ramblers," a male octet.

KMTR at 8:30 o'clock tonight will help listeners-in to "mob the umpire" with another night baseball game from Wrigley Field.

KTM is to feature its miniature symphony orchestra in thirty minutes of an intimate sketch in music of Anton Dvorak. At 10 p.m. Echoes from the Opera House, a new one-hour program consisting of operatic selections by Salvatore Santaella and his twelve-piece orchestra, will be presented. The Ranch Hour at 9 o'clock tonight promises its greatest night for Katherine, the beautiful daughter of the Big Boss, is to arrive from the East, and the boys have to "slick up."

KMPC's Hill Billies will be in the throes of anguish over the departure of Hubert and his gee-tar this coming Sunday. Plenty of music and song will be made tonight as it won't be long now.

Hunters Plan for Farewell Flight

Soaring over metropolitan Los Angeles, the Hunter brothers, world's championship endurance flyers, will make their farewell refueling flight at noon Sunday.

They will take off from the Los Angeles Municipal Airport, and head the City of Chicago and Big Ben, the refueling plane, over the downtown area and establish connection with the hose in the same manner as employed in making the world's record of 553 hours in the air.

The City of Chicago is to be manned by Kenneth and John Hunter, while Albert and Walter will be at the controls of Big Ben. The four brothers are scheduled to make their final appearance on the stage at Grauman's Chinese Theater next Tuesday night, and Sunday's flight is planned as a farewell exhibition.

WIFE VERIFIES SHOOTING TALE

Defends Mate for Wounding Rival in Own Home

Wrong Admitted to Jury in Story of Witness

Furious Fight Between Men Recounted on Stand

Admitting that she was in a "compromising position" with John A. Quickel, when he was shot by her husband, Shelton W. Herrin, Mrs. Lulu Herrin took the stand in Superior Judge Tuttle's court yesterday, to save Herrin from prison.

The defendant is charged with assault to murder Quickel, and because of threats that have reached the District Attorney's office, four deputy sheriffs were on guard at the trial.

Herrin received an anonymous letter last spring, advising him that a "certain man" was visiting his home when he was away to work. On the morning of April 7, he received a telephone message directing him to come home. He found his doors locked, he told Deputy Sheriffs Weybright and Pemphrase, who investigated the case, and entered through a window. He found Mrs. Herrin and Quickel within according to the testimony.

On the stand yesterday, Mrs Herrin told the jury of five men and seven women that her husband's story to the arresting officers was correct. She described how Quickel was struck with an automobile wrench, how he defended himself with a chair, and how her husband shot him in the abdomen.

Bleeding from his wound, Quickel dressed himself, got in his car and drove to the Sheriff's substation in Belvedere, where he made a report of the shooting. Herrin's arrest followed.

The trial will continue today.

Extra Fancy Beef for Dogs Leads to Fine

A few extra touches in "nicing up" a dressed beef for fastidious dogs cost Richard Plehn a $200 fine in the court of Justice Diehl of Bellflower, according to Deputy Sheriffs Freeman and Shafer of the Sheriff's stockyards detail.

The case came to the attention of the authorities when a dressed beef, minus an inspection stamp, was found in a Long Beach cold-storage plant. Ownership was traced to Plehn, the deputies said, and he insisted he had not intended to sell it for human consumption, but as dog meat.

The deputies, however, doubted his story, inasmuch as few butchers take such pains to please canine tastes. Plehn was arrested on a charge of violating a public health ordinance.

His preliminary plea of not guilty was changed to one of guilty and the $200 fine followed. Justice Diehl suspended $175 of the penalty for one year.

PARK ASSOCIATION'S DIRECTORS TO MEET

MILITARY INSTITUTE ON ACCREDITED LIST

The Black-Foxe Military Institute, 632 North Wilcox avenue, has been declared an accredited school by the committee on schools of the academic senate of the University of California, according to word received by Maj. Harry L. Black, superintendent, yesterday from Thomas B. Steel, recorder of the faculties. It is listed in Division B, the letter stated. The institute is less than one year of age.

EIGHT FROM EUROPE WILL MAKE FILMS

Stage and Screen Group Will Act in Talkies for French and Germans

Eight of Europe's most prominent stage and screen players arrived in Hollywood yesterday to engage in the making of talking motion pictures for France and Germany. The players were brought to this country by Warner Brothers and First National Pictures.

They are Suzy Vernon, Jeanne Helbling, Rolla Norman and Daniel Mendaille, from France, and Lissi Arna, Carla Berthel, Wilhelm Dieterle and Anton Pointer from Germany. They are said to be among the most prominent of the continental stage and screen players. Mlle. Vernon has made fifty and Mlle. Helbling has made sixty silent productions for UFA in Germany.

The party was greeted at the station, where they arrived on the Union Pacific, by studio officials and members of the German and French colony here and then were taken to the Roosevelt Hotel in Hollywood.

Mlle. Vernon believes that Hollywood-made pictures for France and Germany will be much better liked than the pictures made in Paris and Berlin.

"We do not have the wonderful facilities in France and Germany to make talking pictures that you have here," she said. "Now we can make pictures in these languages which are as splendidly produced as those in English."

Warner Brothers' first foreign production for French, German and Spanish will be "Those Who Dance," and another will be "Moby Dick," which stars John Barrymore in the English version. The two companies will produce a total of eighteen foreign productions this fall.

Officer Suing For Reward in Killer Capture

Capture of a slayer entitles the captor to $2500 offered as a reward, Policeman Patrick Griffin of Chicago contends, in a suit yesterday taken under submission by Superior Judge Bowron. Attorneys representing the city opposed the claim on the grounds that an officer cannot collect a reward for arresting a criminal in the course of duty. Griffin's counsel retorted that he was not on duty and hence was not acting in an official capacity when he arrested Edward Franta, later convicted of slaying Wylie E. Smith, a Los Angeles policeman. Griffin's testimony was given by deposition.

Policeman Smith was slain August 22, 1926, during a local bank hold-up. Griffin deposed that he recognized Franta from his picture on a police handbill and arrested him. Franta now is serving a term in San Quentin.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed yesterday in United States District Court against E. K. Fleming, doing business as E. K. Fleming & Co., asserted to be an oil promoter. The petitioners seek to have Fleming declared a bankrupt. The petitioners are Superior Electric Works, claiming $55.25, F. V. Weede, claiming $3000, and Neale Rainbow Light Corporation, Ltd., claiming $1919.17. United States District Judge James appointed A. D. McLeod as receiver pending a hearing.

BEATINGS BRING DIVORCE FOR WIFE

"A dog, a woman and a hickory tree, the more you beat them, the better they be," was the policy attributed to Joseph Stocker yesterday by Mrs. Leah Larsen Stocker, who got a divorce. "He told me that he had made a real woman out of me by beating me," Mrs. Stocker told Superior Judge Anderson. The judge granted her a divorce from Stocker, who is a Glendale bank employee.

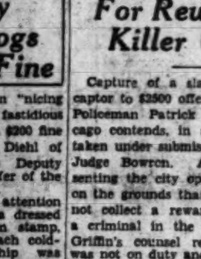
Crowd to Greet Miss Brico at Bowl Tonight

The largest crowd of the season is expected tonight at the Hollywood Bowl, when Los Angeles music lovers will welcome Miss Antonia Brico, called the world's greatest woman conductor, back to her home State. Miss Brico is featured with the Albertina Rasch ballet of sixty dancers, the latter appearing to interpret Dimitri Tiomkin's latest composition, "Suite Choreographic," which will have its world premiere tonight.



ANTONIA BRICO

Miss Brico has just returned from several years of study in Germany, where she attained the distinction of being the only woman ever to conduct the Berlin Symphony Orchestra. She is to lead three numbers tonight, marking her debut as a conductor of an American symphony orchestra. Compositions by Weber, Goldmark and Tschaikowsky are included in her selection.

Tiomkin wrote "Suite Choreographic especially for the Hollywood Bowl and it is divided into four parts, expressing different moods, including the many tricks of rhythm that are associated with the American "blues." Arthur Lange, loaned for the occasion by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, will conduct the orchestra during the ballet number.

HUSBAND FREED ON RING THEFT CHARGE

The grand-theft charge that remained against Aaron Rosenberg after his wife Clara has lost her $100,000 suit for alienation of affections against her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Koratzky, was dismissed on motion of Max Lewis, defense attorney, in Superior Judge Tuttle's court yesterday. Attorney Lewis contended that the Prosecuting Attorney had not made out a case, and the court agreed. Rosenberg was accused of taking his wife's $1000 engagement ring. He admitted taking it, to safeguard it, but said he lost it, later. Mrs. Rosenberg admitted she left it on a wash stand.

ART CLUB TO PRESENT SUMMER EXHIBITION

The third special summer exhibition of California Art Club will be conducted in its clubhouse in Barnsdall Park this month. Nature and humanity in spring and summer phases will prevail among the compositions. The clubhouse is open free to the public Thursday from 2 to 5 p.m. On other days, except Monday, when it is closed to the public, it is open afternoons with a 25-cent admission charge.

RULING DELAYED IN BOY'S DEATH

Lad Who Drowned Child to be Studied Further

La Verne McDonald Believed Mentally Retarded

Judge Blake May Send Him to Special School

After appearing before Superior Judge Blake yesterday for a probation hearing, La Verne McDonald 8-year-old Long Beach boy who admitted drowning Jimmie Ellis, 3, on the 9th inst., yesterday was ordered returned to Juvenile Hall for further observation and examination by psychiatrists.

Although the reports of juvenile officials and Dr. Herman W. Covey stated that in their opinion the boy is suffering from no mental disease or defect, Judge Blake declared that he wants the child examined again to be certain in his judgment.

MENTALLY RETARDED

From the reports already received, Judge Blake said, it is apparent that the McDonald boy evidences a slightly retarded mental development but not sufficient to classify him as subnormal.

It was indicated that if the continued investigation supports the findings already made, the boy will be placed in a special school where he will be educated under constant supervision until 21 years of age.

DROWNED IN CANAL

Final disposition of the case will be made on the 7th inst.

The Ellis boy was drowned in the flood-control canal near Long Beach. Investigation disclosed that he was seen playing with the McDonald boy a few hours before. When the boy was questioned he admitted pushing the child's head under the water until he ceased struggling.

Eyes Have it, Says Champion Agate Shooter

The eye is the whole thing in marbles, according to Jimmy Lee.

The 14-year-old Columbus (O.) lad, who won the national marble-shooting championship at the tournament at Ocean City, N. J., on June 27, last, was an arrival from New York yesterday aboard the Panama Mail liner Ecuador; his around-America tour being a prize for his defeat of America's fifty-three next best agate crackers. He is being accompanied by Earl Minderman, Columbus newspaper man, serving as his trainer and manager.

Jimmy's forte in tough competition is in coming from behind to win, according to his manager. In the finals at Ocean City, Floyd Walker, runner-up from Decatur, Ill., had him three games to one, whereupon the champion ran out five straight games to take the title.

As the guest of fifty-three newspapers sponsoring the national marbles championship Jimmy is seeing Panama, the Spanish Americas, Southern California and San Francisco and from the Bay City he and Minderman will return overland to Columbus. The champion's proudest possession is the white agate "shooter" with which he won the title.

Traffic Victim Dies and Two Others Injured

Omar Smith, 59 years of age, of 3975 Menlo avenue, was injured fatally yesterday when struck by an automobile at Seventh street and Santa Fe avenue. He suffered a basal skull fracture and crushed chest and died in Georgia-street Receiving Hospital shortly after the accident. The car, according to police, was driven by S. Saito of 120 North San Pedro street, an employee of the social service bureau of the Japanese Church.

A collision at Warwick and Templeton streets resulted in serious injuries to A. Bauer, 45, of 4944 Navarro street, and his son Lee, 8. Their car crashed into a Pacific Electric motor coach. Sauer receiving a skull fracture and the boy a lacerated scalp. Both are in Pasadena-avenue Receiving Hospital.

LATEST STYLE MODELS SHOWN AT THEATER

Los Angeles' fashion experts are making increasing use of the stage in showing advanced styles for women. The Panchon and Marco stage show at Loew's State Theater is displaying four models by Harry Fink & Co. as one of the highlights of the "Modes Idea," this week's attraction. A new advance style is to be shown hereafter at this theater each week.

LISSNER VACANCY FILLED

F. W. Fellows Named to Industrial Accident Body; C. W. Bell Gets Fish and Game Post

Appointment of F. William Fellows, deputy City Prosecutor, to succeed the late Meyer Lissner as a member of the Industrial Accident Commission was announced yesterday by Gov. Young. Fellows formerly served as secretary of the commission.

At the same time the Governor announced the appointment of C. W. Bell to the Fish and Game Commission to fill the vacancy caused some time ago by the resignation of George B. Clarkson.

RESIGNED IN 1927

The Industrial Accident Commission appointee held the post of secretary and referee of that bureau approximately eight years. He resigned in 1927 to become secretary of the 1927 commission for the reform of criminal procedure. Upon completion of that body's legislative program he became a deputy City Prosecutor here.

Fellows is 49 years of age. He received his education in the local public schools, Occidental College, Los Angeles Normal School, Stanford University and University of Southern California. He was graduated from U.S.C. law school in 1909, being admitted to the bar the same year.

BELL PRAISED HIGHLY

In announcing Bell's appointment to the Fish and Game Commission Gov. Young said it has been his endeavor in filling this position to procure a man who is himself a sportsman and who at the same time is thoroughly committed to the conservation of California fish and game. A hearty indorsement of this appointment may be expected from sportsmen throughout the State, he said, adding that scores of them have urged Bell to stand for the commission.

Bell has given special attention to conservation, Gov. Young stated, having stocked the Owens Valley region with Chinese pheasants and varieties of quail for the benefit of all sportsmen at a personal expense of about $20,000. He is in the banking business.

WIFE OF PRESIDENT PRAISED BY MODISTE

Miss Sylvia Ulric

Mrs. Hoover is the best-dressed woman who has ever presided as the first lady of the nation?

This is the consensus in fashionable Washington society, according to Miss Sylvia Ulric, who arrived here yesterday morning aboard the Panama Mail liner Ecuador.

Until her departure for Los Angeles Miss Ulric maintained one of the most exclusive women's apparel shops in Washington.

Miss Ulric stated that Mrs. Hoover does not have ambitions to be known as the best-dressed woman who has ever presided in the White House, but that Washington's social set unanimously bestowed this honor after President Hoover's first year as the nation's Chief Executive.

Miss Ulric reported that she lost her pocketbook containing $1000 in cash, several large checks and valuable papers while en route to the Ecuador in a taxicab. Search by police failed to reveal any trace of the pocketbook or its contents.

Whereabouts of Mate's Money Aired in Court

Mrs. Maxine Lillian Cornwell was sure her husband, Clark Von Derlyn Cornwell, had $6000 somewhere, but she didn't know where it was, she told Superior Judge Archbald at her alimony hearing yesterday, where she was trying to get money enough to live on, she said.

"I haven't any job now. My boss asked me for a date, and I wouldn't give it to him," said Mrs. Cornwell.

Mrs. Cornwell says she helped her husband accumulate the $6000, which, she said, was in a building and loan fund. Cornwell declares he paid it to his parents on a debt. Judge Archbald took the case under submission.

In Mrs. Cornwell's complaint, she asserted her husband was cruel to her, in that he falsely accused her of going with other men.

Society Style Show Filmed

A fashion show given by New York "400" at Easthampton, Long Island, is one of the interesting current events shown in the latest issue of The Times-Universal Newsreel, now being exhibited in Southern California theaters. The scenes reveal debutantes parading in tea gowns and lounging pajamas. Graham McNamee, talking reporter, gives a description of the event from the screen.

Other recent happenings shown include a twenty-mile swim around Manhattan Island, in which the contestants were fed from boats, a bucking bronco contest at Cheyenne, Wyo., a death-defying stunt by aerialists at Colwyn Bay, Eng., and the landing of an amphibian plane on a floating island in San Francisco Bay.

The schedule may be obtained by phoning the Newsreel Book at REpublic 3171 and inquiring about Newsreel No. 61.

Glendale Wife Sues for Balm

Norman Tatham of Glendale had only been married to Florence Tatham six months, according to Mrs. Tatham's $100,000 alienation of affections suit against Mrs. Helma Abbott, on file yesterday, when Mrs. Abbott began "vamping" Tatham away from his wife.

Mrs. Abbott told Tatham that his wife was "too young" for him, according to the complaint, prepared by Attorney Wilbert C. Hamilton, and then she made love to him on a public golf course, permitting him to hug and kiss her where anyone could see. Mrs. Tatham wants $50,000 actual and $50,000 exemplary damages.

HOWELLS VACATIONING

Adjt. Frank Howell, officer in charge of the Salvation Army Temple at 832 West Ninth street, accompanied by Mrs. Howell, left yesterday for a three weeks' vacation. They motored to San Diego, where they were located for several years as officers in charge of the corps. The pulpit here will be filled by members of the corps during the absence of Adjt. and Mrs. Howell. They will return about August 15, next.

MANY FURS AND JEWELS RECOVERED

Plunder Reputed to be Worth $10,000 Found as Sequel to Arrest

Furs and jewels assertedly valued at more than $10,000 were recovered by deputy sheriffs yesterday following the arrest of Albert Lee Chaney, 23 years of age, whose robbery operations are said to have extended over a period of three years.

The plunder was found by Deputies Wintermute and Lane and was removed to the Sheriff's office, where it will be held for identification by the owners. Thus far an $850 diamond ring and a $250 wrist watch have been claimed by Mrs. Lorrain Stoloff, 8316 West Fourth street, as articles taken from her in a hold-up on the night of June 12, 1927, and Mrs. Marie Breacher, 5608 Carlton Way, identified property valued at $1100. This included a $1000 mink coat and a diamond brooch, valued at $100.

Chaney gave his address as 3531 South Whitehouse Place.

Death Penalty Foes Will Open Drive Monday

A movement to end the death penalty in California will be launched Monday at a mass meeting to be held in the old Unitarian Church, formerly Theosophical Hall, 925 South Flower street, under auspices of the American League to Abolish Capital Punishment. The meeting, scheduled for 8 p.m., is being arranged by Vivian Pierce, national secretary of the league.

Speakers will include Jack Black, ex-convict and author; Miriam Van Waters, consultant on juvenile delinquency phases of President Hoover's Law Enforcement Commission; Dr. Edwin P. Ryland, Los Angeles clergyman, and Miss Pierce. They will urge the formation of subcommittees to carry the movement to the Legislature.

Sponsors of the antideath penalty campaign include Saul S. Klein, Dr. Theodore C. Abel, Dr. Carol Aronovici, Mrs. Artie Mason Carter, Lottie Pantzig, Miss Maude Gallagher, Judge Spencer M. Marsh, George W. Marston, John Steven McGroarty, Mrs. Kate Crane Garts, Hon. Walter H. Little, Mrs. John W. Mitchell, Dr. Aaron J. Rosanoff, Orfa Jean Shontz, Robert A. Watkins, Rob Wagner, Judge William H. Ellis and Dr. Miriam Van Waters.

Stars Maintain Stride by Defeating Beavers in Night Game

PORTLAND (Or.) July 31. (AP)—Portland lost its seventh straight game tonight and went undisputedly into the cellar as Hollywood won for the third time in the series, 12 to 4.

Despite the lowly standing of the Beaver-Ducks, ladies' night brought out a crowd of approximately 10,000, of whom at least 4000 were paying customers.

Keating made his first start for Portland since obtained from Sacramento by trade, but the Hollies found him easy and ragged support made it worse. In the seventh the Hollies knocked him off the hill and scored five runs. Score:

RACING CRAFT AWAIT REGATTA

Pacific Coast Championship Series Starts Monday

Newport Harbor will Stage Sailboat Classic

Five-Day Program Arranged for Corinthians

BY FRANK ROCHE

With more than 100 boats representing the cream of Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego and the Northwest's racing craft headed for Newport Harbor, the combined Pacific Coast and Southern California sailing championships, which get under way Monday for a five-day run, promise to be among the greatest in the history of yachting on this Coast. Everything is in readiness for the regatta, Commodore Leon Heisman and Jim Webster of the Newport Harbor Yacht Club announced yesterday.

From as far north as Puget Sound and south to the Mexican border yachtsmen are coming to participate in the sailing classic. From the great Northwest L. E. (Ted) Geary is bringing his R sloop Sir Tom, while from San Diego more than ten boats will seek prizes in the regatta. Los Angeles Harbor, of course, will have the principal amount of boats in the regatta. Every club in the metropolitan district will be well represented in the sailing battles.

MANY PLAN TO ATTEND

In addition to the racing craft the picturesque harbor at Newport is expected to be well nigh jammed with pleasure boats which will be loaded to the gunwales with spectators.

San Francisco is sending down a crack fleet included in which are two eight-meter boats. Among

PASADENA BOYS TO BATTLE FOR COURT TITLE TODAY

Miss Cruickshank and Mrs. Harper to Compete for Women's Crown in All-California Match

SEABRIGHT (N. J.) July 31. (AP)—All-California finals in both men's and women's singles were assured in the annual Seabright invitation tennis tournament today as favorites fell by the wayside in the semifinal round.

Tomorrow Ellsworth Vines, Jr., 18-year-old sensation from Pasadena, Cal., will meet his fellow-townsman, Sydney B. Wood, Jr., for the men's title, on Saturday, Josephine Cruickshank of Santa Ana, and Mrs. L. A. Harper of San Francisco will fight it out for the women's crown.

Vines scored his second victory in five days over Frank Hunter of New Rochelle, veteran internationalist and No. 2 in the national rankings, in the semifinal round today, 3-6, 6-2, 8-6. Almost as surprising was Wood's triumph over Clifford Sutter of New Orleans, by 6-3, 3-6, 6-0.

Vines had conquered Hunter in the finals of the metropolitan turf court championships at New York on Sunday, but few expected the Pasadena youngster could do it again. Hunter, determined to avenge his defeat of Sunday, cut loose with a vicious attack in the first set and had little trouble winning it.

Vines came back to take the second and square the match and then romped into a lead in the third only to have Hunter draw level at five-games all. Here Vines cut loose with a series of back-hand drives that pulled him out of the pinches and registered clean-cut points with overhead smashes that the Davis Cup veteran could not

GEHRIG'S HOMER TAKES CONTEST

Gothamites Trounce Hubsox by 14-13 Count

BOSTON, July 31. (AP)—Lou Gehrig once more blazed the way to victory for the New York Yankees today as they eked out a 14-to-13 victory over the Red Sox.

Gehrig had a perfect day at bat, hitting a home run, his thirty-third of the season, and two doubles in three official times at bat. He drove in eight runs and scored three. The homer was made in the seventh with the bases full and scored the runs that eventually won the game.

The teams got a lot of bad baseball out of their systems in the two hours and forty-five minutes of play. The Yankees committed seven errors and Boston six. Rabbit Warstler, new Boston shortstop, also hit a homer and was the out-

LASSMAN DEATH STORY CLEARED

Story Told How Former New York University Football Captain Drowned Trying to Save Three Small Boys After Boat Had Capsized; Camp Directors Blamed

BY WALTER TRUMBULL

NEW YORK, July 31. (NANA)—Albert E. Lassman, the report of whose drowning at Camp Zakelo, near Harrison, Me., carried a sinister note of mystery, died a hero. The kindly giant, former star and captain of a New York University football team, gave his life to save three small boys from the chilling waters of a Maine lake.

In the little cemetery at Brighton, Mass., Al Lassman sleeps, as sleep the brave; clouds of suspicion dissipated; his memory sweet; his honor bright. The little, old Lithuanian mother, waked to bitter anguish at 4:30 on the morning of July 7, to be told that her son probably was a suicide, must feel in spirit that she has her boy back again. Al Lassman's father and his sister, Mildred, once more hold their heads high and look at the world through proud, if misty, eyes.

The story of Al Lassman's death and what followed it runs the gamut of human character. It is a story of courage and cowardice; generosity to the extent of life itself, and selfishness past understanding.

Lassman was drowned on Sunday, July 6. The story given out the following day, and carried by morning papers of Tuesday, was that he had taken a canoe without permission, gone out on the lake alone and late at night, in some manner capsized and drowned, and that his body had not been recovered until twelve hours later. It was said that he was a visitor at the camp. It was intimated that he was depressed. In all particulars, except that the boy was dead, this was not so.

Al Lassman didn't drown alone, in the darkness of night or despair. He drowned in the bright light of day, saving three boys entrusted to his care; keeping the faith; a very

A PASADENA AFFAIR

THERE seems to be no particular reason why Seabright shouldn't award its annual tennis classic to Pasadena next year. Two boys from the Crown City have hewed their way to the finals and, come what may, it will be a Pasadena triumph.

Ellsworth Vines, the 18-year-old sensation of the year, is the favorite over Sydney B. Wood, Jr., and he arrived at his destination by again trouncing Francis T. Hunter, the veteran internationalist.

Some of the critics probably figured Vines's victory over Hunter in the finals of the metropolitan championships last week was a bit in the nature of a fluke, but young Vines convinced them to the contrary at Seabright yesterday.

In the course of three days the kid has been a real giant killer, successively mowing down Frank Shields, R. Norris Williams and Francis T. Hunter.

He seems to be the answer to the cry for young blood with which to mold a team that can lift the celebrated Davis Cup

DICK BARBER ADDED TO MERCURY TRACK SQUAD

Dick Barber, broad jumper on the championship University of Southern California track team, has been added to the Los Angeles Athletic Club squad for the National A.A.U. championships to be held August 22-23 at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Barber has been training earnestly for the past month and this week has been consistently bettering twenty-four feet at Bovard Field. The Trojan jumping pit is far from being the best in the land and both Boyd Comstock and Dean Cromwell believe that Dick can hit twenty-five feet on a fast runway. Barber had been promised the eastern trip if he bettered twenty-four feet on Wednesday of this week. He did 24ft. 3in., so yesterday the powers that be included him on the Mercury team, which will attempt to bring the national title back to Los Angeles as well as aid the United States in turning back the combined forces of the British Empire at Chicago the 27th inst.

Ernie Payne and Jed Welsh, Trojan hurdler, yesterday announced through their coach, Dean Cromwell, that they are anxious to get a crack at Bob Maxwell to see just who is the fastest 220-yard hurdler. Maxwell is going through another period of youth and seems about to realise the prediction of his coach, Boyd Comstock, that he is still the fastest low hurdler hereabouts. A race between Maxwell, Payne and Welsh with a trip to Pittsburgh as the goal will be held next week.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 31. (AP)—Meyer (K. O.) Christner, Akron (O.) heavyweight, is slated to meet Young Stribling in Macon, Ga., September 1, his manager, Suey Welch, said today. Welch said the match had been made before Stribling knocked out Phil Scott in London.

Christner is here to meet Max Baer in Oakland, August 11. On August 15 he will meet Tony Fuentes in Rock Springs, Wyo., and will take on Dick Daniels in Minneapolis, August 22.

Armand Emanuel and Al Morro Clash Tonight in Hollywood Stadium Fistic Featu

HEAVYWEIGHTS COP LIMELIGHT

Jeffries Fighter in Tough Spot at Legion Arena

Second Pro Fight for Youth Backed by ex-Champ

San Francisco Battler will Rule Heavy Favorite

BY KAY OWE

Al Morro, Jim Jeffries' heavyweight, can't be accused of fighting pushovers in his quest for boxing fame. Morro has had just one main event of any importance and that was when he beat Tony Stabinesu at Hollywood. Tonight will be his second start and his opponent is going to be Armand Emanuel. Fight fans expect Emanuel to beat Morro at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium tonight, but Jim Jeffries has a world of confidence in his fighter. Particular pains is being taken in nominating a referee for the bout because even the Emanuels do not want to blow the duke if the fight is close. They want a referee who will call close ones as they are and not to please a shouting crowd of fight fans.

So far little is known of Morro. He doesn't fight often enough for the fans to get a line on him. He beat Tony Stabinesu and then took a long lay-off. He should be fighting more often. Jim Jeffries is a tough manager on fighters. Jeff put Morro through training stunts that will fit him for a fifty-round fight. Jeff knows condition is half the fight and he has Morro in great shape. Morro can box and has a good right hand. His lack of experience is an edge for Emanuel.

The outcome of the Morro-Emanuel fight means much to both boys. Morro is made if he wins and Emanuel must win to keep out in front as a heavyweight. He can't afford to lose to a fighter who is as little known as Morro. Jeffries isn't the least bit worried about the outcome.

Tom Patrick, light-heavyweight, fights Fred Cullen in the semi-wind-up. Patrick is much the better fighter and should win. Lack of aggressiveness is all that keeps Patrick from being a big card. Pete Petecho fights Ora Smith in the special. Petecho has been made favorite, but Smith is a plugger and will make the going rough for Pete.

The four-rounders will be Morris Raglison and Jack Tremaine in the second spot and Al Hamilton fighting Georgie Akis in the curtain raiser. Akis is touted as a comer and apt to steal the show even though he is a curtain-raiser fighter.

JEFF'S PROTEGE

You are looking at young Al Morro, the boy James Jeffries believes will be heavyweight champion of the world some day. Morro makes his second professional appearance locally tonight when he fights Armand Emanuel at the Hollywood Legion Stadium.

BARBER ADDED TO TRACK TEAM

are still worried about the condition of Hector Dyer, intercollegiate 220-yard champion. Dyer was beaten by Vic Williams in a ten-second 100-yard dash Wednesday, and by both Williams and Maxwell in a twenty-two-second furlong the same day.

Comstock, however, stated that Dyer did better than he expected on that day and believes that the Inglewood boy will be back in shape in two weeks. For the past two weeks he has been doing distance work, but is now ready for fast sprinting.

Vic Williams, the quarter-miler, is running faster than ever and will probably lay off the track for a week to keep his edge.

Dick Pomeroy, 440-yard hurdler, is likewise in splendid shape and running flat distances as well as hurdles faster than ever before. He looks capable of hitting 53s. for the quarter-mile sticks, which is fast running for anybody.

touch. Vines scored the amazing total of fifty-three placements in the three sets, compared with Hunter's thirteen.

While there were occasional net duels in the Wood-Sutter match it was consistent driving from the baseline and excellent service that carried the victory for the 18-year-old far westerner.

Play in the women's division was featured by an upset victory for Miss Cruickchank over the favorite, Edith Cross of San Francisco. Miss Cruickshank not only won but accomplished that unexpected feat in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3. Mrs. Harper gained the final round at the expense of Virginia Hilleary of Philadelphia, 6-0, 6-2.

The East got its only consolation of the day in doubles. Richard N. Williams of Philadelphia, and J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., defeated Sutter and Maurice Bayon of New Orleans, 6-2, 6-2, in the semifinals, while Wood and Frank Shields, New York, were eliminating Vines and Keith Gledhill of Santa Barbara, 4-6, 11-9, 7-5.

In the women's doubles, Sarah and Mianne Palfrey of Brookline, Mass., reached the final round by eliminating Marjorie Morrill of Dedham, Mass., and Penelope Anderson of Richmond, 4-6, 6-2, 6-2. Miss Cross and Mrs. Harper occupy the other final bracket by virtue of a 7-5, 6-4 victory over Miss Cruickshank and Marjorie Gladman of Santa Monica.

ITALIAN MAT CHAMP TO GET CHANCE WEDNESDAY

Another grappler who is expected to prove a sensation here, will make his first local appearance at the Olympic Wednesday night. He is Pietro Bacini, a 218-pound Italian, who has won forty-one straight matches in this country without being scored upon. His foe will be Lee Wycoff, lanky 215-pound Missouri speed artist. They will meet in the opening event of an all-star card.

Bacini is the recognized Italian champion. He won the title in tournament competition in Milan in 1927, and successfully defended his title last year. In 1928 he won the mat tournament held in Paris, beating the best grapplers France has produced in the past ten years.

The Italian is considered the best heavyweight grappler to come to this country from Europe in the last five years. He arrived here last year, appearing in matches in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and several of the other mat centers in the East and Middle West. He is said to be a sensational type of grappler who is able to extend Wycoff at his own style of wrestling. Although he speaks very little English, his opponents have had little trouble understanding his wrestling ability, his record shows.

Don George, former University of Michigan mat star, will clash with Mario Plestina, giant 240-pounder, in the final finish event of this mat program, while Nick Lutze and "Whd" Bill Shaw, 225-pound fiery redheaded grappler from Salt Lake City, meet in the other finish match.

MISSIONS TROUNCED BY SEATTLE, 8 TO 1

SEATTLE (Wash.) July 31. (AP)—The Seattle Indians trounced the Missions, 8 to 1, here tonight to make their second consecutive win of the series, the Missions having won the initial game. It was Seattle's first "ladies night" and a crowd estimated at more than 10,000 attended. Almada, Seattle centerfielder, drove a homer over the right-field fence in the first inning.

OAK RALLY NIPS SERAPHS

Delaney Weakens in Ninth and Acorns Make Four Runs to Down Los Angeles, 5 to 2

of ball games for the Angels so that's that. It was a tough break however, for Delaney, who allowed Vergez and Griffin to single for another run. Peters replaced Delaney and purposely walked Lombardi to fill the bases.

Fenton also walked to force in another run. Griffin was out trying to steal home for the final out.

Herb McQuaid pitched the ninth for the Oaks and retired the Angels in order to preserve the victory.

Buzz Arlett was kicked out of the game by Umpire Powell in the eighth inning when he protested a called second strike by tossing his bat to the ground. Manager Zamloch protested too vigorously Arlett's being chased from the contest so Powell sent him to the showers, also.

A walk to Schulmerich paved the way for the first run in the Angel half of the second. Jacobs followed with a perfect bunt that he beat out and Schulmerich scored and Jake continued to third when Lombardi heaved the ball wildly out into right field. Arlett was dozing out in right field or he might have retrieved the pellet in time to hold Schulmerich at third. After holding third while Devireros tossed out Haney, Jacobs was out trying to score on Statz's grounder to Dean. Warren bounced a single over Dean's head to put Stats on third and then stole second, but Hurst whiffed Delaney to end the round.

The Oaks got their first hits off Delaney in the fourth when Vergez singled with one away. Snappy fielding by Moore prevented Vergez from getting two bases on the blow. Arlett then fanned much to the amusement of the customers and Lombardi followed with a hit, but Fenton flied to Statz for the third out.

Los Angeles filled the bases in its half of the fourth on singles by Jacobs and Haney and a walk to Warren but Delaney was a strike-out victim to end the threat.

Oakland tied it up in the fifth by bunching three hits off the Angel right-hander. With one away Devireros and Hurst both singled to center. Schulmerich speared Uhalt's line drive but Martin followed with a hit to left and Devireros scored. Moore might have made it a close play at the plate cleanly. Vergez forced up the ball cleanly. Verbez forced Hurst at third to end the round.

Moore beat out a bunt and Schulmerich was hit by a pitched ball to give the Angels a scoring opportunity in the Seraph half of the fifth but Hurst struck out Jacobs to choke the rally.

Arlett led off with a hit in the sixth but was caught stealing when Lombardi failed to connect on an intended hit-and-run play. In the home half of the inning Haney led off with an infield hit and Stats bunted him along, but Hurst whipped over third strikes on both Warren and Delaney to leave Pred stranded on second.

Hurst did his best to break the tie in the seventh when he doubled down the right-field line with one away. Uhalt walked. Delaney, however, came out of the situation unscathed by retiring Martin and Vergez.

The Angels shoved across what appeared for a moment or two to be the winning run in the eighth when Schulmerich singled to right, took second when Fenton played Haney's grounder backward by touching first and then throwing to Devireros, and scored on Statz's double to right center.

All of which brings us to the rather painful Oakland ninth, the details of which have already been given. Score:

HORNSBY READY TO PLAY WITH CUBS; FEELS GREAT

CHICAGO, July 31. (AP)—Rogers Hornsby is certain he will be ready to play second base regularly for the Cubs before the season is over—regardless of what anyone else might think.

The Rajah has never been downhearted over injuries that have kept him out of action. After his workout yesterday he said he felt like a player reporting for spring training.

"The bones are O.K.," he said. "As soon as the muscles and ligaments loosen up I should be able to play. I can't set any date, but I feel like a fellow reporting for training—just enough overweight to require plenty of work and eager for the "season to start."

ARMOUR AND DIEGEL

HEREAFTER, it should not be necessary for professional golf stars other than Leo Diegel and Tommy Armour to take a whirl at the Canadian open.

In a period of six years no other golfer has annexed the open golf crown of the Dominion.

Diegel won it in 1925 and 1926, Armour in 1927, and Diegel again in 1928 and 1929.

Armour won it back this year after a 36-hole play-off with a total of 138 strokes to 142.

At the end of the regular seventy-two holes of play both were tied with 277 strokes apiece.

Diegel shot a 67 on his last round, Armour a 64 to catch him—almost unbelievable golf.

THE KNOCKOUT KID

BILLY TOWNSEND, the northwest knockout king, has an interesting record in local rings.

He has made five starts here—the sixth will be with Harry (Kid) Brown next week—and in fifty scheduled rounds he has finished proceedings in less than twenty-seven.

He stopped Wildcat Carter in two rounds, Armando Santiago twice in seven rounds apiece, was beaten by Joey Medill in ten rounds and then atoned for th's mishap by flattening Medill in one round.

THE DADO CASE

THE boys who were so quick to herald Speedy Dado's injury as a lack of heart in his fight with Midget Wolgast the other night may be interested in the true situation.

The report of Dr. L. S. Goin, an x-ray expert, upholds the diagnosis of Dr. Mace, the State athletic physician, of a fractured bone in the shoulder.

Dado will wear his arm in a plaster cast for a month.

He won't be able to fight for three months.

THE VARSITY DRAG

MR. GLENN DOUGHTY, who once played a bit of football for dear old Pomona, has gone into the baby golf business.

He is the proprietor of a brand new course which will have its formal opening on Beverly Boulevard at 8 o'clock tonight.

In keeping with the college leanings of its owner the new course has been named the Varsity Golf Course, and invitations have been extended Howard Jones, Bill Spaulding, Russ Saunders and Red Grange, among others to be present.

Braven Dyer says mention of Glenn's course in this column probably will make Mr. Doughty feel awfully sick, but Mr. Doughty's golf makes me feel the same way sometimes, so it's even steven.

these is a mystery boat, a double ender, which none of the local skippers have any particular line on. She was brought from Norway by Joseph T. Pugh. The other eight is the Hvide, which belongs to Adolph Zellerbach.

Arthur Rousseau is sending his Maybe, one of the best six-meter sloops on the Coast here, as well as his R boat Ace for the championships. Stuart Haldorn's Ayayay, a craft that is always in the money, will also be on hand when the warning gun is sounded.

One of the big dissapointments of the regatta will be the failure of the crack R sloop Pirate to participate in the races in her class. The Pirate, one of the most famous boats in her class in the nation, is tied up in litigation and the only way she could sail would be with a deputy sheriff among her crew, and that isn't being done.

LASSMAN DEATH STORY CLEARED

gallant gentleman. The boys were his charges and his friends. "Greater love hath no man than this"—

The whole story is told by the documents in the case. A letter, postmarked Harrison, Me., July 12, 1930, was received by Chancellor Elmer E. Brown of New York University. It was signed merely "A Friend," and addressed to "New York University." It read:

In order that justice may be done him, let me say to the college that really knows Al Lassman best, and to the world at large, for that matter, and particularly to his family who will be interested in the facts, that the report of Al Lassman's death the other day on Long Lake, Harrison, Me., gave a very wrong and harmful account, being carefully edited by the directors of the camp where he was supposed to be a guest, Camp Zakelo, where he was a counselor, and not a guest at all, as was stated in the newspaper accounts.

Al Lassman died a hero, losing his life in trying to save the lives of three small boys who were in the canoe with him at the time it overturned. He did actually get two of them on top of the overturned canoe before he went down, and the third boy was rescued after he had gone down for the third time by a counselor from Camp Ropica, opposite whose camp site the accident occurred.

This counselor's name is Norman Parcells, an Amherst man, and he is now at Camp Ropica here. This canoe trip could not have been taken without the knowledge and consent of the camp authorities. No one knows what caused the canoe to upset, not even the boys that were in it with him at the time, but we do know what part Lassman played in saving two of them. It was not until all three boys were safely ashore that the question of the whereabouts of the counselor who was with them came up.

Mr. Parcells returned to the point indicated by the boys and dived repeatedly in an effort to recover the body, but had to give up.

As a matter of fact the boys were in such an excited state of mind that they were not able to direct the search. Lassman really gave his life for these three boys, and was not alone at the time, as was reported.

The three boys were spirited away from Lassman's camp and not allowed even to return to the camp. They were held until all danger of an interview was over. I wish I had the names of these boys to send you, but it seems impossible to obtain them.

Lassman had only been employed at the camp for a couple of days before this happened.

The letter went on to charge that an attempt had been made to evade responsibility in the matter. It concluded:

"Lassman really lost his life in the performance of his duties as camp counselor, of that there is no doubt up here. He was a brave man and due acknowledgment of his courage in the face of overwhelming odds should be accorded him."

DEER SEASON OPENS TODAY

Armed with what has become popularly dubbed among the rifle pointers of our city as "baggage checks," a hunting license and spic-and-span rifle, many a local deer hunter was today staked out at some favorite spot of Ventura or Santa Barbara county, where expectations for a successful opening of the deer season, the initial hunting session in the State, were high. The season in those counties, parts of others and many entire counties along the coast to Mendocino county, comprising Districts No. 2, No. 2 1-2 and No. 3, opened a half-hour before sunrise this morning, August 1.

Hunters who have planned to wait until Sunday for their opening shoot and who are not familiar with the border lines, game refuges and other puzzling, but easily explained matters, are advised by Pete Peterson of the B. H. Dyas Company stores to secure a game card on which the laws and map of the districts are printed. They can be secured at either Dyas store for the asking.

Enthusiasm among local shooters was manifested several days ago when the Dyas Company announced that it would again place up a heaviest-deer trophy. The prize, a Savage rifle, will go to the hunter who kills, brings in, registers and weighs at the Dyas Company, the heaviest deer of the 1930 season in California. All deer must be registered at the Log Cabin bureau at Dyas's downtown store.

Babe Herman Has Perfect Day at Plate

PHILADELPHIA, July 31. (AP)—After eleven straight setbacks, the Phillies finally found some use for the hitting that has made them the leading batting club of the National League and turned on the Brooklyn Robins today for a 12-to-7 victory.

Fred Heimach followed and was the victim of the first of two five-run rallies by the Phils. They scored five in the third inning and as many in the fourth off Clise Dudley to clinch the triumph.

Leading Men's Singles Stars Advance to Fourth Round

Violet Doeg Concentrates on Women's Singles

Elizabeth Deike Wins Easy First Round Victory

Favorites scored as expected in the opening rounds of the seventeenth annual Los Angeles county tennis tournament, which started yesterday on the Palomar club courts.

Several of the contestants in the men's singles advanced to the fourth round by virtue of byes, defaults and victories, Gene Mako, Verne Neville, Joe Ciano, Harold Steiner and Orville Scholtz were among those reaching the fourth round.

Violet Doeg, defending junior girls' champion, decided against trying to retain her laurels, and will concentrate in the women's singles instead. She won from Mary Coulter in a hard first-round match, 6-1, 6-8, 6-4. IDYLLWILD DATES ARE ANNOUNCED

The annual tournament of the Southern California Tennis Association will be held this year at Idyllwild in the San Jacinto Mountains. The date includes August 8 to 10. The courts on which the play will take place are situated close to the inn at Idyllwild and are surrounded by huge oak trees. This is the eighth year the tournament has been held at Idyllwild and it is expected the registration will be much heavier this year than ever, as first-class accommodations are obtainable and the new high-gear road from Hemet takes but forty minutes' drive to reach the 5000-foot elevation.

ARROWHEAD PLANS NET TOURNAMENTS

With Ed Williams having just been placed in charge of the courts at the North Shore Tavern at Lake Arrowhead, plans for a series of tennis tournaments at the mountain resort during August were announced yesterday.

Today and tomorrow will be held the Lake Arrowhead open tournament, including women's singles, men's doubles and mixed doubles, the events being open to all entries. On the 7th and 8th inst. will be held the invitational tournament for Lake Arrowhead residents, and on the 13th and 14th inst. there will be held an open tournament for all players, including men's and women's singles and doubles, mixed singles and doubles, and junior singles and doubles.

YOU HANDLE YOUR OWN MONEY and begin business with value received if you act quickly and let us show you a miniature golf set placed in the home or garden. This is NOT a toy, but new, scientific and thrilling 19-hole game, fully protected, and already handled by leading department and sporting goods stores. We have tied up $80,000 in territorial rights in the past five days but there still is opportunity for the man who wants to get in on the tremendous profits of the gold rough but double the wisdom of making a capital investment necessary to own a miniature golf course.
